SENATE MOVES TOWARD EASING GASOLINE CURB

Demand Rubber for 30 Million Tires.

Indict X Card Holder

New York, June 4 (AP).—Louis Silber, 42 years old, who obtained an "X" gasoline rationing card for "business purposes," was indicted today by a grand jury which decided his business was white slavery. Charged with violating the Mann act by transporting women across state lines for immoral purposes, Silber will face a possible 30 year prison sentence if convicted.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—Powerful support for proposals to relax the gasoline and rubber restriction programs of administration agencies was demonstrated today in a senate uproar against burocratic tactics. The proposals:

1. A bill by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson [D., Col.] calling for a nation-wide survey by the Office of Price Administration to determine the amount of scrap rubber available for reclaiming, and forbidding the rationing of gasoline in any state where it was not rationed on June 1 unless the necessity of such action is demonstrated at a public hearing.

2. A bill approved by the special small business committee and introduced by Sen. Allen J. Ellender [D., La.] which would make available 30 million tires a year—enough to keep at least 20 million civilian passenger automobiles in operation.

Yes-Men Turn on Bunglers.

The Ellender bill was referred to the banking and currency committee for hearings to begin next Tuesday. Well informed senators predict that it will be approved by that committee, which handles all legislation affecting Leon Henderson's OPA.

The bill provides that the Rubber Reserve corporation would turn over 3,500 tons of rubber to be placed under a rubber administrator to be created by the bill in the Office of Price administration, who would allot the rubber for use with reclaimed rubber in the recapping of tires.

Even Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky and Sen. Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.], two of the administrations' most faithful yes-men, joined in the senate protests against bungling, incompetence, and needless confusion of the public by the issuance of conflicting statements.

Assails Three Way Rule.

Guffey insisted that the oil and gasoline program never will be handled satisfactorily until it is centered in one authority, instead of the three now concerned with it—Henderson's OPA, Petroleum Coördinator Harold Ickes, and Joseph B. Eastman's Office of Defense Transportation.

Ickes has able men from the oil industry under him, but the same cannot be said of Henderson, Guffey told the senate.

"I am confident that the people would have more faith if this problem were handled by the men who know the oil business and not by rattle brained economists, fuzzy headed theorists, and crack brained experimenters," Guffey said.

Majority Leader Barkley said he could see no basis for gasoline rationing on a nation-wide basis, as now proposed by various government agencies but not finally approved by President Roosevelt.

"We all know there is plenty of gasoline in the country," he said.

Demands Scrap Be Salvaged.

Barkley also referred to widespread reports that there is a vast quantity of unused scrap rubber in the country and that no real effort is being made to reclaim it for retreading and recapping tires.

He insisted that "every consideration ought to be given to the possibility of recapturing this rubber" before "capriciously" putting into effect a nation-wide gasoline rationing program on the pretext of conserving rubber.

Barkley deplored the absence of "any unanimity of opinion about the

New Artificial Rubber Called Hope for Tires

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Dr. W. H. Dow.

Midland, Mich., June 4.—In this Michigan city — one of America's greatest chemical centers— developments are taking place which offer a possibility that the American working man can be kept on rubber and that he can continue to use his automobile. There is now in large scale production here an artificial rubber which promises to help carry the nation over its critical automobile tire emergency.

The synthetic rubber made in Midland is thiokol. It was discovered and developed by Dr. J. C. Patrick, research head of the Thiokol corporation, Trenton, N. J. The corporation first made thiokol in the east, largely with raw materials supplied by the Dow Chemical company of Midland.

Production Broadened.

Now the Dow company is manufacturing for the Thiokol corporation in its huge Midland plant. In setting up the manufacturing facilities here, refinements and economies were put into effect which will greatly broaden production.

Dr. Willard H. Dow, president of the Dow company, conservatively estimates that production will be available by early fall for the manufuture of material which would permit the retreading of approximately 1,000,000 automobile tires a month. This number may be expanded greatly by comparatively modest increases in production facilities.

Further, it is expected that plans may be announced eventually for the manufacture of tires entirely of thiokol. In addition, existing tires may be coated with the material to give them added life.

Materials Available.

Dr. Dow lists a number of reasons why thiokol may help greatly in solving the tire problem. His reasons include:

1. All the essential raw materials are found in almost unlimited quantities within the United States.

2. The manufacturing operation is simple.

3. America possesses the "know how" for the production of all the raw material itself.

The basic raw materials used in making thiokol are caustic soda [lye] obtained here at Midland; sulphur from Texas and Louisiana, and petroleum derivatives obtainable anywhere oil is found. Alcohol made from starchy grains may be used in place of ethylene—a petroleum derivative used in making thiokol.

Process Seems Simple.

To a layman the process and the machinery used both appear simple. The process starts with the bright yellow sulphur which goes into large container. Into it follow ethylene dichloride and lye, all in a water solution. In one phase there appears a bright red liquid. Then is seen a clay colored liquid to which an acid is added and in a moment the visitor at the plant is examining latex like pellets.

The next operation consists of dry-

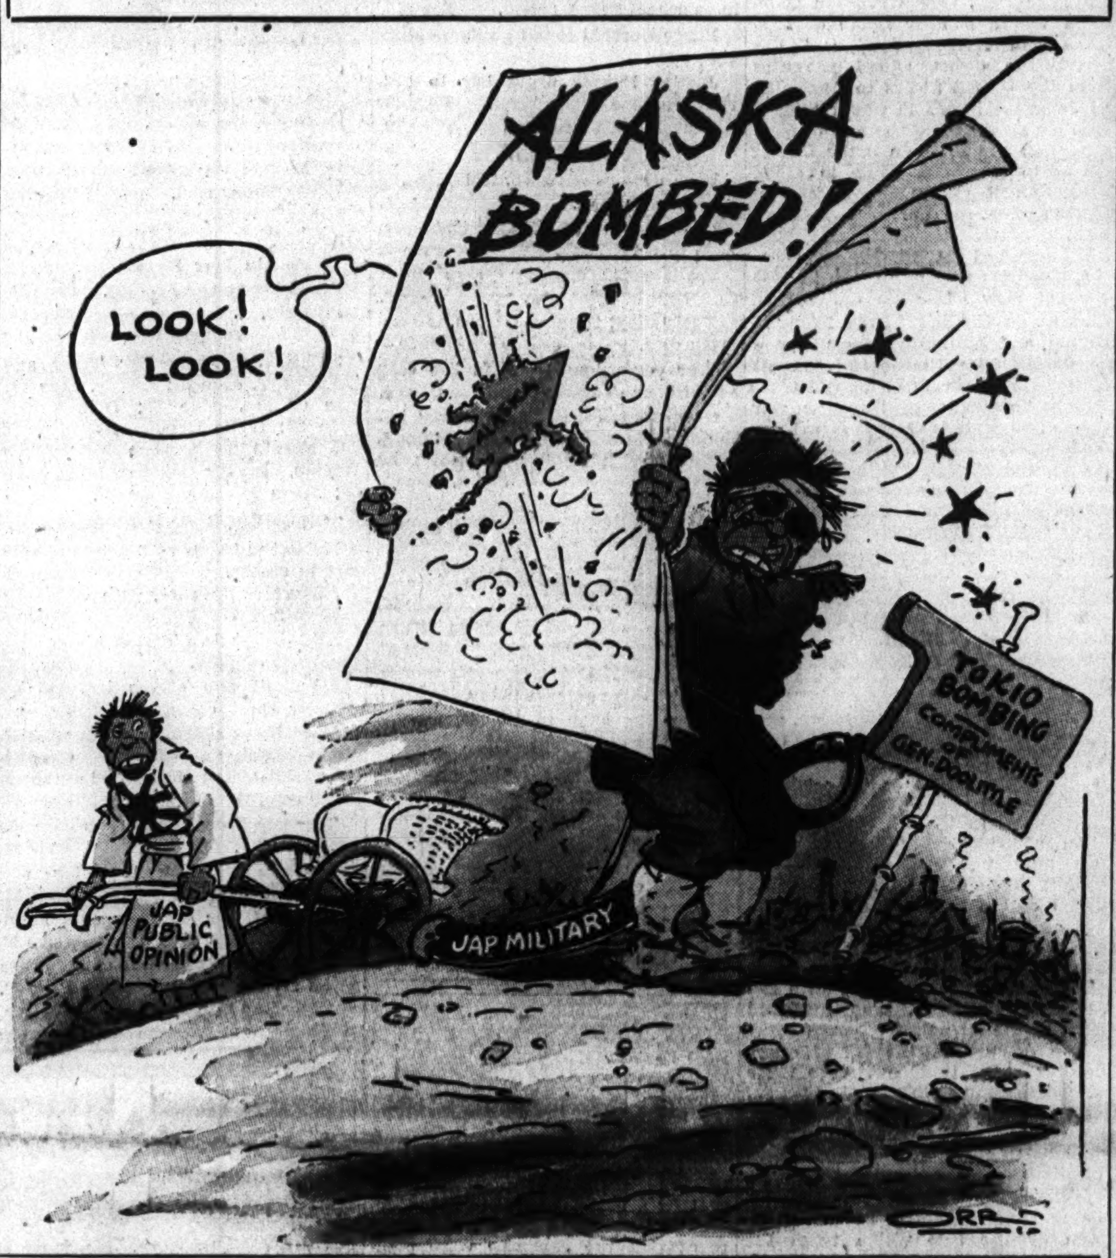
SAVING FACE?



Hides Damage Suit Evidence; Jail Ordered

Adam McDonald, office manager of the Evanston hospital, was sentenced yesterday to 30 days in jail for contempt by Judge Robert A. Meier of Chicago Heights, sitting in Circuit court. The sentence was imposed because McDonald allegedly concealed documentary evidence in a personal injury suit.

Adam McDonald.

The case is that of Clifford Quinn, 23 years old, 2024 East 81st street, who is seeking $75,000 damages from Martin's Inc., a cocktail lounge at 321 Sherman street, and the Chicago Board of Trade Safe Deposit company, owner of the premises.

Injured in Auto Accident.

On Aug. 27, 1939, in Skokie road, near Northbrook, a car driven by Miss Sylvia Dostalek, then 23 and then living in Highland Park, crashed into two parked cars, pinning Quinn between them. He lost three fingers from his left hand and three fingertips from his right.

Miss Dostalek was charged with driving while drunk. The damage suit was filed against the cocktail lounge and the safety deposit company under the dram shop act. Miss Dostalek allegedly had had a few drinks at Martin's.

Trial of the suit opened last week, and records of the Evanston hospital were subpenaed to show a notation that Miss Dostalek had been drinking. She was examined at the hospital after the accident.

Physician Called as Witness.

McDonald brought in the records, and Dr. Marcus H. Hobart, a staff physician, who had made the notation, was called as a witness. Dr. Hobart went thru the records while testifying, but could not find his memorandum. He said he had seen it with the other papers on the way to court with McDonald.

Judge Meier called to McDonald, who was sitting in a rear seat, to step forward, but McDonald only stood up. The judge sent his bailiff after him. Judge Meier asked for the memorandum. McDonald fumbled in his pockets, then produced it.

In explanation McDonald said he had removed all the records from a large envelope in court and that Dr. Hobart's memorandum, smaller than the other records, had dropped to the floor. He said he had picked it up and inadvertently thrust it into a pocket.

Judge Meier dismissed the explanation as inadequate and accused McDonald of "deliberately concealing the paper." He added, "It was your duty to come up and say you had the record when it was discovered missing."

The court then imposed sentence. Four hours later he granted McDonald a stay to June 11 and freed him on $500 bond on a motion of Attorney Joseph T. Harrington to vacate the sentence. McDonald is 42 years old.

TELLS HOW 2 ITALIAN FLYERS DUELED FOR WATER ON DESERT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, June 4.—The story of a desert duel for an almost empty water bottle was told today by a New Zealand army sergeant returned here from the Libyan fighting zone.

On a western desert patrol he found two Italian flyers in a crashed war plane, the sergeant said. Both Italians still clutched knives with which they had wounded each other, while between them lay the water bottle containing a cupful of water.

Another Libyan war veteran, recently returned, said a lone soldier, firing a 25 pounder field gun, had knocked out nine German tanks.

JOSEPH TRAVELS TOUGH ROAD, BUT ATTAINS HIS GOAL

Joseph Schmid, 2537 West 50th street, turned up at the coast guard recruiting station yesterday looking like a tailor's nightmare. His shirt collar was several sizes too large, his coat hung in loose folds and his trousers were threatening to become an avalanche. But Schmid was smiling for he tipped the scale at only 160 pounds, which is acceptable for coast guard enlistment standards.

Six weeks previously Schmid had stood on the same scale and embarrassedly watched it point to 198. When the recruiting officer shook his head Schmid went to see his doctor, who told him to cut out gravy, pastry, sugar, fat meat, starches, and butter and drink no more than five glasses of liquid a day.

Yesterday Schmid reapplied for enlistment at the recruiting office. Medical examiners said he was in good physical condition and he was accepted. He is 26 years old and stands 5 feet 10 inches tall.

Ensign Killed as Navy Plane Falls in River

After seeing a small navy training plane plunge thru a heavy power cable and catapult beneath the waters of the Fox river, carrying two men with it, a 17 year old farm youth yesterday rowed out to the wrecked machine and dragged both men from the cockpits where they were trapped. The pilot drowned before he was rescued, but his passenger's life was saved.

The pilot was Ensign Robert Kendall Everett, 22, of 1102 Dempster street, Evanston, who had just been transferred to the naval reserve aviation training base at Glenview after graduation from Pensacola, Fla., the navy advanced flying school. His passenger, who suffered a broken nose and concussion of the brain, was Marine Sergt. John P. Nolan, 24, of 630 Glenview avenue, Highland Park.

Rows to Wrecked Plane.

The hero of the accident, which occurred four miles northeast of Crystal Lake, is Paul E. Behan, Crystal Lake High school athlete. He is the son of Charles E. Behan, whose farmhouse is near the scene of the crash. Young Behan ran to a small rowboat as he saw the plane hit the water, and rowed 100 feet into the river, which is 15 feet deep at this point.

Altho part of the wreckage was above water, both Everett and Nolan were held in their seats beneath the surface. Nolan, who was struggling to free himself, was reached first by Behan. After freeing his safety belt Nolan was hauled into the boat. Then Behan jumped into the water and worked Everett's body clear.

Try in Vain to Revive Him.

Physicians and an inhalator squad from the Crystal Lake fire department worked for hours over Everett's body after the two men were taken ashore but efforts to revive him were futile. Nolan, dazed and unable to explain how the accident occurred, was sent to the Great Lakes Naval Training station hospital.

An official navy statement said that the two airmen were on a routine "familiarization flight" and under orders. Witnesses said that the plane had been following the river, flying 35 feet off the water. The pilot apparently failed to see the power cable strung across the river near the Behan home. Ensign Everett is survived by his widow, Mrs. Harriette Peters Everett, a bride of a few weeks.

HUSBAND WOULD CONTRIBUTE $22 AND U.S. PAY $28

Affects All Fighters Getting $78 or Less.

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—The senate today passed and sent to the house a measure providing cash allowances for the dependents of enlisted men in the armed forces, but delayed at least until Monday a showdown vote on the question of increasing the pay of buck privates and navy seamen from $21 to $50 monthly.

Sen. La Follette.

Under the legislation approved by the senate without a record vote, any soldier, sailor, marine, or coast guardsman receiving $78 monthly or less could assure his wife of at least $50 a month income.

Of this amount the enlisted man would contribute $22 from his pay, and the government would contribute $28. In addition, the government would contribute $12 monthly to the support of the first child and $10 monthly for each additional child.

Aid for Parents, Too.

In another classification, covering other members of a family, the enlisted man could elect to contribute an additional $5 and the government would provide $15 more for one dependent parent, $25 for two parents, and $5 for each additional brother or sister. If the soldier had no wife or children, his contribution would be $22 in this classification.

Linked with these dependency provisions, the measure carries a section authorizing the selective service, under the direction of the President, to set up classifications which would determine the order in which registrants would be called to service.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson [D., Colo.], sponsor of the bill, said this would fix the status of 65 per cent of registrants who, he said, have been deferred because of dependency. Sen. Robt. A. Taft [R., O.] added that it ought to result in deferring married men over 30 years old until all other classes had been called.

Charge "Chiseling" Tactics.

During consideration of the family allowance measure, the senate heard angry charges that action on a military pay adjustment bill was being delayed to "chisel a few dollars out of the enlisted man's pay."

Sen. Robert M. La Follette [Prog., Wis.] served notice he intended to move Monday to discharge the senate conferees who thus far have refused to accept a house amendment increasing the minimum pay in the armed services to $50 a month, instead of the $42 previously approved by the senate.

La Follette contended, with the support of Senators Champ Clark [D., Mo.], W. Lee O'Daniel [D., Tex.], and others, that the senate had the right to vote directly on this question and ought not to be circumvented by any delaying tactics on the part of its conferees.

Sponsor Protests Charges.

La Follette said that if the conferees were ordered discharged from consideration of the bill, he would ask the senate to direct immediate acceptance of the $50 figure.

"The only object there possibly can be for holding this bill in conference," he asserted, "is to chisel a few dollars out of the enlisted man's pay in the armed services and I am against that."

This observation brought Johnson to his feet to protest that La Follette was falsely impugning the motives of the five member conference group.

La Follette was supported in his demand for a $50 base pay by Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.], who said the senate should heed the will of the people as expressed twice by their representatives in the house. "Wages have gone up all over the country," Brooks said. "The soldier is the only man with respect to whom the government reaches out with the arm of the law and says, 'You are in the army.' He has no choice. He does not object. He cannot strike."

ROUNDUP OF WAR DEVELOPMENTS ON MAIN FRONTS

Latest war developments:

Chinese forces hard pressed on fronts ranging from the southeast coast to the Burma border were reported to be holding and in some places attacking the Japanese as three United States generals met with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in Chungking amid appeals for a land, sea, and air offensive against Japan.

German dive bombers were active in Libya as ground fighting was curtailed. The British said the deadlock around Bir Hacheim, southern anchor of their line, was not broken by the air assaults. Eight German planes were claimed shot down.

German planes struck at a town on the northeastern coast of England and started fires with incendiary bombs, the British said. The RAF continued to smash at the Nazi held coast of Europe in day and night raids.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters disclosed that allied planes raided Japanese bases on Timor and New Britain.

A Japanese battleship and an aircraft carrier were damaged, other warships were believed hit, and a heavy toll was reported taken of enemy planes in yesterday's Japanese attack on Midway Island.

4 Powers Must Control Peace, British Assert

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 4.—The four pillars on which the Atlantic charter and a postwar settlement must rest are the British empire, the United States, soviet Russia, and China, Lord Selborne, minister of economic warfare, declared in the house of lords today. These four will be responsible for maintaining the peace of the world and must not disarm, but Germany must be kept disarmed, he said. However, he declared "Britain will never propose a revenge peace."

Lord Selborne's statement was made during a continuation of the debate on a motion that the government state its precise war aims.

Other peers made numerous suggestions. Lord Samuel hoped that the United States would take a full share of world leadership morally, politically, militarily, and economically.

Proposes League of the Air.

Lord Brabazon, pioneer airman and former minister of aircraft production, in his maiden speech declared that after the war "the idea that every country owns the air above it must be abolished." He proposed that the United States, Britain, and Russia agree now to take postwar control of the air and combine their power with another league of nations to police the world. He condemned as "mischievous doctrine" the theory that postwar planning should wait until the cessation of hostilities.

Urges Parliament Break Up.

Lord Winster warned against the underlying assumption in speeches that "our intervention in Europe after the war would be welcomed," declaring "the peoples of Europe might not be in any such mood."

A mild sensation was caused when Lord Selborne urged that after the war the parliament of the United Kingdom be disbanded and that separate parliaments for England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland be established. He urged that an imperial parliament representing all parliaments in the British empire should sit in some central place such as Capetown and that this body should be responsible for the imperial defense and foreign policy.

PLANE CARRIER AND BATTLESHIP HIT AT MIDWAY

Heavy Toll Taken of Enemy Planes.

HONOLULU, T. H., June 4 (AP).—A Japanese battleship and aircraft carrier were damaged, other warships were believed hit, and a heavy toll taken of enemy planes in a heavy raid on Midway Island today, the sixth of the war, said a communique issued by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet. The Jap attacks were reported repulsed and "attacks on the enemy are continuing."

The communique said:

"At 6:35 a. m. today, Midway time [11:05 a. m. Chicago war time], that island was heavily raided by Japanese carrier based planes. The attack was repulsed by local defenders in which all armed services are represented. A heavy toll of attacking planes was taken. Damage to material and installations on Midway were reported minor. No reports of personnel casualties were received.

"The Japanese carriers were accompanied by battleships and cruisers. One battleship and one carrier definitely were damaged and other vessels are believed to have been hit. Our attacks on the enemy are continuing."

Five previous attacks on Midway were repulsed by naval and marine forces. The first atack was the Dec. 7 raid by Japanese cruisers and destroyers.

AWAIT UNFOLDING OF PLAN

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—The capital tonight awaited the unfolding of a new plan of conquest by the Japanese in the Pacific.

While the nation's eyes were focused on Alaska, where Japanese planes paid two visits yesterday, the Japanese executed a surprise attack on Midway Island, American outpost in the Pacific.

The attack came as the capital was debating whether the visits of Japanese aircraft to Dutch Harbor, Alaska, were indicative of a serious attempt at invasion of North America or were a sly maneuver calculated to pull ships and men and planes from more vital Pacific areas.

1,312 Miles Northwest of Hawaii.

Midway Island lies 1,312 miles northwest of Hawaii and 1,905 miles southwest of Dutch Harbor in the Aleutian Islands. The Japs had claimed the island along with Wake and Guam in the treacherous attack on American possessions from Hawaii to the Philippines on Dec. 7, but defending marines successfully held the outpost thru that and later attacks.

It was generally believed that plane carriers set out simultaneously from Japan and divided to strike at Dutch Harbor and Midway with a view to confusing American defenders and upsetting American morale.

Capital observers were confident that the Japs have embarked on a new path of conquest, but were divided as to what direction the enemy is taking. The majority leaned to the belief that the serious thrust is aimed at Alaska. They argued that the Japanese flights to Alaska could not have been taken merely for the purpose of creating a diversion, because on the second flight no bombs were dropped and a reconnaissance flight would not be undertaken except with a more serious object in view.

All of Coast on Alert.

There was some belief that both thrusts were made to confuse American military leaders and mask a serious invasion attempt against Australia or an attack on the Panama canal.

As the entire west coast of the North American continent from Alaska to the Panama Canal Zone was placed on the alert, the navy in its morning communique, described the situation at Dutch Harbor as quiet. The damage caused by the bombs dropped on the first flight by four bombers and 15 fighters was said to be slight.

Earlier, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson at a press conference described the attacks as raids altho military experts did not believe that the flights of Jap planes over Alaska constituted the prelude to an invasion of the North American continent.

"I reminded you last week that the raids were coming and I caution you now that these are not the only and last raids," Stimson said.

Last week Stimson said that the Japanese could be expected to direct "face saving" raids on American territory in retaliation for the American bombing of Tokio, led last April by Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle.

See No Jap Face Saving.

Military experts were not so sure, however, that the presence of planes in Alaska could be attributed to any desire to save face. After the conquest of Burma, Malaya, Java, and the Philippines, the Japanese do not have to worry about saving face, they said.

Defense Minister J. L. Ralston earlier in the day told the Canadian house of commons that he had received reports of a third raid on Dutch Harbor but later revised his statement to say that there had been only two visits by Japanese planes. Apparently he had received information indicating the earlier reports were erroneous. Ralston said that the attacks were not unexpected and that Canada and the United States had put joint defense plans into operation. He added that Lieut. Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the Canadian general staff, had been on the west coast for several days to supervise army dispositions. The navy department here said it had received no word of a third flight of enemy planes over the base.

Tokio Silent on Raids.

New York, June 4 (AP).—Radio listeners who monitor Tokio broadcasts around the clock reported today that the Tokio radio still was silent on Japanese air raids on the United States base on Dutch Harbor nearly 24 hours after the first attack was made.

DEMANDS FACTS ON RAIDS

Seattle, Wash., June 4 (AP).—Senator Mon C. Wallgren [D., Wash.], who was planning a trip to Dutch Harbor as a member of the senate's Truman investigating committee, asserted last night that the people have a right to know how the United States met this attack by Japanese aircraft on the Alaska naval station.

"How many bombers did we shoot down and how many pursuit planes did we bag?" he asked in an interview. "Just what defense strength do we have there that they [the Japanese] could return six hours after dropping their first bombs?

"We're not surprised they made the attempt. But any time they come over American soil we ought to make it so tough for them that they won't be back in a few hours."

Wallgren declared that such information now would convey no military secret to the enemy.

"After this attack yesterday the Japs have a pretty good idea of what defenses we have there," he added.

In the east, the Washington senator predicted, the people will be saying that the Japanese attack on Dutch Harbor was only a face saving move on the part of Japan, a token bombing.

"It's a lot more than that. We've got a war out here and this is the opening foray. I'm mighty concerned too about what Canada's defenses are on the Pacific coast."

Alaskan Fears Struggle.

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Anthony J. Dimond, the Alaskan delegate to congress, today said he feared that "we may have a struggle on our hands" to keep the Aleutian area out of Japanese hands. He was afraid, he added, that there were not enough planes in the area to beat off a big scale invasion of the type with which the Japanese took the Philippines and other territories to the south.

Radio Silence on Pacific Coast.

San Francisco, June 4 (AP).—All Pacific coast radio stations went off the air at 9 p. m. tonight [11 p. m. Chicago time] in accordance with an order issued by the western defense command and 4th army. Last night all the radio stations were held off the air for approximately eight and one-half hours.

Canadian Stations Off.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 4 (AP).—Radio stations in British Columbia's coastal defense area were ordered off the air tonight for the second straight night by the western air command. As in last night's radio blackout order, the measure was said to be precautionary.

Policemen's Auto Stolen on Ticket Selling Trip

Policemen Charles Abt and Bernard Schreiber of the Chicago Lawn station last night started out on a mission in Abt's car. They were selling tickets to the annual July 4 police baseball game, proceeds of which go to the Policemen's Benevolent association. They parked the car at 59th and Honoré streets and went about their work of soliciting. When they returned for the car it was gone. The license number is 158-630.

MIDWAY ISLAND 'A TRIED VETERAN OF JAP ATTACKS

It Beat Off Five After Pearl Harbor.

Midway Island, attacked by the Japanese yesterday, is a tiny coral atoll 1,312 miles northwest of Hawaii. In itself it is unimportant, but because Pan American Airways and the navy have built a hotel, radio, and cable station, and a submarine base there since 1936, it is considered of strategic importance.

Midway first was attacked almost simultaneously with the assault on Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, on Dec. 7. Midway's forces—consisting of 400 marines and sailors and nearly 1,000 civilians who were building an airport, barracks, and gun emplacements—beat off the initial raids, withstood a pounding from the sea and air, and finally announced the Japanese had withdrawn.

On Dec. 12 and Dec. 16, it was announced that both Midway and Wake Islands, which later fell, were "countering the blows of the enemy." On Dec. 30 the navy said the "situation in respect to Midway remains unchanged." There had been no attacks, it added, since Dec. 16.

Subs Menace Midway.

On Jan. 29, two enemy submarines appeared off Midway with the apparent intention of shelling the island. Artillery fire from the island hit one of the subs and turned both of them back with no damage to Midway.

The last reported attack was on March 10 when, the navy said, two Japanese seaplanes were intercepted west of the island by American fighter planes based there. One Japanese plane was destroyed.

At one time, shortly after the Pearl Harbor raids, the Japanese reported that they held Midway, along with Wake and Guam. However, no successful landing of Japanese troops ever was made in the face of the American fire at Midway.

Midway, according to word here from the navy department, was warned to be on the alert immediately after the Jap air raiders twice struck Dutch Harbor in the Aleutian Islands yesterday.

Until 1935, when Pan American began hunting refueling bases to link San Francisco with the orient by air, Midway had been a bird sanctuary and the site of a Pacific cable station installed in 1903. Less than two dozen persons dwelled there, merely to keep the cable working. Midway was out of the normal shipping lanes and had been described as one of the loneliest spots on earth.

Midway Really Two Isles.

Actually Midway is the name for two islands inclosed within a protecting coral reef. The two inclosed bits of land are called Eastern Island and Sand Island, Sand Island being almost a mile and three-quarters long and a mile wide, and about twice the size of Eastern Island.

When Pan American installed its seaplane base, the two islands were sandy wastes. A modern hotel was taken there in sections by boat and modern air conditioning equipment, radio, etc., connect this atoll with the rest of the world.

Pan American and navy seaplanes use the lagoon inside the 18 mile coral reef for their landing area. A channel thru the reef permits submarines and small boats to enter.

Midway's weather is unpredictable because it is surrounded by empty waters, especially to the north, whence all bad weather of the area comes.

SEATTLE GOES ON WAR FOOTING; BARS PUBLIC FROM WATER FRONT

Seattle, Wash., June 4 (AP).—Forcibly reminded of its own danger by the Japanese air attacks on Dutch Harbor, Alaska, Seattle went on an unprecedented war footing today.

While families awaited word from the several hundred Seattle men employed at Dutch Harbor, 2,000 miles to the northwest, municipal authorities moved swiftly to coöperate with the military in new defense moves. The 13th naval district commandant, Rear Adm. C. S. Freeman, banned the public from sections of the waterfront.

Even the lake shorelines were made a waterfront area for future restrictions. The purpose of the order was to restrict traffic to a minimum and eliminate aliens and harbor front squatters.

Lieut. D. T. Adams, coast guard, captain of the port, ordered all waterfront property owners to eliminate fire hazards and banned employment of all aliens unless approved by the authorities.

BATTLE OF CORAL SEA KEPT JAPS AWAY: AUSTRALIA

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

CANBERRA, Australia, June 4.—The battle of the Coral sea, far from being the Japanese victory claimed by Tokio, was a signal success for the united nations and it averted an immediate threat to Australian territory, Prime Minister John Curtin told the house of representatives today.

He pointed out that the Japanese, immediately after the battle, withdrew from the area and returned to their northern bases. Decisive allied air superiority in the zone north of Australia has prevented the Japanese from using bases there as marshaling points for a new drive southward, he added.

Curtin paid tribute to United States soldiers here, saying "It is no simple thing for an army of another country to settle down among strangers, in a new environment. The American forces quickly won the affection and respect of the Australian people by their soldierly bearing and manly conduct."

DIES AFTER CAR CRASH.

Bloomington, Ill., June 4 [Special].—Carl Thomas Mounce, 22 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mounce, Towanda, Ill., died last night of injuries received when he lost control of his car on the belt line overhead near Normal. He had been in the army medical corps for more than two years. A witness said a front tire blew out.

U. S. FORCE READY IF JAPS INVADE NEW CALEDONIA

Island Lies Across Ship Routes to Australia.

BY CLARK LEE.

WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY IN NEW CALEDONIA, June 4 (AP).—A great majority of the American troops now in New Caledonia admit that they had not heard of this "Free French" colony until they disembarked from the transport which brought them across the Pacific.

Having been here for some time, they now agree with the allied high command's decision that the island is highly worth defending not only from a strategic but from an economic point of view.

Strategically, New Caledonia is located within bomber range of Australia and New Zealand and lies across the direct shipping routes from the United States to Australia. In Japanese hands it would offer a base for interrupting the flow of men, airplanes, and ships from the United States to Australia, while in allied possession it covers the Australian flank against possible Japanese attack.

Backed by De Gaulle.

A bloodless revolution late in 1940 brought New Caledonia under Gen. Charles de Gaulle's "Free French" banner and American troops landed on the island with the full consent of the De Gaulle government.

Since the start of the European war the United States has been New Caledonia's best customer and now is buying all the island's products, chiefly nickel, of which it produces 8 per cent of the world's total, and chrome, also 8 per cent of the world's production. Chrome is specially important since the Philippine supply no longer is available to the United States.

Mineralogists believe the colony's rugged mountains, which criss-cross the island, leaving only small table areas on each side, contain much greater mineral wealth than hitherto has been discovered. In addition, production has been curtailed in the past by international agreement but now is being stepped up to the limit by machinery.

Japs Got Nickel.

An additional handicap was the fact that before the war Japan bought much of the New Caledonia nickel and a majority of the technicians in the mines and plants were Japanese. Many of these left just before Japan entered the war. The others were interned, along with the Japanese gardeners, who produced most of the island's foodstuffs.

The defense of the island offers many difficult problems, since there are numerous possible landing points, especially in the northern one-fifth.

Ready to Take Offensive.

Plans to surmount these problems have been perfected by Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, who is a firm believer that the battle is as well as won by the side which takes the offensive. Gen. Patch keeps his troops constantly on the move in offensive maneuvers designed to simulate actual battle conditions and to put the troops in first class physical condition and fighting trim.

In any case, there is reason to believe a Japanese force moving against New Caledonia would be cut down considerably at sea by the United States navy, as was done in the recent Coral sea engagement, and would be further reduced by attacks by land based American bombers.

SEE PROOF JAPS PLANNED COUP AT MADAGASCAR

LONDON, June 4 (AP).—A British war office announcement today that two Japanese naval officers had been shot by a British patrol in Madagascar was regarded here as further proof that the Japanese were planning to take over that large French island when the British themselves moved in.

The officers, one source said, apparently were assigned to make plans of the naval base at Diego Suarez to prepare the way for a Japanese landing.

The British forces in Madagascar, informed persons said, are consolidating their positions around Diego Suarez and there were no reports of British troop movements outside the area of the naval base.

NEWSPAPER PM IS DENOUNCED ON FLOOR OF HOUSE

Field Publication Called 'Scurrilous Sheet.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—The New York City newspaper PM, owned by Marshall Field III., was denounced on the house floor today by Rep. Roy O. Woodruff [R., Mich.] as a scurrilous sheet which appears more concerned with the Communist cause than with national unity in the United States.

Rep. Woodruff.

"Attorney General Francis Biddle has greatly aggrieved and intensely infuriated communistic newspapers and those favoring communism by his ruling that Harry Bridges, west coast labor agitator, alien, and Communist, should be deported because of his membership in a party which advocates the overthrow of this government by violence," Woodruff told house members.

Demands Biddle "Atone."

"The newspaper PM, a New York sheet which specializes in scurrilous attacks on members of congress and other public officials who do not perform to please them, is especially aggrieved and infuriated by the action of the attorney general. PM howls to high heaven that the attorney general ought to atone at once for this outrage against the peace and dignity of the Communists of America and the agitational pursuits of Bridges."

The pro-Communist PM passes over the fact that Bridges never has become a United States citizen, altho in this country for many years, Woodruff noted.

Cites Sabotage Record.

"PM also overlooks the fact," said Woodruff, "that before Hitler sank his teeth in Joe Stalin's neck, and while the soviet government was a partner of the Nazi government, Bridges—along with other Communists—was violently against the United States getting into the war. PM further overlooks the fact—very conveniently—that while Russia was an ally of Germany very serious and widespread sabotage was carried on in this country, not the least of which was accomplished by the delay of shipments of arms and munitions to the nations fighting Hitler, and that much of this delay took place on the Pacific coast thru prolonged strikes by the longshoremen's union under the leadership of Bridges."

Urges F. D. R. Read Editorial.

PM and other newspapers which sympathize with communism, Woodruff remarked, hailed the release of Earl Browder, leader of the Communist party in America.

"If the President thought, as he said, that the release of Browder would promote unity," said Woodruff, "let him read an editorial of this newspaper PM on June 2 on the subject of the Bridges deportation, which is entitled, 'Let Biddle Atone—Now.' Sounds almost as tho a blood purge might be impending.

"The editorial convulsions of PM and other publications of its ilk indicate that they still are more concerned with what happens to Communists than they are with many more important matters."

Paris Youths Tear Down Signs in U. S. Square

VICHY, France, June 4 (AP).—Dispatches from Paris said today that three persons had been arrested there after a group of youths belonging to the pro-axis party of Jacques Doriot tore down the street signs marking the Place des Etats Unis—United States square.

Chinese Look to Northern War Front

ESTIMATE CASH LOST WITH NAVY SHIPS AT $200,000

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Altho there is no way of knowing definitely, the navy estimates at around $200,000 the amount of cash that went to the bottom of the Pacific on five United States warships sunk in enemy actions. The money had been carried in the ships' safes for pay purposes.

The largest single probable loss, navy officials told the house appropriations committee during hearings on a war supply bill passed yesterday, was $142,937 carried on the U. S. S. Houston. There has been no report, they said, as to the extent of the cash loss when the Houston went down.

Other losses reported included $407 on the U. S. S. Arizona, $223 on the U. S. S. Oglala, $65,700 on the U. S. S. Utah, and an estimated $4,892 on the U. S. S. Oklahoma.

INJURIES IN FALL FATAL.

DOCK RIOT BY 20 CHINESE SEAMEN ENDED BY A SHOT

New York, June 4 (AP).—A riot by 20 Chinese seamen attempting to go ashore from a Staten Island dock was quelled tonight by Pier Guard Max Mineck with a single bullet which severely wounded two of the Chinese sailors.

The riot, one of several such disturbances reported in New York harbor recently, was ascribed by police to the resentment against regulations governing shore leaves of Chinese sailors aboard united nations vessels.

Because of federal regulations requiring $1,000 bonds for oriental seamen permitted ashore, steamship companies have been giving Chinese sailors leave only with private guards.

STRIKE JAPS NOW BY LAND, SEA, AIR —CHINESE URGE

Appeal as U. S. Generals Meet with Chiang.

CHUNGKING, China, June 4 (AP).—The ranking United States commanders in southeast Asia gathered here tonight for war conferences with China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek against the background of a press appeal for the United States to take the initiative in an immediate land, sea, and air offensive against Japan.

Interest in the meeting was heightened by Chinese reports of new Japanese troop concentrations in Manchukuo and speculation that the Japanese may have decided to try the strength of Russia's armies in Siberia.

There was no immediate announcement of the subjects discussed by Chiang and the Americans, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell and Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, who flew here from India, and Brig. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, who came from Kunming.

Stilwell is Chiang's American chief of staff, the commander of the Chinese 5th and 6th armies, who escaped Japanese entrapment in Burma. Brereton is commander of United States army air forces in action from India and Chenault commands the American Volunteer group with the Chinese air force.

Paper Calls for an Offensive.

The influential Chungking newspaper Ta Kung Pao urged that the United States assume greater responsibility for conduct of the war and said "the allies should launch attacks against Japan by land, sea, and air in collaboration with China's war effort."

Altho hard pressed on fronts raging from the southeast coast to Burma, Chiang's forces were reported holding and in some places attacking.

A Chinese communique in the fight for the walled city of Chuhsien in western Chekiang province said the Japanese lost 2,000 men in one day.

At stake is control of a Chinese-held central section of the Hangchow-Nanchang railroad.

The Japanese, three miles from the northern limits of the city, were attempting to close in from three sides, but the Chinese said defense forces were counterattacking.

Chinese units operating behind the enemy's Chekiang lines were said to be threatening Kinhwa, lost provincial capital, on the rail line east and somewhat north of Chuhsien. The Chinese reported recapture of several strategic points near Kinhwa.

Hold Foe Out of Chekiang

To the west, the Chinese were reported holding Japanese columns attempting to strike into Chekiang province from Nanchang. Japanese spearheads thrust north from the Canton area in Kwangtung province also met stiff resistance.

From Yunnan province, bordering Burma, Chinese dispatches said fighting still centered around Lungling and Tengyueh, just west of the upper Salween river.

[The Japanese news agency, Domei, reported Japanese planes yesterday raided Kweilin, Chinese base in northern Kwangsi province, causing much damage.]

The high command announced that Kengtung, capital of a Shan state of northern Burma, had been lost to the Japanese more than a week ago.

GERMAN BUSINESS HOUSE BOMBED.

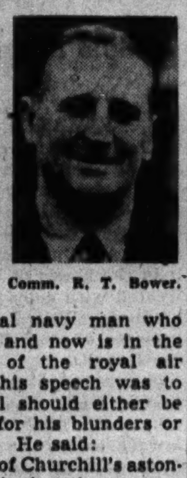
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 4 (AP).—A small bomb, thrown by unidentified persons, smashed the show windows of a large electrical supply house operated by the German firm of Siemens-Schuckert tonight on Avenida de Mayo, one of the principal streets of the capital.

CALLS CHURCHILL BUNGLER AT WAR; ASKS ACCOUNTING

Half of Empire Lost, M. P. Says.

[By Wireless to New York Times and Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, June 4.—In a speech at Leeds today, Commander R. T. Bower, Conservative member of parliament, made a stinging attack on Winston Churchill in which he said the prime minister was "akin in spirit to the fabled comedian who eats his heart out longing to star in tragic rôles."



Comm. R. T. Bower.

Bower is a royal navy man who served at Jutland and now is in the coastal command of the royal air force. In effect, his speech was to say that Churchill should either be called to account for his blunders or thrown overboard. He said:

"The net result of Churchill's astonishing ascendancy is that the country is now face to face with one of the most desperate situations in her history, in the sure and certain knowledge that men of the war making organization, who have botched and bungled almost every campaign so far and ended by losing half the empire in a few weeks, still are functioning and unchanged.

Assails Churchill's Stand.

"What is worse, Churchill has remained adamant in his contention that no avoidable mistakes have been made and no changes in men or machinery are needed."

Bower said it was surprising the government still was unchanged, for "we see a dreary, lamentable series of failures nearly all of which were avoidable and almost all entirely due to bad strategy and haphazard planning at the top."

"Churchill," Bower asserted, "has always fancied himself in a martial capacity, for which his particular brilliant attainments are unsuited. His dramatic mind builds a star pointing to the alhambras of illusion, totally devoid of foundation or fact.

"He makes the mistakes of age—inability to learn lessons, unwillingness to discard elderly inefficients, and above all dislike to contact younger men whose minds still are elastic and in their prime. We are told Churchill is indispensable—I deny that.

Rejects Fuehrer Principle.

"We are a democracy. True democracies should be suspicious of so-called great men. The 'fuehrer' principle is not for us.

"Perhaps the most frequent dodge employed by the government to avoid criticism is to say critics are impairing national unity. It all depends on what is meant by the sacred phrase. If it means we are all to go down on the sinking ship together, that sort of unity is not much use to me.

"I sometimes suspect Churchill himself would rather go down on the sinking ship than to see someone else bring it safely to port. Perhaps that is the choice with which we are faced."

ALLIED SUB BLASTS JAPANESE TROOPSHIP, THREE OTHER VESSELS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, June 5 [Friday]—(AP).—An allied submarine operating in the Pacific was credited officially today with destroying or damaging four Japanese ships, one of them going down with probably 12,000 troops aboard, while allied bombers continued to pound the enemy's island invasion bases to the north.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command announced yesterday that the submarine, presumably American, had sunk three ships—an armed and overloaded troop transport of 6,000 tons, and two jammed supply ships of 10,000 and 6,000 tons, respectively. A 7,000 ton supply ship was badly damaged, the communique said.

Today's communique said allied bombers destroyed Japanese anti-aircraft installations at Koepang in Dutch Timor, scored hits on docks at Rabaul, in New Britain, and sprayed incendiaries in a military camp nearby.

NAZIS HURL DIVE BOMBERS AT THE BRITISH IN LIBYA

Seek to Break Deadlock Along Desert Line.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 4 (AP).—The Germans were throwing their carefully conserved dive bombers into the battle of Libya today in an effort to break a deadlock aground by wiping out advanced allied strongholds around Bir Hacheim, southern anchor of the British desert line.

But, according to today's royal air force communique, the Stukas found more than their match in British fighting planes. Eight axis planes were shot down in one dog fight yesterday.

After nine days of top speed fighting the allied and axis land forces halted operations today to rest and repair equipment.

Italian Troops Turn Back.

One of the latest important actions occurred Tuesday twilight when British armored forces drove the enemy out of Tamar, a strongpoint six miles west of Knightsbridge, a cross roads standing in front of the nine mile gap which the Germans had cut in the allies' El Gazala-Bir Hacheim line. There 14 axis tanks were destroyed, the British communique said.

"Another attack on our positions at Bir Hacheim developed yesterday," it added. "Italian troops and some German tanks approached our positions, but the attack was not pressed home. Our columns attacked the enemy in the rear."

British batteries north and south of the German break-thru west of Knightsbridge and Tamar continued today to hammer this tenuous salient thru which German supplies and fresh armored vehicles were pushing.

The RAF reported low level attacks on enemy concentrations in the Bir Hacheim area. Night bombing raids also were made against the axis main landing grounds at Derna and Tmimi.

Battle Favors Us, Says Italy.

ROME, June 4 [from Italian broadcasts]—(AP).—The battle in the Libyan desert took a favorable turn yesterday for the axis forces, the Italian high command declared today.

"Twenty-two armored cars and seven cannon were captured or destroyed," a communique reported. "A number of prisoners were taken."

Jap Midget Sub Raised at Sydney; 6 Man Craft

SYDNEY, Australia, June 4 (AP).—One of the small Japanese submarines which unsuccessfully attacked Sydney harbor on Sunday was raised partly today, and a naval officer said it was larger than the two man midgets which were used in the Pearl Harbor raid of Dec. 7. This submarine probably carried six crewmen and was between 50 and 60 feet long compared with the 41 foot craft sunk and later salvaged at Pearl Harbor.

Germans Speed Dandelion Culture as Rubber Source

BERLIN, June 4 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—Germany is speedily cultivating a member of the dandelion family—kok sagis—to produce rubber, the Berlin radio announced tonight. The plant is said to produce a substance which gives a special elasticity to buna, which is used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber. The announcement said the substance yielding rubber is found in the root.

New Military Governor in Control at Gibraltar

LA LINEA, Spain, June 5 [Friday]—(AP).—Gen. Mason McFarlane, the new military governor of Gibraltar, arrived at his post yesterday and took over his new duties, it was announced today. Gen. McFarlane, who formerly headed a British military mission in Moscow, was appointed last week.

24 More Czechs Shot as Nazis Tell How Heydrich Met Doom

Victim of Bomb

BERLIN, June 4 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The fatal attack on Reichsprotector Reinhard Heydrich was carried out by both bomb and automatic pistol made in Britain, the German radio stated today in a dispatch from Prague giving the first complete German version of the assassination.

Heydrich, protector of Bohemia and Moravia and second in command of the Gestapo [secret police], died today of wounds received eight days ago. He was 38 years old.

The dispatch, written by the Transocean news agency correspondent, Joseph Schmidt, follows:

"Investigations of the attempt on the life of Reinhard Heydrich showed beyond a doubt that the weapons used were of British make, according to an official statement issued here.

Details of Attack.

"The attempt on the life of Heydrich was carried out on a steep hairpin curve which did not enable the driver to look far ahead of him. The perpetrators waited behind a corner so that the driver, who had to slow down, saw one only in the last minute when he was close to the mudguard with the automatic pistol already raised.

"This pistol, which he had concealed beneath his coat, failed, however. He threw it away and ran away. The weapon is of British make. The same automatic pistols were found in the possession of some parachute agents who had been dropped by British planes over the protectorate.

Second Man Tosses Bomb.

"At the side of the first perpetrator having the automatic pistol was a second man, who threw a bomb. He had to throw it very quickly lest it should explode in his hand. Therefore, he threw it at the right inner side of the car.

"The bomb exploded in the direction in which it was thrown, tore the right side, and destroyed the rear of the inside of the car.

"The deputy reichsprotector [Heydrich], however, sat next to the driver. There was no one else in the car. One fragment of the bomb flew to the right, pierced the seat, and hit Heydrich.

"Two bags, carried over their shoulders, were left behind by the perpetrators. One reserve bomb was found in each. Both are of British make. They both have the same fusing as those used by the British military against German tanks in Africa.

Fires Small Pistol.

"The perpetrator did not even have time to raise the bomb to the height of the head and throw it into the interior of the car. He had to be content with throwing it away from him against the car and then fleeing.

"The perpetrator who had wanted to fire shots from the automatic pistol used his pocket revolver when he was pursued. Examination of the cartridges also disclosed the British origin of the weapon [Colt] and of the ammunition.

"Pistols and ammunition of the same kind were discovered in the possession of captured parachute agents. Other weapons found in their possession are marked 'Geco' and 'Kyno'."

The Germans previously had linked the assassination with agents alleged to have been dropped in the protectorate by parachute.

Report Blast in France.

New York, June 4 (AP).—The British radio broadcast today a report from Vichy that guerrilla attackers had blown up an ammunition dump near Hazebrouck, in occupied France, after overpowering a strong German guard detachment. The attackers were said to have escaped.

187 Already Killed

LONDON, June 4 (AP).—Reinhard Heydrich, scourge of Nazi-occupied Europe, died in Prague today at the age of 38, while the rifles of his Gestapo took terrible revenge among the populace for his assassination, and tonight the German government prepared to bury him with pomp.

Twenty-four more Czechs, including three women, were executed in Prague and Brunn today following the announcement of Heydrich's death, the Prague radio announced tonight.

But the bloody terror loosed by henchmen of Hitler's hangman, which already had claimed the lives of 187 hostages in Bohemia and Moravia, was building up its own counter-terror. The German radio itself revealed that Nazis in the protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia were feeling the hand that strikes by night; the revenge of patriot-assassins who come by parachute from abroad to repay, with bomb, fire, and steel, for the subjugation of their homeland.

Ordered Many Shot.

The hundreds of Czechs who have died, or who probably faced death tonight because of the assassination, will be merely additions to a vast roll begun in 1941 when Hitler sent Heydrich, "the hangman," as reichsprotector for Bohemia and Moravia, to Prague to "quiet unrest."

Hundreds of executioners' rifles produced a "quiet" but failed to subdue the sullen hate of the freedom-loving Czechs.

And so, on last Tuesday, the propaganda minister of the puppet Czech government finally revealed what had only been hinted before—that young Czechs, trained abroad, had come in numbers by night out of the skies with arms and explosives to strike at the Nazi oppressors. The minister, Emanuel Moravec, insisted that most of the chutists had been rounded up, that therefore no special precautions for Nazi officials had been thought necessary. But then he admitted a few had escaped and that these "sufficed to bring misfortune to us."

That misfortune, he said, consisted not only of the attack on Heydrich.

32 Women Killed.

"They [the parachutists] were told that revolution was imminent in Bohemia and Moravia. As a signal for the uprising, a number of assaults were carried out against prominent German and Czech personalities and a series of attacks were made against industrial plants, public buildings and other institutions."

And so 187 hostages have died, 32 of them women, and 5,000 more peasants, teachers, housewives, and students were huddled tonight behind the barbed wire of Nazi concentration camps, wondering if they were to be next.

FINDS LIFE EASY AS A PRISONER OF THE ITALIANS

Guards Courteous, Food Ample and Appetizing.

BY HAROLD DENNY.

[New York Times correspondent, who has just returned to the United States after being interned in Italy and Germany.]

New York, June 4.—In five months as an axis prisoner of war, most of it in the hands of the Italians, I was treated with courtesy and often with kindness. This, I believe, is the experience of most British prisoners of the Italians.

Col. Michael Buckley Jr., United States army observer, and I were taken from Libya to Rome on Dec. 4, a week before the United States and Italy were at war. We were lodged in the cavalry barracks, within a mile of the American embassy. We gave our keepers notes to take to the embassy, but they never were delivered. Meanwhile, the Italians denied knowledge of our whereabouts, not only then, but afterward, when I had been taken back from Berlin, where I spent five weeks in the hands of the German secret police.

Before being taken to Germany, I was ruled to be a military prisoner of war because I had been taken on a battlefield in company with a hostile army, and was told I could not expect to be exchanged. Held on the same basis with me and Col. Buckley was Father Hiram Gruber Woolf, another American who had been arrested before we entered the war on a childish accusation of espionage.

Given Ample, Good Meals.

In Rome, Col. Buckley and I were placed in separate rooms in a guard house and were forbidden to speak to any one. However, ample and appetizing meals, with wine, were served to us and we received cigarets, books, and playing cards. Then, just before Pearl Harbor, we were told we no longer were considered war prisoners and might be exchanged after formalities.

I was permitted to move into Col. Buckley's room, but then Italy and Germany went to war on the United States and we again became prisoners of war. However, we still were as well fed and treated as before.

After a week I was told that I was to be taken to Germany. This, I believe, was because I had written an account of a tank battle which I had witnessed and had asked an Italian officer to have it cabled to America. The dispatch apparently was referred to the German army officers in Rome, who really rule the roost, and I am sure this caused me to be taken to Berlin for five unpleasant weeks.

Train Bitterly Cold.

That night I was taken under guard to a train and placed in a first class compartment, altho the train was so crowded that people were standing in the aisles. My only luggage was a toothbrush and toothpaste which had been given to me by the Italians, and a tin can for a drinking cup. I had no coat and, as it was bitterly cold, my Italian guards sat so that the skirts of their coats covered my legs.

Shortly after we went thru Brenner Pass the train stopped and I was taken into a police station, where I was turned over to two German Gestapo agents. Leaving Brennero, the German-Italian border station, the Germans brought me a good Italian basket lunch with a bottle of wine. One of the Germans pulled out a pair of handcuffs, but did not use them, when I promised not to run away. I found the secret police were not bad fellows. One of them turned up with three large sausages.

When our train stopped in Munich one of the Gestapo agents got me a cup of hot, black, well sweetened "coffee" from a German canteen girl. At the time I did not know my guards were Gestapo men—I found that out when we reached Berlin and turned into a big building identified by a plaque as "Geheime Staats Polizei," home state police, which has been shorted to Gestapo.

There I was led downstairs to a semibasement and thru steel doors into the prison section. "I'm not to stay here?" I asked one of the men who had escorted me from the border and was assured I would be put into a hotel.

In an office of the jail I surrendered all my personal belongings except my billfold, which contained my wife's photograph. These, incidentally, all were returned to me when I was released.

A Gestapo guard took me to a cell, but I thought that, as a state prisoner, I would be registered and held for a few hours at most. The cell door was left open.

Then one of my early escorts took my measurements for clothing, explaining that I would be considered a civilian. Then he gave me 10 marks [about $4] with which to buy cigarets, wished me luck, shook hands, and left.

Then a jailer shut the steel door and I heard the lock turn with a double clank.

Laval Takes Over Control of France's Police Forces

VICHY, France, June 4 (AP).—For the first time in the history of modern France almost all law enforcement machinery has been placed in the hands of one man. This was accomplished by a decree transferring the national gendarmerie from the war department to the direct control of Chief of Government Pierré Laval. Laval already controled the national police and the "state police" which have replaced municipal forces. The gendarmerie is the constabulary force for rural districts.

BAHAMAS HOLD EIGHTY FOR TRIAL IN LABOR RIOTING

NASSAU, Bahamas, June 4 (AP).—Eighty persons will be tried for participating in widespread riots that cost three lives and extensive property damage here Monday, government authorities disclosed today. The charges to be placed against the men, all understood to be natives, were not announced.

The riots flared after unskilled laborers on a big American project started a demonstration against their four shillings [about 80 cents] a day wages. About 1,500 workers returned to their jobs today, but an 8 p. m. to 6 a. m. curfew remained in effect.

The duke of Windsor, who hurried back from Washington to occupy his post as royal governor, has started negotiations in connection with the wage rate, which was fixed by agreement of the British and American governments.

FLY TANK PARTS TO LIBYA FRONT FROM DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., June 4 (AP).—Vital tank parts were flown from Detroit to Libya within the last month to aid the British in defeating Col. Gen. Erwin Rommel's panzer forces, Col. Richard Z. Crane, deputy chief of the Detroit ordnance district, announced today.

The British purchasing commission called Detroit on a Sunday, Col. Crane said, asking if certain parts could be had immediately. The ordnance office checked with the producer.

The following day the parts were packed under supervision of a British officer. With a motorcycle escort, a truck rushed them to a flying field and they were placed aboard a Libya bound plane. The parts arrived in time to aid the British in their stand against Gen. Rommel's drive.

REAL AIR CRASH ENDS MOCK RAID; ONE DIES; 2D HURT

Beaver Dam, Wis., June 4.—(AP).—Courtney Starkweather, 30 years old, president of the local civilian air patrol, died tonight of injuries suffered in the crash of his light cabin plane last night during a simulated air bombing and first aid practice session.

Starkweather and Dr. Roland Schoen, 30, had gone aloft to drop bags of flour in lieu of bombs.

NAZI BOMBERS SET OFF FIRES IN BRITISH TOWN

RAF Strafes Germans in Day and Night Raids.

A NORTHEAST ENGLISH COAST TOWN, June 5 [Friday]—(AP).—German planes dropped incendiaries and started a number of fires which were quickly extinguished here early today. There were no casualties.

Flares were dropped on another town in this area, but no bombs followed. One German plane was reported destroyed during the night.

Raid Nazis 24 Hours.

LONDON, June 4 (AP).—Britain's air forces flew against the Nazi occupied continent today in 24 hours of ceaseless assault. Perhaps 200 bombers battered Bremen in last night's brief summer darkness.

Today fighters and light bombers swarmed across the channel to attack targets in the coastal regions.

The air ministry tonight said three British fighters were lost thruout the day to one German fighter. The Cherbourg area was attacked in the morning, including the bombing of the Maupertus air field; docks at Boulogne were bombed in the afternoon sweep over the Pas de Calais zone, and tonight the Dunkirk docks were attacked.

Large Fire at Bremen.

At Bremen, where the attack was concentrated within half an hour, a particularly large fire was left in the dock area. Additional fires were set in the industrial section.

The attack on Bremen, altho small in comparison with the four figure "victory raids" on Cologne and Essen, was called "extremely successful" by an air informant. He said the raiders did proportionately as much damage to the crowded North sea center for Nazi submarine, destroyer, and aircraft manufacture as did the larger Ruhr attacks.

Britain admitted the loss of 10 planes.

Bomb British South Coast Town.

BERLIN, June 4 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—German night raiders were today reported to have bombed the naval base of Poole on the British south coast.

Nazis Admit 8,000 Die.

BERNE, Switzerland, June 4 (AP).—A Swiss Telegraph agency dispatch from Berlin tonight said that Germany officially acknowledges 8,000 persons have been killed "since the beginning of the air attacks"—a phrase not explained but presumed here to refer to deaths since the British began mass attacks on Cologne and Essen.

LIQUOR HEADS FIGHT BAN ON SALE TO SOLDIERS

Milwaukee, Wis., June 4 [Special].—A national conference of state liquor administrators at the Hotel Schroeder closed today with a formal protest against action by congress to make illegal the sale of liquor to men in the armed forces. A bill to this end is pending in congress. The conference declared that a law taking liquor away from men in war service "would be discreditable to our men in uniform, discriminatory, and contrary to the promotion of the ends of temperance."

The conference also adopted a resolution opposing federal legislation that would take control of alcoholic beverages from the states.

G. Norman Peterson of Minnesota was elected chairman of the conference and John W. Roach of Madison, Wis., was reëlected secretary-treasurer.

JAILED IN MEAT CLEAVER ATTACK.

William Hasselbrink, 63 years old, 1214 George street, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Michael Tremko in Town Hall court to 10 days in the Bridewell for striking his son, Albert, 33, on the head with a meat cleaver in an argument Wednesday.

COMMANDO RAID 3 WAY JOB—ON LAND, SEA, IN AIR

Action Fast and Hard on French Shore.

[The following eye-witness account of the British commando raid yesterday on the Boulogne-Le Touquet area was written by a Christian Science Monitor correspondent, who was chosen by lot from among American correspondents in London to accompany the raiders. He was the first American correspondent to go with the commandos.]

BY R. MAILLARD STEAD.

WITH THE BRITISH COMMANDOS OFF NORTHERN FRANCE, June 4 (AP).—The shape of far more fearsome things to come loomed up before the startled Nazi sentries on the French coast early today when I saw some of Britain's toughest commandos wade silently thru breast-high surf between Boulogne and Le Touquet, shoot up German strong points, and depart safely with useful information and very slight casualties.

The commandos carried out a high pressure investigation of everything within reach. The Germans frequently fired at each other in general confusion. This went on for about an hour and before the time came to withdraw.

RAF planes roaring overhead created a diversion on the right flank. Naval escorts, present but undetected by the Germans, caused a diversion of their own in an engagement with two Nazi patrol vessels. One was sunk and the other damaged.

Not Away Before Dawn.

When the first pearly slashes of dawn appeared in the sky the British ships were not out of sight of the German-occupied shore, but RAF fighters and naval escorts deterred the Nazis from anything like a sustained attack.

This was a significant commemoration of the second anniversary of completing the evacuation from Dunkirk, for altho a small raid, it was one more promise that the defense era was ending for the united nations in western Europe, and the Nazis were about to be called on to show whether they can take what they have been so ready to hand out.

Led by a Young Major.

In the latest illustration of combined land, sea, and air operations directed by Lord Mountbatten—now conferring with American service chiefs in Washington, D. C.—the commandos were led into action by 29 year old Maj. K.. R. S. Trevor, a nephew of T. W. Trevor, a retired British barrister residing in Charlottesville, Va.

The reconnaissance was a limited one, but was carried out with an audacity that underlined the potentialities of this type of warfare in relation to American-British plans for a continental offensive.

The craft in which I was crouching after the withdrawal of the commandos started became temporarily stranded on one of the tricky sandbanks which the rest of the assault party avoided.

Picked out by dazzling searchlights, we were stationary long enough for Nazi gunners to get the range and give us a series of narrow escapes.

Glittering tracer bullets converged overhead, and water splashed from near misses, but nobody was seriously hurt and we floated off again and resumed the homeward journey.

The brief raid showed, in the words of one veteran commando officer, aged 23 years, that "Jerry has got the jitters."

Commandos Repulsed, Say Nazis.

BERLIN, June 4 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The German high-command today reported the repulse of "an attempted British landing" on the occupied French coast and said Nazi troops had captured "some prisoners and arms."

1,800 MORE SERVICE PINS SOLD; TOTAL IS NEAR 12,000 MARK

More than 1,800 all-metal service pins were sold yesterday in THE TRIBUNE'S two public service offices, bringing the total to almost 12,000 since sales started Monday. In addition, more than 3,000 mail orders were received in the last two days.

The pins, each bearing the words, "In Service," are designed in 20 combinations. These include the insignia of the three branches of the service, plus a fourth for flyers, and indicate the following relationships: father, mother, brother, husband, or sweetheart. Any profits from the sales will be turned over in full to the United Service Organizations.

To purchase a pin, buyers must specify their relationship to a man in service and state in what force he is serving. Pins sell at both Tribune public service offices—at 1 South Dearborn street and in Tribune Tower—for 10 cents, plus 1 cent luxury tax. Pins may be ordered by mail for 15 cents. Mail orders should be addressed to 1 South Dearborn street.

One-Armed RAF Flyer Blasts 4 Nazi Bombers

LONDON, June 4 (AP).—Squadron Leader J. A. F. MacLachlan, who wouldn't let the loss of an arm interfere with his royal air force career, shot down two of four German bombers destroyed over France last night and damaged two others. He has operated his fighter with a metal arm since an amputation resulting from his being shot down over Malta some time ago. His present night fighting score is seven planes downed.

ITALY THROWS UP FORTIFICATIONS ON RIVIERA COAST

Fear of British Commando Assaults Seen.

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK.

[Chief of the former Rome bureau of the Associated Press and Wide World, who has reached the United States after five months of internment in Italy.]

New York, June 4 [Wide World].—Italy is fortifying her Riviera coastline as a defense, presumably, against British commando raids.

We on the repatriation train from Rome to Lisbon glimpsed concrete pillbox fortifications under construction along the coastline, particularly near Leghorn.

Military experts have concluded the new defenses are intended to repel raiding parties from British submarines. The basis for this assumption is the presence of shipyards and industrial plants along the Ligurian coast which offer inviting objectives to British saboteurs. The Leghorn hydrogenation plant, Italy's principal gasoline producer, is one possible objective.

Raids Only on Sicily So Far.

Commando raids on Italy thus far have been confined to Sicily, where the German air force is based for its Mediterranean operations, except for parachutists dropped in southern Italy early in the war to blow up bridges and waterworks.

How many raids the British have made in Sicily, usually from submarines, is a secret. I was told, however, that the British raiders planted portable radio sets on the island.

These sets are said to be moved about the island from one secret spot to another to avoid detection. Their power is low but sufficient for the British on Malta to pick up their code messages.

The Italians, incidentally, found a clandestine radio transmitting set some time ago under a tombstone in a Leghorn cemetery.

Doubt Invasion Is Feared.

Mussolini has perhaps 3,000,000 men under arms. But observers doubt that he fears a military invasion of Italy, as least for a long time to come.

The difficulty of the united nations in maintaining long lines of communication and supply in North Africa, along with other considerations, seems to preclude the opening of a new European front on the Italian peninsula. Hence, the supposition that Italy is guarding herself against the commandos.

Instead of throwing even the mobilized fraction of his boasted "eight million bayonets" into combat, Mussolini is using them mainly to occupy Italian Libya and territory conquered by Germany in the Balkans and Russia.

Observers have revised their estimates of Italian troops in Russia down to less than 100,000. The Italian high command goes thru the motions of sending reënforcements to Russia once in a while, but the men don't go in sizable numbers. Italy's poverty is the reason. Rich in manpower, she is poor in trained combat divisions, due to a shortage in equipment. She also is short of transport.

50,000 Italians Believed Killed.

In our internment city of Siena, a garrison town for many years, we saw raw recruits put thru infantry drill. Presumably they were called to the colors to replace casualties in the war swollen standing army.

Observers estimate that Italy has lost more than 50,000 dead in her disastrous campaigns. The war against Greece cost Italy some 25,000 dead. The number of wounded is believed to be large.

Lost, too, are approximately 500,000 men who fell prisoners, mainly in the hands of the British, in Africa.

Guerrilla fighting in the Balkans, from Croatia thru Serbia and Montenegro, continues to take a heavy toll of Italian troops.

BRITAIN'S NEW COAL CONTROL PLAN MEETS LABORITE OPPOSITION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 4.—Opposition to the government's new mine control and coal rationing scheme developed today, particularly in the Laborite party, and a lively debate is foreshadowed when it is submitted to the house of commons for approval. Miners and members of parliament met separately to consider the proposals and complained that the plan does not embody full government control as promised.

The government hastened action on the miners' claim for $17 minimum weekly wage. It was announced that a board of investigation had been appointed to hear evidence Monday.

BOMBING FORCES OLDEST COLOGNE PAPER TO CLOSE

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

BERNE, Switzerland, June 4.—For the third time in a century and a quarter, the Koelnische Zeitung, one of the oldest and most famous of German newspapers, has become a victim of war. Its publishing plant, it is learned, was seriously damaged during the British raid on Cologne, and it has been compelled to suspend publication.

Founded in the eighteenth century, the Koelnische achieved fame long before the Bismarck empire was founded. Since 1870 and until after World War I. it was accepted as the official mouthpiece of the German foreign office.

Its last contact with Germany's enemies preceding the recent bombing was during the Phineland occupation following World War I. It then freely ran amok at censorial prohibition pronounced by the inter-allied commission because of the paper's militant attitude, with the result that occasionally it was ordered to suspend publication for brief periods.

DROWNS IN GRAVEL PIT.

Elkhart, Ind., June 4 [Special].—Jack Fields, 18 years old, graduate of Elkhart High school, was drowned today while swimming in White gravel pit. Ralph Eggleston, 17, dragged under while attempting to save Fields, was rescued by Gordon Fletcher, 19, and Joe Rench, 16.

FLIES WITH RAF IN BLOW AT JAP SHIPS IN BURMA

Tells How British Raid River Transports Daily.

BY DANIEL DE LUCE.

AN ALLIED AIR BASE IN INDIA, May 29 [Delayed]—[Wide World]—Daily, thru fair weather and foul, royal air force fighters and bombers are smashing at the salvaged steamers and bamboo rafts which bring Japanese troops and equipment up Burma's Chindwin river, where the Naga foothills range along the border of Burma and Assam, India's easternmost province.

In northern Assam, 100 miles from the Chindwin headwaters, lies one of India's two most important oil fields.

Today I flew more than 1,200 miles in a Blenheim bomber engaged in the RAF campaign to smash the Japanese outposts along the Chindwin. This plane was assigned a 300 mile sweep inside enemy territory.

Finds It's Cold "Up There."

Soon after dawn I stood with the crew around a map in this air base while an officer plotted our objectives and gave instructions for bombing of the Yu river just west of the Chindwin.

Wearing a borrowed parachute and helmet, I climbed into the cockpit We sliced thru the mist and into the cold upper tropical air, where our sweaty shirts became frigid.

We sighted a formation of United States army bombers, also Burma bound.

Ice formed on our wings and the mist blotted out the sun and earth.

One engine started to miss. We experienced the airman's nightmare—engine failure. There was no chance of a successful landing in the mountains.

But the pilot nursed the engine and slowly it roared back to normal.

Hit Ship; It Sinks Rapidly.

Swooping from the clouds into the sultry heat over the Chindwin was almost an anticlimax. The river was the color of light coffee. We skimmed along at 200 feet to spot river craft. Big rafts were tethered along the east bank. In half an hour I counted more than 35 Japanese rafts, barges, and boats. The Chindwin now is a Japanese waterway, main route for supplies for a possible Assam invasion.

At Maungjan we attacked a steamer which began sinking rapidly. Near Singkaling Kamti the Blenheim completed its mission and turned toward the Naga range.

The map showed 10,000 foot peaks ahead of us. Then we saw a Japanese plane and punged into a cloud.

Our wingtips were invisible to us in the mist—but we didn't mind. We had crossed the highest mountains and our engines sang.

Even a Blenheim knows the tune, "Going Home."

U-BOATS SINK 3 MORE SHIPS; CREW FIRED ON

Navy Patrol Vessel Three Weeks Overdue.

219

Three more merchant vessels, two American and one British, were sunk by submarines in the Caribbean sea and a United States naval patrol boat was three weeks overdue and was presumed lost in the Atlantic area, the navy announced yesterday. The patrol boat, formerly a private yacht, normally carried a crew of 28.

Survivors from one of the merchant ships said crewmen on an axis submarine machinegunned them as they abandoned ship. There were four dead and eight men missing from that ship but 17 crew members were saved. The entire crew of 35 got away safely from the other American ship, but four men were killed in the torpedoing of the British vessel.

The new sinkings raised the announced total of united nations shipping losses in the Atlantic area to 15 in the last five days. Since the attack on Pearl Harbor a total of 219 ships are known to have been sunk by submarines in American coastal waters with 1,355 persons killed, 1,458 missing and believed lost, and 7,141 rescued. Details of the new attacks follow:

THREE OFFICERS KILLED

Key West, Fla., June 4 (AP).—The navy announced today the sinking of two more United States cargo vessels and one British merchantship in the Caribbean sea. Survivors from one of the United States ships reported that machine gunners on an axis submarine turned a deadly spray of bullets upon crewmen abandoning ship.

Four Days Adrift.

Three ship's officers were killed and one seaman who dived beneath the water never was seen again. Seventeen members of the crew spent four days in a lifeboat, then were towed to Bon Air, a small Caribbean island near Curacao, six later being brought here. Eight others last seen on a raft had not been reported.

From the other American ship sinking announced today by the navy the entire crew of 35 got away safely and spent 88 hours in lifeboats before a naval patrol plane sighted them and directed rescue operations.

Sunk Off Cuba.

A German submarine commanded by an Italian officer torpedoed and sank the third ship, a British merchantman, in the Caribbean near Cuba May 27, killing four men, survivors said.

After the attack the submarine surfaced and its commander talked with men in four lifeboats.

"That captain was Italian," said Capt. Alexander Pope.

Thirty-two Chinese were in the torpedoed vessel's crew of 85.

FORMER YACHT MISSING

Washington, D. C., June 4 [Special]. —The navy today reported that the U. S. S. Cythera, a 602 ton boat on patrol in the Atlantic area, is three weeks overdue and is presumed to be lost. The vessel normally carried a crew of 28.

The Cythera formerly was the yacht Agawa, owned by Mrs. William L. Harkness of New York and Cleveland, O. The boat, built in Scotland in 1907, was commissioned March 3. It was 192 feet long and 27 feet wide.

Lieut. Comm. Thomas W. Rudderow, 56 years old, a reserve officer recalled to active duty in January, commands the Cythera.

30 Survivors Saved.

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, June 4 (AP).—The loss of another allied merchant vessel to undersea raiders was reported here when more than 30 survivors were landed. No lives were lost.

MRS. F. D. R. NOT FOREIGN AGENT IN RADIO WORK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—Eleanor Roosevelt, the President's wife was not required to register as a foreign agent while broadcasting on behalf of the Pan-American coffee bureau, which was organized in the United States by Latin American coffee producers to promote sales of their product, inquiry at the state department disclosed today.

Instead, the bureau itself registered under the law requiring representatives of foreign governments to register with the state department.

Mrs. Roosevelt's contract for 26 weekly broadcasts of 15 minutes each, at $2,000 per broadcast, expired recently.

Gros, Wife Guilty as Nazi Spies; White Shirts Leader Convicted

Face 20 to 25 Years

Los Angeles, Cal., June 4 (AP).—Dr. Hans Helmut Gros and his wife, Frances, were convicted today on federal espionage charges. Both were convicted of conspiring to transmit national defense information to Germany, and Gros was found guilty on the additional charge of failing to register with the state department as a foreign agent.

Each faces a possible maximum sentence of 20 years in prison on the first charge. Gros is liable to five years more on the second charge.

Judge "Satisfied" of Guilt.

Federal Judge Ben Harrison, who heard the case without a jury, denied motions for dismissal. In pronouncing the couple guilty, he said:

"I am satisfied beyond any doubt that Dr. Gros was acting as an agent of the German government, and that Mrs. Gros knew that before she married him. She married him knowing that, and continued to assist him in his activities."

Dr. Gros yesterday told Judge Harrison that fear of Federal Bureau of Investigation agents caused him to sign a statement that he was a Nazi spy.

Says He Feared for Wife.

Retracting various parts of the statement, Dr. Gros told Judge Harrison:

"I was afraid the FBI would torture my wife if I didn't sign anything they wanted me to. Secret police in Europe are doubtful organizations and I didn't know anything about the FBI."

Under questioning by Judge Harrison, the defendant admitted he had been well treated by FBI agents and that he had not been threatened, "but I was so worn out after seven days of questioning I would have signed anything."

Sentence Is Deferred

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 4 (AP).—George W. Christians, 59 year old engineer-economist and self-styled leader of the Crusader White Shirts, was convicted in federal court today on four counts of sedition.

Judge Leslie Darr deferred sentence pending a motion for a new trial.

Christians was charged with attempting to incite rebellion in the armed forces and interfering with enlistment by sending violently worded letters and pamphlets to civil and military authorities. The jury deliberated only two hours.

Christians is subject to a fine of $10,000 and a maximum prison term of 20 years on each of the four counts.

SENATORS BEGIN INVESTIGATION OF LOSSES TO SUBS

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—A senate naval affairs subcommittee is making a preliminary investigation of the navy's antisubmarine warfare and may call naval officers for a public hearing, Chairman Allen J. Ellender [D., La.] said today.

Ellender said the group, which includes Senators Charles O. Andrews [D., Fla.] and Alexander Wiley [R., Wis.], was attempting to determine if all possible measures had been taken to thwart the attacks on merchant shipping in the Atlantic and the Gulf of Mexico.

The group was particularly interested, he said, in learning if controversy over designs had delayed the construction of small P-T boats and other subchasers.

N. Y. HIGH COURT HALVES PRISON TERM OF SCALISE

Albany, N. Y., June 4 (AP).—Reversal by the Court of Appeals today of his conviction on four forgery counts cut in half the prison time ahead of George Scalise, former New York City union boss, but opened the probability of further prosecution.

The state's highest tribunal upheld a first degree grand larceny conviction, for which the squat, 45 year old international president of the AFL's Building Service Workers' union was sentenced in October, 1940, to 5 to 10 years. He is in Sing Sing prison. Sentences on the four forgery counts, which were to run consecutively, made his original term 10 to 20 years.

The office of Assistant Manhattan District Attorney Stanley H. Fuld announced, however, Scalise and his New York City representative, Izzy Schwartz, "probably" will be tried soon on a superseding indictment carrying 52 counts of extortion and one of conspiracy. It was returned April 26, 1940.

Scalise, the $20,000 a year chief of some 70,000 charwomen and other building employés, was convicted of taking $2,857 in union funds March 29, 1940.

BROOKS ASKS USE OF GREAT LAKES TUGS ON U-BOATS

50 Craft Readily Suited for Sea Duty.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—Use of seagoing Great Lakes tugs against submarines in the battle of the Atlantic was urged today by Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.].

"The army and navy are bending every effort to support our allies with ships, planes, men, and materials to fight on distant seas and battle fronts," Brooks said. "If they haven't sufficient subchasers and planes to stop this invasion of our coastal waters, they should certainly use the smaller Great Lakes vessels and slower aircraft to clear out coastal waters."

Offers Expert's Report.

The senator based his plea for use of seagoing Great Lakes craft for anti-submarine operations on a report submitted to the navy department by a member of the Society of Naval Architects and Engineers. The report said that there are a number of lake craft now not being used in essential war traffic which could be readily converted for coastal patrol work.

Between 50 and 100 lake craft were said to be readily available for such conversion. Twenty large steel tugs could be put into coastal work at once, except for armament.

The report made by an engineer, whose name was not disclosed, listed 112 Great Lakes tugboats and 45 miscellaneous craft as capable of development for patrol work.

Sinkings Exceed Building.

The report was submitted to the navy department by the engineer as an answer to repeated navy complaints that there are not sufficient craft available to patrol the coastal waters and keep supplies and men moving to the various fronts.

Unless all available craft and planes, even tho they be short of perfection, are employed against submarines, Sen. Brooks said, the sea toll will not be curbed. At present the submarines are sinking American merchantmen faster than the shipyards can turn new shipping out.

1,000 NORWEGIAN SHIPS DEFY SUBS, PREMIER REPORTS

One thousand Norwegian ships carrying about 4,000,000 tons of war materials to the united nations are on the high seas today in defiance of Hitler's submarines, Norway's prime minister in exile, John Nygaardsvold, declared yesterday. The prime minister, with Sven Nielsen, cabinet minister without portfolio, passed thru Chicago from Los Angeles on his way to New York.

Praising the spirit of America, he said: "Everywhere I've been impressed with the will to win. The Americans have a firm conviction in the victory of democracy. Since America's entrance into the war, Norway has been heartened. Thousands of the forbidden V-for-Victory marks appear over night in Norway."

Ninety-nine per cent of the Norwegian people are opposed to the Quisling régime, Mr. Nygaardsvold declared. "But victory depends on the united efforts of all the nations," he said. "It is primarily a military question and much hinges on production of ships."

BAKERY ROBBERS GET $2,000.

Three men late yesterday obtained about $2,000 in a robbery of the Grennan Bakeries, Inc., plant at 118 South Oakley boulevard.

Britain Again Refuses to Lift Daily Worker Ban

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 4.—Minister of Home Security Herbert Morrison today reiterated the government's refusal to lift the ban on the suppressed Communist paper, the Daily Worker. The sole Communist member of parliament, Willie Gallacher, then asked whether the ministry of information would permit a Daily Worker spokesman to reply over the British Broadcasting corporation radio to a broadcast attack against that paper. Ernest Thurtle, parliamentary secretary of the ministry of information, did not think a counterbroadcast necessary.

HITLER AND U. S. MINISTER HAIL FINNISH LEADER

Fuehrer Sees Mannerheim on 75th Birthday.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 4.—Curiously enough, Adolf Hitler and the American minister to Finland, Arthur Schoenfeld, today paid their respects to Finland's Field Marshal Baron Karl Gustav Mannerheim. The occasion was the Finnish leader's 75th birthday.

Accompanying Hitler was his chief of the general staff, Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Keitel. Schoenfeld was accompanied by the United States military attaché, Col. George E. Huthsteiner. While Mannerheim himself greeted Hitler at a secret meeting place, possibly near Helsingfors, the American diplomat and his attaché were received by proxy in Mannerheim's Helsingfors home. [Finland and the United States still maintain diplomatic relations.]

Given Medal by Hitler.

Hitler presented the Finnish baron with the grand golden cross of the knight's order of the eagle and then Hitler, Mannerheim, Finnish President Risto Ryti, and Keitel withdrew to a private room for a lengthy talk. Later Hitler left Helsingfors in the plane which had brought him, while Keitel remained behind for talks with Mannerheim, the Finnish general staff, and the German commanders with the Finnish forces.

Finnish military circles believe these discussions and the conference between Hitler and Mannerheim concerned Finland's immediate military problem, the capture of Leningrad, and one of Germany's major problems, the capture of Murmansk, Russian Arctic port.

Named Marshal of Finland.

As a birthday present from his people, Mannerheim was awarded the title of marshal of Finland by President Ryti. The Finnish parliament, in a special act, bought and presented Mannerheim the home in which he is living. Helsingfors named a street after him and the government announced that his birthday henceforth will be celebrated as a flag day by the Finnish army.

Mannerheim, in a speech replying to congratulations from Keitel, said Finland was certain that the comradeship in arms between Finland and Germany would lead to future great successes and victory in their fight against communism.

Among the messages of congratulations received by Mannerheim was one from Premier Mussolini announcing that Italy had conferred on him Italy's oldest and highest decoration, the grand military cross of Savoy.

'Met' Singer Pinza, Held as Enemy Alien, Freed

New York, June 4 [Special].—Ezio Pinza, Metropolitan opera basso, was released from Ellis Island last Thursday, after being held in custody as an enemy alien since March 12. He gained freedom as a result of investigations by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and an alien enemy hearing board. Pinza was born in Rome 50 years ago. He has made preliminary application for American citienship, but he is still an Italian subject. No comment could be obtained from the department of justice as to whether Pinza's release was absolute or conditioned on adherence to terms of a parole.

RUSSIAN PLANES BATTER GERMANS IN AIR, AGROUND

300 Nazis Slain in Rear of Own Lines.

MOSCOW, June 5 [Friday]—(AP).—The Russian command early today reported a resumption of fighting and air force activity on some sectors of the front. Actions afield were described as local, however, and there still was no indication of any general fighting.

"During June 4," said the communique, "engagements of local importance were fought in some sectors of the front, with active air operations.

"During June 3 units of our air force on various sectors of the front destroyed or damaged 115 motor vehicles with troops and war materials, 40 carts with ammunition, mines, and anti-aircraft guns, 8 anti-aircraft machine gun posts, and 4 searchlights, blew up 4 ammunition dumps, damaged 2 railway stations, and dispersed and partly annihilated up to 6 companies of enemy infantry."

Operate Behind Nazi Lines.

The mid-day communique yesterday said 12 German planes had been shot down on the central front.

"Our units operating behind the enemy lines on the central front repulsed an attack by German infantry supported by tanks," the soviet information bureau said. "The enemy lost 300 officers and men."

[The circumstances which led to this fight "behind the enemy lines" were not brought out. The Nazi high command declared Wednesday that the Germans had encircled and crushed soviet groups on the central front, killing more than 1,500 and capturing 2,000. Berlin yesterday said only that "on the eastern front there was no important fighting."]

1,100 Planes Downed by Moscow.

In Moscow, which has not been bombed since April 5, a conference of air raid command officials was told that the anti-aircraft defenses of the capital had destroyed more than 1,100 German planes since the start of the war.

These defenses include anti-aircraft batteries, barrage balloons, and fighter planes.

MEXICAN ARMY TOUGH; OFFICER CORPS PRO-U. S.

100 Million Lend-Lease Provides Equipment.

MEXICO CITY, June 4 [Wide World]—The Mexican army which has just joined the anti-totalitarian ranks is not a parade ground outfit and its officer corps is overwhelmingly pro-United States. Those are the salient facts about the newest ally of the armies of the democracies.

The 70,000 officers and men of Mexico's fighting forces have been toughened in the smoke of revolutionary battles, and under the $100,000,000 lend-lease agreement with the United States, the troops are being equipped with the materials necessary to increase their mobility and fire power.

In recent years they have been whipped into a disciplined, well trained organization by Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho, both as national defense minister and president.

More American than European.

The officer corps has long urged the closest military coöperation with the United States, and despite ardent Nazi wooing, German influence and sympathy are notably lacking in the army. By tradition, by association, and by training, the modern Mexican officer is more American than European.

Judged on training, ruggedness, and point of view, Mexico's army should be counted on to share in protecting the southern flank of the United States or in reënforcing a threatened front anywhere in the western hemisphere.

Energetic collaboration in "safeguarding America" was pledged by President Avila Camacho in his address to the special session of the Mexican congress when he urged a declaration of war on Germany, Italy, and Japan last month.

The chief executive pointedly refrained from limiting the scope of the army's action to Mexican territory.

Besides 65,000 trained reserves, there is a man power base of perhaps 300,000 peasants with military experience who could be whipped into fighting shape quickly. There also are about 50,000 members of the workers' militia.

A branch of the army that is changing daily from weakness to strength is the air force. It recently numbered only about 100 planes and 700 men and officers. Its strength today is a military secret. New planes have arrived from the United States and two new training schools have been opened. The nation's network of military and civilian air bases is being expanded rapidly.

Navy Prepared for War.

Small but alert and with excellent morale, the Mexican navy should shift with but little effort to a war footing, as it has been cruising the waters of the gulf and Pacific for months to warn United States convoys and warships of enemy activity.

The navy has three 2,000 ton gunboats, fairly well armored and mounting 4.7 inch guns. There are 11 fast coastal patrol vessels armed with 3 inch guns and a large transport, the Durango.

800 MORE CHILDREN FROM FINLAND REACH HAVENS IN SWEDEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 4.—The food crisis in Finland continues grave, even hospitals not having potatoes. Workers in Helsingfors and other large cities are living largely on a diet of salted minnows, turnips, and bread made from a mixture of cellulose and flour.

Today another 800 Finnish children under 7 years of age arrived in Stockholm to be adopted temporarily by Swedish foster parents. Sweden is feeding more than 16,000 Finnish children. It is planned to bring many thousands more here to be fed and cared for.

Each contingent of children arriving here brings further confirmation of the starvation conditions prevailing in Finland. The children are all from poor families and also from families where the father has been killed in the war, and, while they are adequately clothed, their physical condition has been a shock to the Swedes.

Cuba Charges Radio Man Spread Axis Propaganda

HAVANA, Cuba, June 4.—Juan Fernandez de Castro, an amateur radio operator, today was charged with disseminating axis propaganda. He was the only radio amateur in Cuba who reported picking up a message from a German submarine on May 23 threatening to shell Havana. Police said he has picked up numerous such messages, all part of the "war of nerves," and spread them by word of mouth.

EX-CHICAGO MAN HEADS ARMY AIR TRANSPORT UNIT

R. W. Ireland Will Control Passenger Priorities.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

R. W. Ireland.

Washington, D. C., June 4.—R. W. Ireland, former traffic manager of the United Air Lines in Chicago, today was named chief of the air division of the army's transportation service.

He will direct the use of the commerial planes commandeered by the army to speed the flow of man power and materials in the war effort.

Major immediate functions of the air division are to determine and administer priorities for both cargo and passengers on commercial air lines in the United States and on overseas routes, including those of the air ferrying command; coördinate air with other forms of transportation in the services of supply, and determine how air transportation can be used most effectively to save time and costs in moving men and materials.

Plan Shift in Priorities Rule.

The division is preparing to decentralize the present administration of priorities covering the precedence of passenger and cargo transportation on air lines, and to assure that space is made available whenever required for the war effort.

Some 14 or 15 regional offices will be established under the new plan in key cities. The sites have not yet been approved. The regional offices will be headed by officers called to duty from commercial air lines, and will conduct campaigns to acquaint war plant officials with means of obtaining priorities quickly.

Mr. Ireland studied at the Business university, Huntington, Ind., and the Pace institute, Washington, D. C., and began his transportation career with the Erie railroad at Huntington in 1911. Two years later he became division chief in the army engineers' office in Washington, serving until 1921. For the next four years, he was secretary of the war department subcommittee of the house committee on appropriations.

Into Air in 1925.

Mr. Ireland in 1925 joined the national air transport, a predecessor division of United Air Lines, to assist the company's operations between Chicago and Dallas, Tex., and between Chicago and New York. He became traffic manager of United Air Lines in 1932.

DELAY INQUEST IN BANDIT DEATH; VICTIMS IMPROVE

A coroner's inquest into the death of Henry Peter Karstens, the bandit shot to death Wednesday in an effort to hold up the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, was continued yesterday until two bank guards he shot can recover sufficiently to testify.

The two guards, both of whom were reported to be progressing well, are John J. Whelan, 48 years old, 4344 North Troy street; and Thomas Lyons, 26, of 755 Cornelia avenue.

An interested spectator at yesterday's inquest session was Paul Vollman, 41, of 2630 South Kildare avenue, who still limps from one of Karsten's bullets, fired in 1930 in a chase down Halsted street in which Karsten was captured on a robbery foray.

"I thought this man was in jail," said Vollman after viewing Karstens' body. "I thought he had been sentenced to 50 years after he shot me and another innocent bystander in a gun battle years ago."

JOLIET SEEKS REDUCTION IN TOWNSHIP SIZE

The Joliet city council yesterday asked the Will county board of supervisors to reduce the size of Joliet township by changing its boundaries to coincide with the limits of the city itself. About a year ago the city took in a part of Lockport township, and the present move is intended to straighten out various difficulties in administration that have arisen. If the proposal is allowed when the county board meets Monday the 70,000 population of the township will be reduced to about 46,000 and the assessed valuation will be cut from 34 million dollars to about 25 millions.

"Victory Girl"

DOROTHY O'BRIEN.

Miss Dorothy O'Brien, 19 year old typist of 126 Oak street, Elmhurst, was elected 1942 "Victory Girl" by war workers at Western Electric's Hawthorne works yesterday. She will represent her fellow employés at a noon ceremony today, when the treasury department will award Hawthorne works a special flag for war bond purchases under the pay roll deduction plan.

Hawthorne works has qualified for the award, it was announced, with a record of 98.5 per cent of all employés participating in the bond purchasing program. Company officials said that total purchases are sufficient to pay for a "flying fortress" bomber every month.

At the opening of the flag ceremony, John G. Gallaher, first deputy administrator of the war savings staff, will award a treasury citation to plant officials. The flag will then be presented to the "Victory Girl" by E. G. Kasper, deputy administrator for war bond sales in this district.

PRIVATE WINS PROMOTION TO OFFICER'S RANK

Second Lieut. Allen E. Jones, 20 years old, left Fort Sheridan for Fort Sill, Oklahoma, yesterday after having been promoted from private to a commissioned officer. At Fort Sill Lieut. Jones expects to tell the news to his brother, Robert, a private in the officers' training school there. Robert is three years older than Allen.

Both are the sons of Maj. and Mrs. Walter S. Jones of 2218 North Summit avenue, Milwaukee. The younger son enlisted in the army as a private on July 1, 1941. Previous to that he had spent three summers at Citizens Military Training camps, had taken a one year army extension course and six months, intensive study at the West Point Prep school at Fort Sheridan. He also attended the University of Wisconsin.

Just before his departure for Fort Sill, Lieut. Jones was presented with a collar insignia worn by his father during the last war.

SENATORS VOTE WAR AGAINST 3 BALKAN NATIONS

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—As fast as the roll could be called, the senate voted unanimously today to declare war against Bulgaria, Hungary, and Rumania, satellites of Nazi Germany.

The house had taken similar action yesterday, and all that remains to complete the record is for President Roosevelt to sign the resolutions.

Galleries were packed for the double attraction of congress formally declaring war, however perfunctorily, and the personal appearance of Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippines, who later mounted the rostrum amid an ovation and urged the American people to adopt "still another slogan of war—'Remember the Philippines.'"

"You will always have in mind," he said, "I am sure, that only in the Philippines has your flag been hauled down and replaced by the flag of the rising sun."

Ask Bids to Camouflage Chain of Rocks Bridge

Madison, Ill., June 4 (AP).—In accordance with a war department request, the city council will accept bids for adding a coat of green paint to the Chain of Rocks bridge across the Mississippi river to St. Louis which would make it less visible from the air. Its present red coat makes it an easy target.

MANACO SUSPENDS ELECTIONS.

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, June 4 (AP).—Monaco, the world's smallest sovereign state [370 acres; population, 24,000] has suspended forthcoming elections as "inopportune considering present circumstances." The principality lies on the Mediterranean, enclosed on its other borders by the French department of Alpes maritimes.

PICK CHICAGOAN TO HEAD ARMY INTELLIGENCE

Maj. Gen. George Strong Replaces Gen. Lee.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—Maj. Gen. George V. Strong, native of Chicago, today was named chief of the military intelligence division of the army's general staff, replacing Brig. Gen. Raymond E. Lee, former military attaché at London. Gen. Lee has been assigned to an unannounced mission.

Brig. Gen. Idwal H. Edwards was also made an assistant chief of staff in charge of the organization and training section. Edwards succeeds Maj. Gen. Harold R. Bull, who has been assigned to head the replacement and school command of the army ground forces at Birmingham, Ala. He succeeds Maj. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, who also has been given an undisclosed assignment.

Strong Once Taught Law.

Gen. Strong was born in Chicago, March 14, 1880. He was graduated from West Point in 1904 and was commissioned a second lieutenant of cavalry.

He has served as professor of law at West Point; technical adviser at the 1925 traffic in arms conference, Geneva, Switzerland; technical adviser to the 1926 reduction of armaments conference, Geneva; military adviser to a reduction of armaments conference in 1927; military adviser to the American delegation to preparatory commission for disarmament conferences in 1928, and technical adviser for the disarmament conference at Geneva in 1932.

He has served with the state department and as commander of the 7th corps area, Omaha, Neb. Gen. Strong was awarded the distinguished service medal for World war service.

Edwards a Flyer.

Gen. Edwards was born in Freedom, N. Y., April 5, 1895, and was commissioned a second lieutenant of infantry in 1917 after graduation from the first officers' training camp at Madison barracks, N. Y. He became a pilot in 1918 and has continued to serve in the air corps, being rated as a command pilot and combat observer.

Gen. Edwards has served at various posts in this country and at Fort Mills, Philippine Islands, and Luke field, Hawaii. He was graduated from the command and general staff school, Fort Leavenworth, Kas., in 1935 and the army war college in June, 1938, and was assigned to the organization and training division [G-3], war department general staff.

BIDDLE DENIES PLEA TO HEAR BRIDGES APPEAL

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Attorney General Francis Biddle denied without comment today a request that he personally hear arguments in the case of Harry R. Bridges, west coast CIO leader who has been ordered deported to his native Australia because of alleged Communist affiliations.

Mrs. Carol King, one of Bridges' attorneys, made the request Monday in a petition charging Biddle with irrational reasoning in his opinion upholding the examiner who presided at a 10 week hearing in San Francisco last spring.

WOULD-BE WAAC WOMEN CHANGE MIND—OF ARMY

Rush Forces Shift in Examination Plan.

BY MARCIA WINN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—The rush of women to enlist as candidates for the Women's Army auxiliary corps officer training camp has been so phenomenal that the war department today was compelled to revise its plans for physical examinations.

Enlistments end today, and under the original plan each recruit would have received a physical examination during the next week. This plan was devised when some one, abysmally untutored in feminine psychology, thought only a few women would want to be officers.

5,200 in 6th Corps Area.

The first four days of recruiting brought 5,200 enrollees to the 6th corps area alone, that area including Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin. The 2d corps area, which includes New York City, produced more than 8,000.

To give physical examinations to all of these would overtax facilities of the office of the surgeon general, the war department now says.

Only 500 women from each of the nine corps areas will receive physical examinations under the revised procedure. The weeding out will proceed in this fashion:

Women whose applications are not in order will be discarded first.

All the residue will be given a mental alertness or intelligence test. The 500 receiving the highest ratings in the test and in a subsequent personal interview will receive physical examinations.

Those of the 500 who pass the intensive physical examination will be given a second personal interview. Between 30 and 40 from each corps area finally will reach Fort Des Moines, Ia., where the first officer candidate school will open July 15.

Others Are "Just Out."

"What about those with high ratings who just missed being selected as officer candidates?" a spokesman for the WAAC was asked.

"They're just out," was the reply.

RUSH TO FILE IN CHICAGO.

A steady flow of applications for the first officers' training school of the Women's Army auxiliary corps was received yesterday at the Chicago recruiting station, 515 South Franklin street, as women rushed to file their blanks and credentials ahead of the 9 o'clock deadline last night.

NAVY WILL EASE PILOTS' TENSION IN RICH RESORTS

Plans Move in Attempt to Cut Hospitalizations.

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—The navy is so worried over the nervous strain the war is inflicting on its pilots that it is about to embark upon a recuperation program it hopes will keep its fighting men out of hospitals.

Approximately $1,800,000 for this purpose was voted yesterday by the house in a naval appropriation measure now before the senate.

It will be used, the appropriations committee was told by Commander J. L. Reynolds, to provide comfortable places of relaxation, such as the Royal Hawaiian hotel in Hawaii, for navy personnel "showing nervous strain and breaking down."

Find Lag in Coördination.

Reynolds said commanders afloat have found that personnel assigned to aircraft, submarines, and destroyers have been working under "tremendous pressure" and are "decreasing in their powers of coördination."

Purpose of the rehabilitation centers, he explained, is to provide quiet rest to prevent flyers being hospitalized.

Six recuperation centers are under consideration, Reynolds said. Present plans are for the navy to rent resorts or hotels, with the regular management continuing to operate them.

Rent Hawaiian Hotel.

The navy already has contracted for use of the Royal Hawaiian hotel for $17,500 per month. Enlisted men are operating the hotel. A daily average of approximately 300 navy men are recuperating at that center, Reynolds told the committee.

2 Die in Army Training Field's First Fatal Crash

Phoenix, Ariz., June 4 (AP).—The first fatal crash in the six months Williams field has been an air corps advanced training base brought death last night to John C. Eustice, 23 years old, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Irving C. Frank, 24, Brooklyn, N. Y. Their twin engine training plane crashed and burned on the desert four and one half miles northeast of the field. They were on a routine training flight.

Mother Gives Blood

Nurse Elsie Gray (right) examining Mrs. Blanche Cullen before latter donated blood yesterday.

A Chicago mother whose soldier son underwent the bombing by the Japanese air raiders at Dutch Harbor on Wednesday, gave her answer yesterday—not with tears of worry—but with blood. She is Mrs. Blanche Cullen, 8208 Avalon avenue.

She reported at the Red Cross blood bank, 624 South Michigan avenue, while still awaiting news as to whether her son, Corp. John Cullen Jr., had been injured in the attack. She said that naturally she and her husband were upset by the attack, but that they felt they had to carry on their work at home, too—which was why she kept her appointment for a blood donation. Corp. Cullen entered the army last November, and arrived in Alaska in January. He is 27 years old.

Another Chicagoan at Dutch Harbor is Ensign Oliver C. Ortman of the naval air service. He entered the service in December, 1940, trained at Pensacola, Fla., and was assigned to Alaska only 11 days ago, according to his mother, Mrs. John C. Hines, 6629 North Ramona avenue, Lincolnwood. Ensign Ortman, grandson of the O. G. Ortmans of Evanston, will be 24 June 13. His father died when he was a child.

Railway Displays Service Flag in Honor of Employes

A huge service flag bearing 839 stars was put on display in the Chicago and North Western railway station yesterday in honor of the railway's employés now in the armed forces. Since the flag was ordered the number in service has risen to more than 1,000. R. L. Williams, chief executive officer of the company, spoke at the dedication ceremonies, which took place in the main waiting room of the station.

CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE

SQUABBLE OVER GAS RATION GOES TO F. D. R. TODAY

Selection of 'Czar' May Decide Date, Amount.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—The controversy over the proposed nationwide gasoline rationing program will be tossed into President Roosevelt's lap tomorrow by various government agencies who are seeking a decision.

The first question for the chief executive to settle is whether the tire conservation measure shall be under the jurisdiction of Price Administrator Leon Henderson or under Joseph B. Eastman, chief of the Office of Defense Transportation.

Key to Amount and Date.

The answer may determine whether the basic fuel allotment for ordinary motorists shall be slightly less than four gallons a week, the tentative figure that Henderson is using, or some other figure that Eastman might invoke.

The relation of Henderson and Eastman to the proposed rationing plan may also determine the effective date. Henderson has reported that he is ready to invoke the program about July 15. Eastman wants more time to prepare a schedule of graduated allowances for various types of users, and probably favors some effective date after Aug. 1. In the interim, Eastman would intensify his educational efforts toward voluntary tire conservation — efforts that have not been conspicuously successful to date.

Political Question Involved.

A political question facing the President is whether he should take the lead in selling the public on the necessity of the unpopular regulation. The OPA and the War Production Board want such help from him.

Inquiries among the anonymous technicians of ODT, OPA, WPB, the war department, and the National Resources board disclosed a unanimous opinion that rubber on the country's 30 million motor vehicles should be conserved and that the most effective reduction in tire usage would be thru control of motor fuel purchases.

The American Automobile association today addressed identical telegrams to Eastman and to Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production board, urging that nationwide rationing be postponed 90 days for further promotion of voluntary reduction in motor car operation.

HARNESS FLAYS OPA PLAN FOR 100,000 SNOOPERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—Price Administrator Leon Henderson was accused in the house today of planning to send "100,000 federal snoopers and Gestapo agents" into the 48 states to spy on American business men.

Rep. Forest A. Harness [R., Ind.] made the charge in connection with the plan of the OPA to send 100,000 persons into the field to manage price restrictions.

"Just why we need 100,000 federal snoopers and Gestapo agents," he told members, "to ride herd on American shopkeepers and merchants, is a little hard for me to understand.

"Small business and small industry are America. Nine out of 10 enterprises are small by any definition. Small enterprise is so completely and intimately woven into our economic and social pattern that it is foolish to hope that we can successfully conduct a war and achieve an effective peace without it.

"The temporary passing of the automobile industry already has taken a terrible toll of American small business. An arbitrary plan of gasoline rationing now will undoubtedly destroy many thousands more of these small business operators."

RATION BOARDS TOLD TO TIGHTEN UP ON GAS USERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—Local rationing boards in the 17 eastern states and the District of Columbia included in the current temporary gasoline rationing area were directed today by Price Administrator Leon Henderson to summon before them persons suspected of holding ration cards calling for more motor fuel than their rightful allowances.

Refusal to respond to a summons, said the announcement, will be recorded by the local board and the offenders will be barred from getting any gas rationing cards issued by OPA in the future. Present cards expire on July 1, altho they may be extended until July 15, when a permanent ration order is expected to become effective.

The OPA also announced that Atlantic seaboard motorists applying for supplemental gas allowances under the forthcoming permanent ration plan will be required to show that they are members of a car sharing or pooling group driving to and from work.

CAB COMPANIES WILL REPORT ON RUBBER SAVING

The Checker and Yellow Cab companies are expected to file within a few days reports on their programs to reduce rubber use on their taxicabs, Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago metropolitan area director for the Office of Price Administration, said yesterday. Officials of the companies conferred with Mulcahey a month ago on ways of reducing mileage by cutting or eliminating cruising and other "dead mileage." The Yellow cabs cover about 5 million miles a month, and the Checker cabs about 3½ million miles. The OPA tire rationing rules require the companies to prove tires were used with prudent care before a certificate for recapping may be issued.

SENATE SUPPORT GROWS TO RELAX GASOLINE RATION

Demand Enough Rubber to Make 30 Million Tires.

rubber situation," pointing out that the various agencies and officials concerned with rubber constantly are issuing conflicting statements.

"The public does not know the facts," he said.

Sen. Robert M. La Follette [Prog., Wis.] told the senate that in the middle west the petroleum industry, in order to refine fuel oil for war industries, must produce gasoline.

"If they cannot sell that gasoline thru the usual outlets, it will be wasted," he said. "We cannot expect people to accept a rationing order in good grace when they know that the rationed article is being dumped into the sewers or burned."

More Plants Building.

Sen. Ellender added that the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana is constructing plants for the production of synthetic rubber from crude oil, a process which produces gasoline as a by-product. If it cannot be shipped and sold, it will be dumped in the river or burned, he said.

Ellender said that "our whole war and essential civilian economy is dependent upon our motor transportation system, represented by trucks and buses and 30 million passenger cars." Studies made by the Small Business committee, he said, resulted in the conclusion that at least 20 million passenger cars must be kept in operation. This can be done, Ellender said, by using only the 3,500 tons of crude rubber and about 90,000 tons of reclaimed rubber.

The program would require only a fraction of one per cent of the crude rubber stockpile, Ellender continued.

Ellender explained that the tires to be provided by the Small Business committee's bill would contain an average of 6½ pounds of reclaimed rubber and 2 ounces of crude rubber—just enough to make the "camelback" retreads or recaps stick. Manufacturers and retreaders have told the committee, he said, that such tires are good for 5,000 to 8,000 miles at speeds up to 40 miles an hour.

Under the Ellender bill, each person buying a retreaded or recapped tire would have to turn in an old one. From one old tire, enough rubber can be reclaimed to recap two tires, he said.

Would Raise Scrap Prices.

Sen. Johnson, in urging an investigation of the scrap rubber situation, said that official estimates and guesses as to the total amount available had ranged all the way from 500,000 to 10 million tons. A good way to bring it out of hiding, he said, would be to raise the scrap rubber ceiling price, fixed by Henderson at $18 a ton, to $100 a ton. The additional cost of an automobile tire would be only 40 cents, he said.

"Some one needs to build a hot fire under the burocrats who are mishandling the scrap rubber situation," he added. . . . "Let the burocrats stop issuing orders merely to let the people know there is a powerful government in Washington as well as in Berlin and Kuibeshev. . . . We must have burocrats to direct this stupendous war effort, but there is one thing congress must tell them: 'You can lead the American people anywhere, but you cannot drive them one damned inch.'"

U. S. TO PAY $25 TON FOR CAR LOTS TO GET MORE SCRAP RUBBER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones announced today that, in order to stimulate the collection of scrap rubber for reclaiming, Rubber Reserve company will buy scrap rubber in carload lots anywhere in the United States at $25 per ton for "run of the mine" scrap and worn out tires.

The scrap will be made available to reclaimers as needed. The program for collecting the rubber is being formulated by Rubber Reserve company, WPB, and OPA.

"The increased price is intended to provide small collectors thruout the country with a financial as well as patriotic incentive for putting forth greater efforts in the collection of scrap rubber, which is badly needed," said Jones.

Details of the program will be announced within a few days, he added.

NEW ARTIFICIAL RUBBER CALLED HOPE FOR TIRES

ing the pellets which gives them a spongelike appearance. This material is then compressed into slabs and is ready to go to rubber plants where it is processed like natural rubber. Advantages claimed for thiokol are resistance to heat, abrasion, and petroleum and chemicals. It has a high degree of resilience. It looks and feels like rubber. Exposure to the sun does not affect it.

Use Real Rubber Machinery.

On the adverse side it has a tendency to lose its resiliency at low degrees of temperature. However, even here, it is possible to lessen the effect thru control of the materials used.

Dr. Dow says that thiokol can be processed by the same machinery used in the processing natural rubber —which is a big advantage.

It is estimated that tires retreaded with thiokol will have a life of at least 5,000 miles if driven at speeds ranging 30 to 40 miles an hour. Actually, it is likely that the life of retread tires treated carefully by the automobile driver will be considerably greater than 5,000 miles. The cost approximates that of victory retread rubber made of reclaimed rubber.

WE'RE GOING BACK TO BATAAN!

DUTCH HARBOR.

All that can be judged of the first raids on Dutch Harbor is that the Japanese did not appear in sufficient force to disclose their real intentions in that area. The raid may have been a publicity stunt designed to appease a Japanese public whose confidence undoubtedly was badly shaken by Gen. Doolittle's attack on Tokio. The purpose may have been reconnaissance to determine what offense forces the United States is massing in that quarter, or it may have been a strategic diversion intended to influence our command to withdraw forces from other areas and dispatch them to Alaska. The attack on Midway Island would indicate that one of the two raids was a feint.

Another possibility is that the Dutch Harbor raid was the prelude to a serious attempt to seize the Aleutian Islands and perhaps to strike at continental installations on the Alaska mainland.

Certainly the administration cannot have been unaware of the strategic importance of Alaska. The Japanese do not underestimate its value. As a potential and perhaps by now an actual fleet base, Dutch Harbor has long given them the jitters. It is much closer to their home ports than Hawaii. They have undoubtedly speculated, whether correctly or not, that the Shangri-la from which Gen. Doolittle's bombers were launched may have been some spot in the foggy Aleutian chain that reaches down toward Japan.

Second only to Hawaii, the Aleutians are the outpost we must hold if we expect to strike directly at the centers of Japanese power. This is so evident that it is to be assumed that the administration, in dispatching expeditionary forces to so many points of lesser importance, has first seen to it that Alaska and its outposts are proof against any attack.

NOTE ON PREJUDICE.

There was a spontaneous strike the other day in the Dodge truck plant in Detroit. The automobile workers' union sent 20 of its Negro members to the factory under the terms of the agreement worked out at the time the motor plants were shifted to war work. The Negroes, entitled to jobs under the seniority rules, were put to work. Several hundred white employés, members of the same union, protested and after lunch refused to return to their machines. Accordingly the entire factory, with more than 3,000 employés, was forced to close.

The spokesman for the union says the strike was in violation of the union's by-laws as well as the principles of the American Constitution, and he properly insists that the Negroes be accepted. Evidently the leaders of the union recognize that it is they, and not the handful of Negroes, who are on the spot. If the officers of the union cannot keep faith in this matter, nothing remains of the boast that unions are the school of democracy, or of the other boast that union discipline is a guarantee of industrial peace.

There is a widespread but erroneous belief in this country that prejudice is to be found chiefly among the prosperous, the successful, the socially elect. The notion has been fostered by radical and revolutionary leaders who use it to win support from the victims of prejudice. In truth, some individuals in all classes are intolerant. Working men caused the trouble in the Dodge plant. A few weeks ago lower middle class people were responsible for the anti-Negro demonstrations at the Sojourner Truth housing project in the same community. Very seldom is the town banker, its leading lawyer, physician, or business man found among the ringleaders at a lynching. Many citizens, prominent for wealth and social position, fought the Ku Klux Klan, and mighty few such men were members of it. In this connection it is well to remember that Hitler's strength when he was rising to power was recruited largely from among the lower middle classes.

This is not to say that prejudice is found only among the less successful members of the community, but it is to say that no economic or social class can claim to be simon-pure in this particular. Those who wish to extirpate prejudice and persecution cannot confine their attentions to any one section of society.

JUSTICE SHAW.

Friends of Justice Elwyn R. Shaw, who was defeated for reëlection to the Illinois Supreme court on Monday, are urging upon Sen. Lucas his appointment to fill the vacancy in the United States District court caused by the recent death of Judge Charles E. Woodward. If the appointment is to go to a downstate man, Justice Shaw deserves nonpartisan support for the position. He proved himself a capable jurist on the state's highest court. He would add prestige to the federal bench in Chicago.

THE FLORIDA CANAL.

The refusal of congress to sanction the Florida ship canal was not as clear cut as it might have been, inasmuch as part of the votes against it were cast by proponents of the equally obnoxious St. Lawrence project who hoped by stopping the barge canal temporarily to maneuver its backers into supporting their pet treasury raid. Thus the battle may have to be fought over again. But congress, nevertheless, has dealt an effective blow to the doctrinaires and pork barrelers who seek to divert war energies to their schemes for waste of national resources.

The Florida ship canal was repeatedly repudiated by congress after it had been rejected as an uneconomic project by every competent authority. The barge canal was, by the admission of Sen. Pepper, just a means of starting the ship canal in the guise of the war emergency. It would take 18 months or more to dig the canal, the purpose of which ostensibly would be to tranship oil across Florida and save tankers and the trip around the peninsula thru submarine infested waters. The excuse makes sense only if it is assumed that the navy department will make no more headway against the submarine menace in the next 18 months than it has in the last five.

The American people, while they may lack information on technical details, have a clear idea of what on a broad scale helps the war effort and what merely dissipates the energy which enthusiasm for that effort has generated in the country. The efforts of the administration and its pork barrel supporters in congress to deceive them on this point are doomed to failure, as they failed in the case of the Florida canal.

THE LOSS OF A CONVOY.

Two months ago, on April 8, the Associated Press quoted Japanese broadcasts as follows: "Scores of united nations' vessels have been sunk by Japanese naval and air units since Sunday in the Indian ocean and during an assault against Colombo, Ceylon."

The next day the admiralty in London announced the loss of the cruisers Dorsetshire and Cornwall under aerial attack in the Indian ocean and on the following day the loss of the aircraft carrier Hermes. Tokio was claiming heavy destruction of merchant shipping, but no confirmation came from Washington.

In spite of the official silence, it became known in this office, and no doubt in the offices of other well informed American newspapers, that the Japanese had destroyed a big convoy in or near the Bay of Bengal early in April, but only on June 3—two months after the event—was the news finally released for publication by the censor. It had been kept bottled up all that time for reasons which have not been explained. When the news did come out it was not in an official communique but in the form of an interview with the master of one of the merchantmen, Capt. Ragnar Eklund, who has returned to Norfolk, Va. Capt. Eklund said he saw six ships go down under cruiser fire in the Bay of Bengal on April 6. He was near the scene of a seventh sinking and knew of 18 or 20 ships which had been destroyed about the same time. "They cleaned up every ship in the Bay of Bengal," the skipper reported.

This news was kept from the American people [and perhaps from the British people as well] by a censorship which is supposed to be concerned with preventing the enemy from acquiring military information of value to him. In this instance the record shows that the enemy had the information. The Japanese had broadcast it.

It is the duty of congress to discover why and at whose order the bad news was suppressed. Did some one in Washington suppose that the American people were so lacking in resolution that they could not be trusted with the truth? Could any one in a position of responsibility have been so childish as to think that any good purpose could be served by suppression?

The damage which can result from this kind of thing is beyond calculation. Such incidents tend to shake the confidence of the people in their own government's candor and truthfulness. If the time ever comes when the American people have lost faith in the integrity of our official communiques, American morale will be exceedingly difficult to maintain, and the fault will lie with an administration which chose not to deal honestly with the people.

Other unfortunate consequences can be foreseen. Somebody failed to provide adequate protection for those ships. He should have been held accountable for his dereliction and prevented from ever again finding himself in a position of great responsibility. The suppression of the news protects the man or men responsible and accordingly invites the repetition of the disaster.

Even if it is found that the duty of safeguarding the convoy devolved upon the British, our naval burocracy cannot escape a share of the blame. After Hongkong, Malaya, and Singapore, Washington should have known that the British have been steadily overestimating their strength and underestimating the enemy in the orient. Before sending a merchant ship into those waters our government should have asked specific assurance that adequate measures of protection were being taken. We should have been told exactly what was being done to safeguard ships and their crews from attack. If our government failed to raise these questions it bears a heavy share of the blame for the losses. Perhaps that is why the news of the disaster was suppressed for two months.

The house ways and means committee is prepared to correct the ancient injustice which compels a man to pay alimony to his divorced wife but does not permit him to deduct the payments from the income he must report for tax purposes, to claim exemption as the head of a family, or even to claim allowance for a dependent.

From now on, the committee proposes, alimony payments are to be charged off the tax return of the husband and charged to the reportable income of the ex-wife. This should have been done long ago. The only explanation why it was not is perhaps that when the income tax originally became effective women had not yet received the suffrage and a social stigma still attached to divorce. The congress may have felt that a divorced woman would have a hard time getting herself another man, and that she should be given all consideration and protection in a cold world.

Since then, altho no one will commend the trend, divorce has become much more common, the alimony gold digger has become a familiar phenomenon, and the public has noted with distaste that some ex-wives insist on prompt payment and send their husbands to jail if the money isn't forthcoming. At the same time, women have made long strides toward economic equality.

The revision of the rules governing alimony is not only an act of fairness but should encourage prompt and more cheerful payment. Divorced husbands who feel that they are not being forced to pay thru both nostrils should kick in more willingly.

KNIGHTLY FEATS, MODERN STYLE.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Parachutists, aviators, submarine captains, commando raiders—these are the sort of fighting men who have assumed an almost disproportionate importance in modern warfare. There has been at least a partial return to the days of knightly derring-do. And that is the sort of fighting at which Americans have always excelled.

Our boys have the imagination and the dash for such exploits. We have used conventional tactics, of course, but long before Braddock marched his regulars against the Indians in close formation we had become devotees of the Indians' own fighting methods. So it is little wonder that the most dashing exploit of the war so far was an American show—the Doolittle raid on the cities of Japan.

Harry Bridges has been deported again but he isn't going right away. He is appealing to the Supreme court. Strange how some persons love the company that shuns them.—Illinois State Journal.

AMONG THE TOTEM POLES.

Alaska, the dark horse in This War's news, is one of those places, like Cologne, that have put common nouns into the dictionary. Only experts in the textile industries know, however, that alaska is a mixed yarn of long-staple cotton and carded wool. . . . And then among the gourmets there is the dessert called baked alaska—an eccentricity of the ice cream repertory that the dictionary ignores.

* * *

The strong Russian flavor in Alaskan history obscures the fact that the first explorer there was a Dane, altho he sailed under the Russian flag. Vitus Bering was of viking blood and birth.

* * *

An arm-chair journey to Alaska with Burton Holmes last winter taught us that even in the far north there are literary shrines. Shacks alleged to have been occupied by Jack London and Rex Beach, in the gold-rush period, are among the tourist objectives. On the Canadian side, in the Klondike district, the habitation in which Robert W. Service bunked is carefully preserved.

* * *

The influence of Chicago is represented on the map of Alaska. A town and a mountain named Kennicott perpetuate the memory of a young scientist whose kin still flourish around here, especially in the vicinity of Des Plaines. The founder of this family, old Dr. Kennicott, has left valuable contributions to the early history of Illinois.

* * *

Well, that's all we can think of about Alaska without invading the encyclopedias. We might add, however, that Ketchikan, the salmon-canning port, seems to have been named with an eye on the Academy of Immortal Monikers.

THE FAR IS NEAR.

We strain our eyes today beyond the glare
Of headlines shrieking death and misery,
Seeking to glimpse some far horizon where Goodness and gentleness shall once more be Enthroned. Perhaps we seek too far. The sight
We long for may be near at hand. Today,
Across a building court, I saw a light
Of green and rose that flooded all the gray
With sudden beauty. Half way up a tall
Skyscraper, in a window box, there gleam
Scarlet geraniums! Theirs is the call
Of light thru darkness, theirs the glowing dream
That wakens sudden smiles in strangers' faces . . .
When beauty flowers in unexpected places!

The Duke Reports on Book Sales.

Linemaster: Well tha returns are coming in fast and everything is clicking fine. Fer instance I wanted to buy a adding machine to count up tha bucks and they tole me ya cant get one till the war is over. Then my friend Freddie Mudge who lives way out in tha sticks calls up a Chicago dept. store and they tell him there's no delivery on packages small enough to carry and he says, "Skip it, it aint important." Then comes Norton the druggist with a deal to trade me a bottle of bay rum fer one of my books. This is out of tha question on account of my ulcers.

Dad Boas, tha printer, mails a check and my 3 kids made a grab fer it on account they lost all their rubber balls. Percy Jacobs the stove maggot sent 3 bucks fer 2 copies and asked me to mail them to anybody but him. Noble Gillette whose got bucks to my nickels sends a down payment of 35c. Doc Kenny tha dentist mails 3 half dollars [talk about an eye for bizness]. Tha mama broke a molar biting into them.

Pat Gallagher says he'd take a cupple and to deduct tha amount on tha 10 spot I borrowed in 1938. If that aint a dirty cheap trick I'm nutz. My good friend John Swigart says if he can arrange a loan at tha bank he will take 10 copies—which reminds me that if I could of arranged a bank loan I woodn' of had to write tha darn thing.

Tha Buckie Van Vlaack Paper Co. said they wood split a copy between them providing I didn' autograph it. Stobbie's gang mailed one of their printed "So sorry, but" announcements. Bradner's bunch came through with flying colors ordering a 1/12 dozen, but they wanted to know if quantity discount applied. George Krisinger got mad on me just before tha book came out. I think there was method in his madness.

Ennyway I got so many promises from guys that there aint a chance of me not cleaning up a small fortune of about 85 to a 100 smackers, and tha mama agreed with me and she is very happy and thinks I am not only a great author but also a very very great optimist. She's tha darndest one to try and use big words, but I didn't correct her.

NASAL AIRWAYS—OUTPOSTS OF HEALTH.

Few of us realize that we take in myriads of organisms with every breath. The reason we do not become ill is explained on the basis of good health and resistance. Furthermore, millions of "bugs" are washed away long before they have a chance to play their evil rôles. After all, life is a struggle for survival between the forces of disease and essential body strength.

We can save our tissues thousands of battles if we will. For example, the nasal passages are our best strainers. In a dusty atmosphere the normal healthy mucous surface will remove microbes and other irritating particles to the point where the air is fit to enter the lungs. Permit the structures to become inflamed or blocked to such an extent that mouth breathing ensues, and we will surrender one of our most important health outposts. Not only does the apparatus warm and filter the atmosphere, but it supplies sufficient moisture so that the drying effect will not crack the delicate lining.

An excessive discharge points clearly to irritation. If it is watery, we know that the membrane is congested, red, and swollen. If it is puslike, the chances are that at least one of the sinuses is harboring ample infection to constitute an abscess. Purulent material dripping down the back of the throat will set up enough trouble to give rise to the raw, sore feeling which is observed each morning, but which may wear off gradually during the day.

But for the one who exhibits a chronic "catarrh," home treatment will not suffice. A skilled physician will be called for—one who can spot the organisms involved and who will be able, if necessary, to provide adequate drainage so that nature will step in with healing power. Occasionally, deformities within the nose will need to be corrected not only to furnish enough space for breathing but to prevent damming back of the excretions.

None of us has any business to depend upon cloth handkerchiefs. Soft paper tissues which can be burned are more sanitary.

If tonsils are moderately enlarged but healthy, they may well be let alone. If, on the other hand, pus can be squeezed from the crypts, we are harboring a dangerous situation. Common sense tells us that fewer sore throats will follow if mild gargling is practiced. There are a number of suitable preparations on the market or a reasonably effective solution may be made with a quarter teaspoonful of common salt added to two-thirds of a glass of water.

As every one knows, there is a close connection between what goes on in the nose and mouth, and the behavior of the bronchial tubes. Bacteria well established in the upper pharynx may creep downward slowly and, in time, may involve the bronchial tree—even the lungs. All of which means that if we can stop germs at their source we will prevent many an illness.

DIET-NAILS.

A. F. writes: Is the absence of certain vitamins responsible for nail biting?

REPLY.

Vitamin deficiencies have been blamed for almost everything from falling hair to housemaid's knee. While many disorders will yield to a well balanced diet, chewing the nails—a nervous habit—requires the elements w. p. [will power], s. c. [self-control], and p. [poise].

Weak nerves can be strengthened by padding them with fat, which means more nutriment.

HUBBY'S NECK.

Mrs. C. writes: My husband's neck is very thin. Is there any way in which it can be made fuller?

REPLY.

Make certain that his general health is O. K. Loss of weight may show itself first of all in the neck region. Three squares daily, exercise, and massage will help.

GAS RATIONING.

Glenview, Ill., June 3.—Burocratic authority rests its claim for gasoline rationing in areas where the fuel is abundant upon the need for conserving tires. This proposal for arbitrary regimentation of travel comes from men who find it easier to issue the dictatorial "no" than to think thru a constructive program. If it is inaugurated without sounder planning than has yet been evident, nearly 20,000,000 Americans will suffer from one more tragic example of boon-bungling.

A very large number of motorists have responded to the call for coöperation in conserving tires and gasoline. Yet they are threatened with the most drastic of restrictions, mainly because another large number of drivers are spendthrift of tires and fuel.

The wartime maximum speed of 40 miles an hour is flagrantly disregarded. Traffic to and from factory districts demonstrates that many defense plant workers consider themselves a privileged class. Delivery truck drivers still hurry furiously to get thru work at quitting time. Motorists on petty personal errands rush to save meaningless minutes. These are the drivers who should be restricted; they are drivers America can do without.

Problems of both conservation and traffic safety can be solved, conscientious drivers protected and reckless ones penalized, by a plan that is at least as simple as any that can be devised for arbitrary rationing, and probably easier to administer fairly.

Require every purchaser of gasoline to exhibit his car's certificate of registration and to sign a receipt book at the filling station as often as he buys fuel.

Make it mandatory for the courts [or rationing authority] to indorse on the registration certificate of every traffic violator a notation to the effect that no gasoline can be purchased for that vehicle for the duration of the war.

Indorse a no gasoline restriction on the registration card of any motorist who gives or sells fuel purchased for his own car, to be used in a restricted vehicle.

Establish an observation corps of responsible civilians with accident free motoring records to supplement inadequate police, with authority to file sworn reports of such violations as they personally witness.

No law is evasion proof, but this one would enlist the ready support of all honorable motorists because of their awareness that their own freedom of movement depends upon its faithful enforcement. JOHN GOULD CURTIS.

JOBS FOR MEN OVER 50.

Chicago, June 1.—The situation that confronts unemployed men over 50 years of age is worse now than it was in the depression days of 1933. At that time living costs were much lower and one could always get a job on WPA. Now that WPA is being curtailed and an ever increasing number of women are being employed, men in this age category are being harassed beyond endurance. There are thousands of idle men in their early 50s who are well educated, intelligent, and qualified to pass examinations for civil service appointments, but even in this field of service we are ineligible on account of age requirements. Would it be too much to ask the civil service commissioners to extend the age limits during the emergency and give these luckless men an opportunity to compete for the numerous government positions now open? In making these two trips each I only average 32 miles in Chicago. In doing this I have to drive up 95th street to Ewing avenue and Ewing avenue from 95th to 101st street is the worst street I have driven on. I have broken five springs in one year on this street and these springs were broken when I was driving about 10 miles an hour.

Chicago, June 1.—In the "Germanic Folk of Chicagoland" article by Arthur Evans, a very important group's mention was left out. I mean the Turners, now known as "American Turners," who have an illustrious past, dating from before the Civil war. Over a dozen large buildings are being used in this work to keep the body fit thru gymnastics. This German group was the first and one of the very few which openly came out against Hitler's Nazism. At their convention in Detroit four years ago they changed their name, American Turner bund, by voting to leave off the "bund." This was done out of protest to the then active Nazi bund in the United States.

MARINE CORPS OPENS RANKS TO NEGRO RECRUITS

200 Volunteers in Chicago Area Authorized.

Negroes now are eligible for general duty in the marine corps, it was announced yesterday by Lieut. Col. Chester L. Fordney, chief recruiting officer for the Chicago area. Col. Fordney has been authorized to enlist 200 Negroes in this area as part of the 1,000 in the nation.

The announcement emphasized that every Negro will receive a chance to try for a specialist's or noncommissioned officer's rating. Under regular marine corps regulations, an applicant must be between 17 and 30 years old, be unmarried or have an affidavit from his wife that the enlistment will not throw her on relief, and pass the physical examination.

Will Use New Base.

Col. Fordney said the Negroes will be trained at the marines' new overseas operation training base at New River, N. C. The battalion will be commanded by specially selected white commissioned officers, but the noncommissioned ranks will be open to colored enlistees after they have completed training.

Col. Fordney already has interviewed 100 Chicago Negroes, but none has been chosen for enlistment yet.

Modification of requirements for the navy's V-7 course, which permits the enlistment of college men who are married, has brought an increased flood of applications from this area, according to 9th naval district headquarters. Heretofore married college students were not eligible to apply for entry into the midshipmen's school.

Only to Enlisted Men.

Under the new program, however, midshipman training under V-7 will be available only to men enlisting in V-1 or other enlisted men in the navy. The V-1 program provides that college men may continue their studies until they graduate but must take special naval courses meanwhile. Recruiting stations in the 9th district have been authorized to enroll 10,000 additional college juniors, seniors and graduates for this reserve midshipmen's training.

Fourteen men were enlisted in the maritime service yesterday. Among them were two former RAF members who were released from pilot training in England to serve under the American flag. They are Thomas Cosbiel of Waukesha, Wis., and Allen J. Rhane of Jasper, Tex.

CLIP AND PASTE ON DASHBOARD OF YOUR BUGGY

The Anti-Cruelty society, which seems to have known right along that the automobile was only a passing fancy, dug thru its "What Every Horse Owner Should Know" file yesterday and came up with this rule under the heading of "Rationing":

When your horse has a double holiday in which its only work is swatting flies with its tail, cut its grain ration in half. And when your horse gets thirsty while he's roaming the streets drive to one of the nine outdoor iron bathtubs which the society has maintained for years for just such an event. They are called horse troughs, in case you've forgotten, and they may be found at the following points:

Broadway and Clarendon avenue, 14th place and Morgan street, 157 West Grand avenue, Kinzie and Canal streets, 22d street and Ashland avenue, 24th street and Archer avenue, Oakwood boulevard and Cottage Grove avenue, Lake Park avenue and East 43d street, and at 3347 South State street.

1 DAY SITDOWN IN WAR PLANT AT MUSKEGON ENDS

Muskegon, Mich., June 4 [Special].—Noel P. Fox, a member of the state labor mediation board, tonight announced settlement of a dispute that resulted in more than 1,200 employés of the Sealed Power corporation stopping work today. The employés, who remained in the plant but would not work, halted production of pistons and piston rings being made for many army and navy engines.

No details of the settlement were disclosed, but Fox said an adjustment of the issues in dispute had been made and that the employés would return to work tomorrow morning.

The workers, who voted recently to transfer their union from the AFL to the CIO branch of the United Automobile Workers' union, said their work stoppage was in protest against the company's inauguration of system of checking time cards and production work. The management said the system was merely a cost accounting study.

PUPILS DISPLAY SHORTER SKIRTS AT STYLE SHOW

Academy Exhibit to Be Repeated Twice.

Garment restrictions and priorities proved inspirational for dress design students of the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, 18 South Michigan avenue, who paraded their own creations in a style show at the academy last night. Shorter skirts, zipper substitutes, and nonessential materials were featured in the display. The show, part of the 36th annual student exhibition at the academy, will be presented again tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Even beach robes are abbreviated this year, as Lenna M. Brown and Nancy Churchill demonstrated. Lenna modeled a short yellow terry cloth robe with modified full skirt and Nancy showed a pale blue terry cloth style piped in darker blue. Beth Evans gave a new twist to shorter styles with a blue challis cocktail dress, caught daringly high in front and swooping to midcalf length in the back.

Jumpers Do Double Duty.

Double duty jumpers, made smart for almost any occasion by a change of accessories, seemed a "pet" idea with the young designers. Judith Berland chose white wale piqué for her jumper, while Marilynn Friedman combined blue percale with a gay powder puff print.

Surplice styles, tying softly at one side, eliminate zippers. Clarissa Brown's pink rayon faille crêpe combined the long torso lines with a surplice fastening. Choosing cocoa corduroy for a soft surplice coat, Kay Twenhafel economized on two items—a cotton fabric instead of needed wool and a simple fastening instead of one using metals.

Trick trimmings of plastic buttons and appliqué replaced metallic pins. Button blossoms twined up the yellow and green three piece suit modeled by Rochelle Bienenfeld and Bunny Hood tacked yellow curtain fringe around the hem of her Guatemalan print dirndl.

Stitches Almost Invisible.

Taking almost invisible stitches, Ruth Taylor appliqued clusters of gay print flowers on a white piqué dress and matching hat. Regina Showalter embroidered flowers on the skirt of another white pique dress. A two piece blue chambray play suit designed by Margaret J. Basinger struck a farm note with its red bandanna trim.

For pure practicality a five piece suit like that designed and made by Louise Herman couldn't be topped. Louise included a suit coat and skirt, a topcoat, slacks, and a vest in her olive green "wardrobe ensemble."

Romantic enough for a midshipmen's ball but material saving as well was the white organdy formal designed by Virginia Thulstrup. Black ribbon bordered its dainty drop shouldered bodice and the skirt swung just full enough for waltzing.

DUCHESS OF WINDSOR IS PLANNING ANOTHER VISIT TO WASHINGTON

Baltimore, Md., June 4 (AP).—The duchess of Windsor said today she plans to return to Washington Saturday unless her physician, Dr. Lay Martin of Baltimore, wishes her to remain here longer.

She has been making daily visits to the doctor's office for a general checkup ever since she arrived from Washington Tuesday. The duchess said routine examinations showed she was in good health.

She has been staying with her uncle, Henry M. Warfield, and Mrs. Warfield at their Timonium, Md., home.

The duchess said she is making no definite plans for her stay in the United States until she learns whether the duke will be able to join her at Washington. He was called back to the Bahama Islands by labor rioting at Nassau.

FURNITURE? IT'S ANTIQUE AT 50 IN WARTIME BRITAIN

Price Fixers Scrap Old 100 Year Minimum.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON [by air mail].—Victorian furniture less than 50 years old is now classed as antique in England as a result of price control orders affecting furniture and second-hand goods which have been drafted by the British Board of Trade. Antique dealers heretofore have insisted on a minimum of one century for furniture so classified, but the board of trade order makes it possible to cut this age limit in half without incorrectly describing the articles.

Under the new orders the maximum prices for new furniture will be those charged on May 1 last. The maximum price to be charged by second-hand dealers will be the "first-hand" price—the price at which similar or comparable goods are being sold now.

Bombing Losses One Factor.

Capt. Charles Waterhouse, parliamentary secretary of the board of trade, announcing the price control to the house of commons, said that millions of pounds worth of furniture had been made useless by bombing and it was feared that prices might go still higher unless the standstill price order were made.

New furniture is now selling at prices three or four times those of a year ago. Even secondhand furniture brings four times the old price. The purchase tax of one-third has little to do with the increases. All kinds of substitutes are now being used for furniture formerly made of solid oak or walnut. New chairs, indeed, may soon have cardboard seats and side boards while wardrobes may have asbestos backs and sides.

Auction sales of price controled goods, except under license, is prohibited by another board of trade order. This is intended to restrict auctions to cases where they serve a useful purpose.

Pawnbrokers Unaffected.

Pawnbrokers can still sell unredeemed pledges every 12 months. Secondhand clothes also can be sold by auction, but auctioneers will have to state on catalogs that purchasers must give up the requisite number of coupons for any garment, except for things sold at prices already fixed, which renders them coupon free.

Every woman loves the cool sleekness of black rayon jersey

$14.95

Nothing cooler to look at nor cooler to wear than a slim little dress of mat black rayon jersey—especially if it has a V-neck to make your throat seem white and slim and lovely. These are just two from our Woman's Dress Shop that can give you poise and charm for the hottest days.

Sheer success dress from our new Budget Dress Shop

$12.95

No wonder it's a success—its sheer simplicity would make you love it; then the cooling, loose sleeves; the fact that its two pieces, with the skirt on a bodice, give you so much for your money. Whopping big buttons like those you find on much higher priced dresses. Black rayon sheer. Sizes 12 to 20.

PRIORITIES BLOCK FENCE AT STATE SCHOOL FOR BOYS

Urge WPB Permit State to Buy Materials.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—The erection of an electric fence at the state school for boys near St. Charles and the construction of buildings for a new boys' penal home at Sheridan, Ill., have been held up by wartime restrictions on civilian uses of materials, it was learned today. Maj. Fred Emich, superintendent of transportation and of the bureau of machinery in Gov. Dwight Green's administration, and his assistant, R. S. Stimson, are in Washington appealing to the war production board for special permission for the state to make these purchases and 237 others that have been disapproved by general curtailment orders.

The petition relates that under present conditions many boy inmates have escaped from the Fox River valley institution and have committed crimes of violence while at large. An argument for the appeal sets up that the improvements are necessary for public safety.

Seek Test Tubes to Lumber.

The other purchases sought by Illinois range from test tubes for laboratories to concrete and lumber for highway construction. One appeal is to allow the department of public welfare to buy a mortuary cooler at Jacksonville State hospital. The petition sets up that the institution lacks facilities for temporary storage of bodies of patients who die there. A building with a basement formerly used for this purpose has been razed.

Also under appeal are requests for the state to buy fire hose for the state armory at Danville and for the naval armory at the foot of Randolph street in Chicago. The petitions declare that without the hose the buildings lack proper fire protection.

In another request, Illinois is asking the government for permission to buy laundry machinery to replace 30 year old equipment in state hospitals. Private stocks of new laundry machinery have been frozen for acquisition by the military. In the petition, it is alleged that the present equipment in Illinois institutions is not only inadequate but also dangerous.

Find the "Right Person."

"We've found that WPB officials are very considerate and coöperative, if you ever find the right person to talk to," said Maj. Emich. "A couple of months ago, we brought 258 of these previously rejected purchase requests to Washington and won about half of the appeals. We asked for 138 highway department trucks and got 57. And we got canning equipment for public welfare institutions to preserve their enlarged 1942 crops.

"Private buyers might learn from our experience that if the article you want to buy has been manufactured, you stand a chance of getting permission to buy it, but if it hasn't been manufactured, you're pretty much out of luck in trying to contract for its manufacture."

SAILORS' DANCING PARTY OPENS ON BLUE NETWORK

New navy programs are springing up all around. Last week W-G-N started two new series to focus attention on the navy recruiting drive. These are "Johnny Goes Aboard," detailing highlights of a navy man's life from the moment he enlists thru his basic training, aired at 8:30 p. m. Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and another, "Bluejackets at Work," aired at 8:30 p. m. Tuesdays. The latter program presents scenes of sailors in action at various stations near Chicago.

Now comes the Blue network with a show titled "The Bluejacket Hop." Music and comedy from these parties to be held in Blue network studios will be broadcast over WLS from 10 to 10:30 a. m. Saturdays, beginning tomorrow. A sailor's uniform is his ticket. Men may bring girls and other dancing partners will be provided. Girls may also come unescorted. The Blue network studios are in the Merchandise Mart.

MBS APPROVES NEW FCC RULES TO END ABUSES

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Fred Weber, general manager of the Mutual Broadcasting system, told the house interstate commerce committee today that "evils and abuses" on the part of the large radio networks made recently promulgated Federal Communications commission regulations "eminently practical and reasonable."

The committee is studying proposed legislation to redefine the powers of the FCC.

The FCC regulation restricting the use of "option time," under which Weber said the NBC and Columbia networks "secure right of way and priority rights over all or most of the best hours of nearly all the best stations in the country," is a center of the dispute over changes in the law.

NBC and CBS have in general approved the pending legislation.

REPORTS $460,865 RAISED BY USO IN CHICAGO DRIVE

Holman D. Pettibone, campaign manager of the United Service Organizations, reported at a luncheon rally in the Palmer House yesterday that $460,865 has been raised toward the Chicago district's quota of $1,749,432.

"This is an excellent showing, and we hope to reach our quota by July 4," Pettibone told 300 volunteer workers of the business division who were present.

James A. Cunningham, chairman of the business group, received reports showing $235,865 of the total so far has been contributed by companies and their employés. The public utilities division topped the list of 54 groupings with $24,816, and mail order houses were second with $23,604. Cunningham said there are 1,250,000 employés in the Chicago area from whom contributions may be sought by the business group. The national USO goal is $32,000,000.

WAR BOND SHOW SLATED AT CITY HALL TOMORROW

The treasury department caravan, with stage and radio performers, will park in front of the city hall, La Salle street side, tomorrow morning to promote the sale of war savings bonds and stamps. The show will be sponsored by the Greater Chicago Hotel association to pay tribute to the hotel industry's coöperation in bond and stamp sales.

Entertainment will be provided between 11 and 1 o'clock, with the last half hour aired over the Mutual Broadcasting system. Among the stars will be Glen Gray and his Casa Loma orchestra; Eddy Duchin, piano player; and Larry Adler, harmonica player.

Sales of war bonds and stamps in the Chicago area yesterday were $7,185,132, bringing the total since May 1, 1941 to $1,030,592,619.

OCD CAN'T SEEM TO SETTLE DOWN; ALL IS CONFUSION

"Castle Built on Sand" Just a Maze.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—In the event there is any public wonder about the matter, the Office of Civilian Defense, which today is responsible for equipping civilian America for war hazards, is the same old OCD it always was.

To equip civilians for air raids and bombings the OCD in February was voted $100,000,000 by congress. At that time it presumably peeled away its outer trappings of emotional frills and fancies and confined itself to the knotty problem of defense. Yet now, months later, it still parallels the Edna St. Vincent Millay quatrain:

> "Safe upon the solid rock
> The ugly houses stand.
> Come and see my shining castle
> Built upon the sand."

Members of congress have charged that the history of the OCD is a story of Alice in Blunderland. The present history is one of dissension, confusion, and press agentry. In the latter capacity it has taken upon itself the strange duty of dramatizing the war in which all America is now engrossed.

Many Changes Were Made.

This dramatization of the war presumably was dropped back in February when the OCD air was thick with slung cats, fur and bitter recriminations, for congressional uproar then precipitated many surface changes. Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, director, departed from the realm in a high Italianate fever, and his assistant, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, followed at a more dignified pace and verbal exchange.

In as director came James M. Landis, a zealous reformer and New Deal "yes" man. Landis was dean of Harvard law school and an unusually versatile educator in that he not only could speak Russian and Japanese, but could sit on a milk bottle with arms and legs outstretched. He announced that the OCD's future rôle would be purely protective.

Congress then settled down, but the OCD did not. Its principal change was to cry "scat!" to a few pseudo sportsmen it had hired to stir America into a wartime frenzy of bowling, horseshoe pitching and rifle shooting. Comb the OCD today, and not a one will pop up. They all have been moved down the road to another government pay roll, that of the Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services, realm of Paul McNutt.

Two Divisions in OCD.

As it now looks, the OCD is cleft into two divisions: that of civilian protection, which Landis runs with the posthumous criticism of Mayor LaGuardia, and that of volunteer civilian participation.

The latter is directed by Jonathon Daniels, the genial southern editor and author who replaced Mrs. Roosevelt. He describes his work with delightful ambiguity as "getting people to be useful." He receives $8,000 a year and has a volunteer assistant, Melvyn Douglas, the Hollywood actor, who despite the clouds of criticism, is still here, organizing "talent."

The exit of LaGuardia apparently did not help matters. The public stir created such national schism that there was a tremendous turnover in volunteer service.

"There were resignations," the spokesman today admitted sourly, "and a terrible turnover. The people had been given distorted pictures of what the OCD was doing. That was unfortunate from every standpoint.

"When First Bomb Falls."

"And," he said ominously, "the effects of that will be felt when the first bomb falls."

To make any stride toward accomplishment, Landis has had to effect drastic changes. In the original OCD setup each state had an autonomous state defense council. To these, the national director could only make suggestions, and at many of these the states bucked violently. They still do, but Landis now has devised a way to circumvent state sovereignty:

He divided the country into nine coterminous defense areas which correspond to the nine army corps areas. Orders go to and thru these. Moreover, if a state does not acquiesce in what Landis wants, defense supplies can be withheld from it.

Few Supplies Allocated.

Few supplies have been allocated anywhere. A May 6 report on where the $100,000,000 was going and how showed that relatively few of the specified defense essentials had been approved by the WPB.

Included in the approved batch, however, was an order for 1,400,000 steel helmets. Of these, 22,600 were intended for New York. Fortunately, a workman at the factory tried one on his head before delivery. It had been made, as had all others, according to OCD specifications, and, the company's report stated, "would be just the thing for a civilian defense corps of midgets."

In the meantime 9,500 communities have organized local OCD councils. These represent nine million persons.

Duplicates Other Work.

The other facet of the OCD, Jonathan Daniels' volunteer participation, directs almost all other community endeavor—housing, nutrition, salvage, home nursing, defense saving stamp sales, and recreation. In this it duplicates the work of various other government agencies. It also whoops up town meetings and dramatizes the war.

"Now," says Daniels, elaborating, "in America's retreat from the automobile age we have a job to do in trying to get people to rearrange transportation facilities."

"Wouldn't that be done anyway by local city bodies?" he was asked.

"Sure," he replied amiably. "They could."

Daniels said he was moved to accept his present job by the "same Boy Scout spirit" that has brought every one else to Washington. "I'm not playing patriot," he said. "I'm just trying to do a job."

Down the line a few offices Melvyn Douglas runs the OCD arts council, which enlists volunteer talent. He says it really is a "booking agency" and uses only volunteers, some 8,000 of whom are enrolled under him. These are writers, actors, and artists, and he is about to start on the musicians.

What Writing Corps Does.

Some of the work done by his volunteer writers' corps [Writers War Board and Hollywood Writers' Committee] is:

Slogans for the air corps, speech on consumer information, speech on price stabilization, script for radio on anniversary of the Nazi book burning, radio scripts on civilian protection and rationing, proclamation on Mother's day, pamphlet on what "Our Town" should do in an emergency and a pageant [by Maxwell Anderson] for community use in the united nations celebration June 14.

His art groups have supplied posters on civilian defense, rumor, air raid wardens, gas rationing, price control, and a project of 30 posters sponsored by the Council for Democracy.

There is little reason why any one in the country should be uninformed on at least some aspect of the OCD. Its publicity bureau gets out scores of pamphlets and handbooks on everything from fire fighting and first aid to messenger service, nutrition and sugar rationing. It also gets out a weekly news letter, sent to 140,000 community OCD officials. This serves as a sounding board for new wartime measures.

Appear on W-G-N 'Ramparts' Program

PONDER MYSTERIOUS MALADY OF SOLDIERS WHO RECEIVED SERUM

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today that a special war department board of scientists was studying an outbreak of illness at Fort Custer, Mich., and other army camps, apparently caused by abnormal reaction to yellow fever inoculations.

He was asked at his press conference about a report that a number of men were in the hospital at Fort Custer and that at least two appeared to have mild cases of yellow fever.

Stimson replied that the board studying the outbreak had not completed its work, but doubted that the illness actually was yellow fever.

Rumors in the vicinity of army camps have dealt with the possibility of sabotage of the yellow fever serum. Stimson was asked whether there was any indication that this was "the beginning of germ warfare by the enemy," and he replied, "I have heard no indication of it until this question."

RAMPARTS SHOW SALUTES SCHOOL SAFETY PATROL

40,000 Are Honored for Traffic Service.

Forty thousand school safety patrol boys and girls in the Chicago area were saluted in the Americans at the Ramparts broadcast over W-G-N and the Mutual network last night for behind the lines service contributing to the safety of the nation.

Six hundred patrol boys and girls in the city public schools were guests during the broadcast and at a studio program. It was the third successive year that W-G-N has been host to the patrol.

Story of Patrol Told.

The story of the patrol and its accomplishments during the 20 years of its existence was told by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club which sponsors it. Since its founding, the patrol has saved 7,200 lives in Illinois and Indiana, Hayes said.

"In Chicago alone, 4,200 tragedies have been prevented by patrol members," he declared. "We arrive at these figures by comparing adult traffic fatalities and child fatalities. This comparison shows a sharp increase in adult deaths. Child deaths, since the formation of the patrol, show a downward trend.

Debt of Gratitude.

"It is obvious that those of us who work with the patrol should feel a debt of gratitude to station W-G-N, to Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, and to the Mutual Broadcasting system for making this night possible."

The Americans at the Ramparts program, which weekly salutes men and women at home and abroad in the war effort, dramatized adventures of the patrol boys and girls in accident prevention. The program opened with the "Safety Patrol March," a musical selection especially composed for the patrol. After the program, "Kismet" entertained the boys and girls with a magic act.

Tribute to Early Patrol Boys.

Special tribute also was paid to five men who served as patrol boys 20 years ago. They are C. M. Kaufman, 4906 Hutchinson street; Maxwell Tigerdine, 625 Home avenue, Oak Park; George C. Rehnberg, 3923 West 68th place; Steve Kroslak, 4122 West 22d place, and Wallace Lindley, 1771 Greenleaf avenue.

Philip Maxwell of The Tribune staff was master of ceremonies.

EVANS ASSERTS HIS WAR PRICES TOP STATE COST

Atlanta, Ga., June 4 [Special].—Dr. Hiram W. Evans, former national Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, testified at his state fraud conspiracy trial today that the war department now is paying companies he owns or represents more money per ton for sand asphalt than the state of Georgia paid at the time of the alleged conspiracy.

The elderly and portly Evans, who guided the Klan during its peak days back in the '20s, flatly denied he had sought to defraud the state by controling bids and prices thru a chain of asphalt companies he operated or served as agent.

Former Gov. E. D. Rivers, one of those with whom Evans is accused of having conspired, testified that the state made huge purchases of sand asphalt early in 1940 "to obtain the benefits of federal road appropriations" but denied the existence of any conspiracy to control the state's purchases.

Movie Slayer Becomes No. 19081 at Stateville

Clarence McDonald, 17 years old, sentenced to life imprisonment for the movie murder of his sweetheart, Dorothy Broz, became convict 19081 last night. Earlier in the day he and seven other prisoners were taken from the county jail to Stateville penitentiary. McDonald told Warden Frank Sain that he wanted to study electrical engineering. The slayer will remain in the diagnostic depot of the prison for three weeks while officials determine to what institution he will be sent. McDonald will be eligible for parole after serving 20 years.

NAMED AS FARM ADVISER.

Harrisburg, Ill., June 4 (AP).—A. C. Kamm, agriculture teacher at the Harrisburg Township High school and former University of Illinois star athlete, today was employed as Saline county farm adviser.

Coast Guard Takes Over Grand Haven CCC Camp

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—The coast guard announced today it was taking over a Civilian Conservation corps camp at Grand Haven, Mich., as a training station for recruits. Officers said the camp would have accommodations for approximately 400 men as an "overflow station." In addition, they said, a training course for captains of ports probably would be provided there.

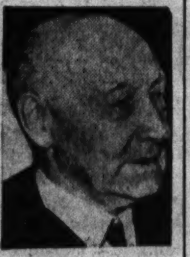
TAX GROUP PUTS MORGENTHAU ON CARPET FOR TALK

Irked Over Blast Against Bill's Progress.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—Aroused by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau's criticism of progress on the new tax bill, the house ways and means committee today summoned the administration fiscal chief to Capitol hill for private showdown, it was learned.



Rep. R. L. Doughton.

The usually meek and even tempered secretary found himself in a belligerent and hostile camp when he entered the presence of seven members of the committee headed by the outspoken chairman, Rep. Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.], who is unsympathetic with New Deal fiscal policies.

After a two hour session it was announced that friendly relations had been restored.

Harmony Restored.

"As a result of the conference there is every reason to believe that the same spirit of harmonious cooperation between Secretary Morgenthau and the committee on ways and means will continue in the future as in the past," said a statement by Doughton on the peace powwow.

Only ranking committee members attended the conference, and these included Representatives Doughton, Jere Cooper [D., Tenn.], John W. Boehne Jr. [D., Ind.], Wesley F. Disney [D., Okla.], Allen T. Treadway [R., Mass.], Frank Crowther [R., N. Y.], and Harold Knutson [R., Minn.].

Tempers of the committeemen reached the boiling point as the result of Morgenthau's radio broadcast last night, in which he said: "The ways and means committee is now hard at work writing a new tax bill. It is not for me to discuss the details of what they are about to recommend. I should like to make only this comment: I hope it cannot be said of the new tax bill that it was too little and too late."

Resents "Prodding."

Boehne promptly resented this statement and declared that Morgenthau's address "apparently was intended to prod congressmen who have altered or rejected many points in the 8.7 billion dollar program of new taxes which he has recommended."

The congressman also called attention to the budget act provision that revenue requests shall not be made by administrative officers without the request of the house or senate.

So far the committee has tentatively approved new taxes totaling about 6.7 billion dollars annually, or about 2 billions short of the treasury recommendations. Morgenthau wants this additional sum taken from high corporate and individual incomes rather than thru enactment of a federal sales tax, which has many sponsors in congress.

Check-Off Plan Shelved.

One of the treasury recommendations which the committee has put on the shelf temporarily calls for the regular deduction of income taxes from pay checks in advance of the date they are due.

Morgenthau breathed new life into this proposal today when he told a press conference the treasury hopes to begin this deduction system next Jan. 1—provided congress approves it.

He also disclosed that as part of the treasury's financing program it will increase weekly bill offerings from 250 to 300 million dollars beginning next week.

Council Group to Study Olson Appointment Today

The council school committee, headed by Ald. Henry Sonnenschein, [22d], will meet today to discuss the proposed reappointment of Nels Olson to the board of education. Mayor Edward J. Kelly recommended the reappointment to the council Wednesday and the matter was referred to the committee.

Arguments Set for Today on 'L' Plea for Fare Boost

Final arguments will be heard today by the Illinois Commerce commission on the elevated lines' application for an increase in "L" fares from 10 to 12 cents and a boost from 10 to 13 cents in intercompany rides between the "L" and street car and bus lines. The petition was filed last July 12 and the commission is required by state laws to make a final ruling by June 15.

MISS GODDARD WINS DIVORCE FROM CHAPLIN

Petition Reveals Wedding Place—Canton, China.

El Paso, Tex., June 4 (AP).—A Mexican divorce, shrouded in as much secrecy as their 1936 wedding in Canton, China, today separated Paulette Goddard and Charles Chaplin.

Incompatibility and separation of more than a year were charged by Miss Goddard and denied by Chaplin, tho he consented to award of the decree.

The divorce petition was presented yesterday afternoon. It gave the first public mention of where the two movie figures were married, saying only the ceremony took place "the first week in June, 1936, in Canton, China."

Granted in Juarez.

Judge Xavier Rosas Ceballos of the Mexican Civil court at Juarez, Mexico, bullfighting center just across the Rio Grande from here, announced this morning a decree would be granted—then made it final at noon, less than 24 hours after the petition was filed by Miss Goddard.

Last week, pleading a "bad cold," she stopped over here and crossed the border long enough to establish legal residence in Mexico.

The couple met in 1933 when Miss Goddard was a chorus girl in the ensemble of Eddie Cantor's movie, "The Kid From Spain." Shortly afterward Chaplin began escorting her to public places.

Marriage Confirmed in 1940.

First confirmation that they were married was given by Chaplin on Oct. 15, 1940. At the New York première of "The Great Dictator," Chaplin, addressing the audience, said, "my wife, Paulette Goddard, and I hope you will enjoy the picture."

The following month Miss Goddard, answering a court action by her father, Joseph R. Levy, described herself as Chaplin's wife.

Chaplin was Miss Goddard's second husband. Her first was Edgar James, an Eastern lumber dealer, whom she divorced shortly after she went to Hollywood in 1932.

Chaplin has been thrice married—to Mildred Harris, once his leading lady, and to Lita Grey, who bore him two sons.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BOB BECKER

Continue War on Foxes.

June 4, 1942.

THE "fox war" in the Wheaton area is on a continuous basis now that the men on the farm have found added evidence of the way these sly animals have been preying on birds and animals.

Two weeks ago the men found a number of den entrances in one of the farm fields and saw the remains of pheasants, rabbits, and crows which the foxes had killed and taken to their underground homes. This week more evidence was found, including the remains of small animals which were killed by the foxes.

In addition to more signs of crow, pheasant and rabbit killings, the men this week found remains of a weasel, woodchuck, chickens, and even a small pig. So far, the men on the Wheaton farm and a neighboring farm have accounted for four more fox pups and one grown animal. Since two young foxes were destroyed on the farm two weeks ago, the number now accounted for is seven.

Weasel Among Victims.

One of the large dens is northeast of the sheep barn and poultry yard, and the other is on a neighbor's property less than 100 yards south of the Wheaton farm's cattle yard and granary. The Poland China pigs also are kept in this yard, but the farm manager says that the pig found near one of the dens was not taken from the farm lot.

The farm workers got a real surprise when they found the remains of a weasel near one of the den entrances. One of the men said that a fox would have to be a pretty good catch-as-catch-can wrestler to get the proper hold on the weasel or be prepared for a vigorous attack. The weasel is small, but it undoubtedly is one of the most ferocious furbearers in this area. One of the farm residents saw a dog grab a weasel on the farm several years ago, and the small animal gave the dog such a lusty bite on the nose that it was glad to let the weasel get away.

There was one other incident on the farm this week which gave the men added incentive to keep after the foxes. One of the farm residents has a few chickens in his yard 100 yards northeast of the big pond. While he was eating dinner with his family the other evening he heard a commotion in the yard and looked out in time to see a grown fox which had chased his hens to the roof of a small barn.

Goose Escapes by Running.

He went outside, and when the fox headed toward the pond decided to follow him. Mr. Reynard circled around the south edge of the big pond, noticed a single Canada goose which looked like an easy meal, and gave chase. The goose managed to elude the fox by running. Each time the fox would get close to the goose the big bird would thrash him with her strong wings.

The goose kept retreating and the fox followed her all the way south to the tool shed, evidently intending to corner her there for the kill. But about that time the farm worker came close and the fox decided it was time to retire. He raced east toward a farm lane and the goose was herded back to the pond, scared but safe.

11 MEN DIE, TRAPPED IN BLAZING BUILDING AT U. S. ARMY CAMP

Stockton, Cal., June 4 (AP). — Fire, preceded by an explosion, swept quickly thru an army building and left 11 dead and another 9 severely burned today.

The nature of the explosion remained undetermined. The flames spread rapidly and those who died, 10 soldiers and a civilian fireman, were trapped in the structure.

The blaze started about 11:30 o'clock last night and burned for 30 minutes. Lieut. Col. Floyd H. Tull, commanding officer, appointed a board of inquiry to determine what caused the explosion. The blast apparently did not originate in munition or ordnance stores.

Highway patrolmen raced from the San Francisco blood bank with flasks of plasma, and hospitals here sent serum to the army post, as doctors and nurses joined the army staff in caring for the injured.

2 SHOW UP FOR CALUMET PARK BOARD MEETING

Affairs of the Calumet Memorial park district are going from bad to worse, it was admitted last night by Frank Magdziasz, newly elected president. At a recent massmeeting of the district's citizens, called to protest the grab of its $150,000 golf course by the village of Burnham, only 15 showed up. And last night only President Magdziasz and one commissioner, Sig Paszkowski, appeared for an important meeting of the board.

Since at least three of the commissioners must be present to constitute a quorum, appointment of new committees and appropriation of about $40,000 to keep the parks open this summer had to be postponed.

A telephone call to the homes of Lester J. Kelly and Orleene Piccirilli elicited the information that those commissioners were "out." The former was said to be in Chicago; no one at the latter's home knew where he was. Magdziasz called another meeting for Monday night.

FIND STARVATION VICTIM'S ESTATE EXCEEDS $14,000

John Hiller, 70 years old, years ago a prize fighter known as Stockings Kelly, died last Saturday in his room at 611 North Dearborn street under circumstances indicating that starvation contributed to his end.

Yesterday Jack Rubens, chief investigator for the public administrator, revealed that Hiller was worth more than $14,000. Rubens said he found 150 shares of stock, worth $7,000, in Hiller's safe box in a loop bank and a bank book showing deposits of $7,100.

Efforts will be made to find relatives, if any, of Hiller. Rubens said that Hiller once worked in the Municipal court bailiff's office.

BOY, 9, CRIPPLED BY CITY TRUCK IS AWARDED $22,500

Donald Kouba, 9 years old, 2418 South Hamlin avenue, was awarded $22,500 damages against the city yesterday in a sealed jury verdict opened before Judge Jacob Kerkowitz of Mattoon, sitting in Superior court. According to evidence produced by Attorney Louis Z. Grant, Donald was struck on Aug. 29, 1941, by a city garbage truck which came out of an alley in Kedzie avenue, south of Cermak road. Donald's right leg was injured permanently, and he is now a pupil in the Spalding School for Crippled Children.

BOY, 2, IS KILLED BY AUTO AS HE RUNS FOR HOME

Harry Baggs, 2 years old, was fatally injured last night when in response to the summons of his mother, Mrs. Florence Baggs, he ran into the path of an automobile in crossing the street to his home at 7314 Kenwood avenue. Terrence Drumm, 20, 1400 East 72d street, driver of the car, was not held.

Gilday Hoffman, 40 years old, 1936 North Clark street, a truck driver, was killed when his truck collided with an automobile and turned over at Kimball and Lincoln avenues. The driver of the car was Victor Fogelstrom, 30, of 3714 Shakespeake avenue.

Joseph Miller, 68, of 2130 North Austin avenue, died in West Suburban hospital of injuries suffered Wednesday when he was struck by a car near his home. The driver was William E. McNatt Jr., 28, of 4805 North Moody avenue.

John Tauber, 27, who entered County hospital in 1939 as the result of an automobile accident in Los Angeles, Cal., died yesterday in the hospital. Tauber, a broker's clerk, formerly lived at 622 Patterson avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 308 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 244 were killed in Chicago, where 8,701 were injured during the same period.

NEGROES DEMAND RACE EQUALITY TO WIN THE WAR

White Americans need the Negroes to help them win the war, and the quickest way to victory is to grant race equality in industry and in every other phase of life, speakers said last night at a massmeeting of more than a thousand colored men and women in the auditorium of the Du Sable High school at 49th and State streets.

"We Negroes are loyal Americans. This is as much our war as any one else's," asserted Adam Clayton Powell Jr., publisher of The People's Voice, Negro newspaper of New York, who was the principal speaker.

"Every day that the colored people of America are ignored is just one more delay in winning the war. There must be a new basis of freedom, and the old ideas of intolerance and racial hatred must go."

Other speakers were Ald. Benjamin A. Grant [3d] and Joseph Jefferson, secretary to Ald. Earl B. Dickerson [2d].

INGLESH SWORN IN AS CHIEF OF ILLINOIS MILITIA

Springfield, Ill., June 4 (AP).—Maj. Gen. Arthur E. Inglesh of Kankakee was sworn in by Gov. Dwight Green today as commander of the Illinois Reserve militia, succeeding Maj. Gen. John V. Clinnin, who was retired two months ago.

Inglesh, 53 years old, a son-in-law of the late Gov. Len Small, was promoted by Gov. Green from the rank of brigadier to major general. He has been acting head of the militia, which numbers more than 6,000 officers and men, since Clinnin's retirement. The induction was held in the governor's office, in the presence of Adj. Gen. Leo M. Boyle.

Inglesh served in the first World war with the rank of captain. During the Small administrations he was administrative state auditor. He will be interviewed on W-G-N tonight at 7:15.

Boy Gets Electrical Shock on Pole; Seriously Injured

Robert Lenhardt, 11 years old, 1762 Larrabee street, was in a serious condition from electrical shock and head injuries last night in Alexian Brothers hospital as the result of a 20 foot fall from a light pole he had climbed near his home. Boys who watched Robert climb the pole told police and firemen there was a flash as he touched the light globe and his body hurtled to the sidewalk.

Writ Grants Navy Land to Expand at Glenview

A writ of possession covering 447.5 acres of land adjoining the Glenview naval airport was granted to the federal government yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly. Assistant United States Attorney Clarence Beatty said the price of the land will be determined later.

BORRELLI FOUND GUILTY; DRAWS YEAR AS SLUGGER

Judge Calls Defense Plea Preposterous.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

Bruce [Bud] Borrelli, son of Municipal Judge Francis Borrelli, yesterday was found guilty of statutory conspiracy—a misdemeanor—for complicity in the slugging last November of three truck loaders who had taken part in a 25 minute strike at the Keeshin Motor Express company.

He was sentenced to a year in the county jail by Judge Julius H. Miner who heard the case without a jury in Criminal court. Defense Attorney William Scott Stewart was given 60 days in which to file a bill of exceptions. Borrelli will remain at liberty on his trial bond of $15,000.

The conviction followed a stormy six day trial in which Borrelli accused members of the state's attorney's staff of making two immunity deals, then double crossing him in both of them. The object, he testified, was to frame John L. Keeshin, millionaire trucking official.

Wrecks Keeshin Case.

As a result of the alleged double-crosses, Borrelli on May 26 wrecked the state's conspiracy case against Keeshin by refusing to testify. In his own trial he repudiated all the testimony involving himself and Keeshin which he gave before the grand jury last Jan. 15.

This was regarded as a deathblow also to a second state case growing out of the slugging last Jan. 6 of John Gottlieb, a business rival of Keeshin's.

Borrelli, named as one of the actual sluggers of Gottlieb, will go to trial alone next Tuesday before Judge Miner without a jury. Keeshin, La Barbara, and Lawrence Roche will be tried beginning June 15.

At the conclusion of arguments yesterday afternoon, Judge Miner began reading his decision. Borrelli, who has slumped or crouched in his chair thruout the trial, was sitting upright and betraying nervousness for the first time. He frequently mopped his face with a white handkerchief.

"At times," began Judge Miner, "it seemed we were witnessing a mystery drama rather than a trial, with an accusing finger rotating from one person to another on both sides of the counsel table.

Terms Defense Preposterous.

"These charges and countercharges grew out of the state's effort to prosecute an alleged 'higher up,' John L. Keeshin, who was discharged by a jury, who denied any wrong doing under oath, and whom Bruce Borrelli absolved by his testimony from any implications.

"The court does not propose to comment on all the recriminations, but it emphatically denounces as false the defendant's claims that Lawrence Roche and Peter La Barbara were stooges supplied by him at the insistence of the state." [Charges against these two were nol prossed before the Keeshin trial began.]

"Also, defendant's contention that he assaulted the prosecuting witnesses in self-defense . . . is preposterous and unworthy of belief.

"The state proved beyond a reasonable doubt that these three employés [Stanley Misius, Nick Wassell, and John Milich] were slugged and beaten by the defendant as a result of a conspiracy with Roche, La Barbara, and John Devlin [former night superintendent at Keeshin's, who never has been apprehended], because of their agitations and disturbances.

Sentenced as "Small Fry."

"Such labor terrorism and violence must be halted if we are to maintain an orderly society. State's Attorney Courtney referred to the defendant as an 'underling.' Messrs. Crowley and Gilbert designated him as 'small fry.' Considering him in that light, the court finds the defendant guilty of statutory conspiracy."

Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, and Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney, were named by Borrelli as the authors of the two immunity deals on which he claimed to have been double-crossed. Stewart contended thruout the trial that, because of the alleged deals, Borrelli's grand jury confession was involuntary—having been made under the influence of promises—and therefore was inadmissible.

Keeshin Goes Free.

As Judge Miner finished reading, Stewart said he observed that the decision leaves Keeshin out of the conspiracy. "It does," said the judge. Stewart then moved for a new trial and for an arrest of judgment. Both motions were overruled.

"Taking this matter at its worst, there was no permanent injury and no weapon was used," Stewart said. "This boy's father is a judge. If it hadn't been that the state, for some reason, wanted to put Keeshin into the case it would have been a police court matter. Inasmuch as Borrelli was promised a $1 fine by the state I propose that that be the sentence."

Crowley, seated across the counsel table with Assistant State's Attorneys Richard Austin and Alexander Napoli and Capt. Gilbert, had begun to steam as Stewart talked. Now he leaped to his feet.

Crowley Explodes at This.

"We can't see the matter as Mr. Stewart does," he shouted. "It is atrocious to talk about $1 fines." While Borrelli turned a fiery red and appeared to shrink into the depths of his chair, Crowley called him the most contemptible liar that ever had appeared in the Criminal court and dwelt upon his "sinister deeds committed in the darkness." Eventually Stewart got in a word:

It has been obvious to court observers since Judge Miner admitted Borrelli's grand jury testimony as evidence Tuesday, that Stewart has been building a record for submission to the Appellate court. His closing argument yesterday was devoted almost entirely to points of law.

PATSY KELLY.

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 4 (AP).—Sergt. Otto Malde was en route east today to an officers' training school and Film Actress Patsy Kelly was back in Hollywood—still Miss Patsy Kelly.

When Sergt. Malde met her at the airport yesterday both expected she would be Mrs. Otto Malde today. But the army stepped in. Malde was notified he was leaving immediately for officers' training school.

"It makes no difference to me whether you are a private, sergeant, or lieutenant," Patsy said, "but I guess we'll just have to wait."

"There's a war to win," said the sergeant, "after that, we'll see."

8 YEARS SCHOOL PASSED BY HALF THOSE OVER 25

Census Shows 10% Go to College.

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Without mentioning President Roosevelt's surprise at low intelligence ratings among many army selectees, the census bureau reported today that more than half the persons 25 years old or older in the United States had completed at least eight years of school by April 1, 1940.

The President, disclosing that the government was considering a program of instruction for the undereducated, told a press conference last week that he was startled by figures showing that an amazingly large number of men were being turned down for military service because they lacked schooling.

Need Wits Sharpened.

Many selectees, he added, needed to have their wits sharpened, along with academic training in the sense of reading and writing.

The bureau reported that the number of persons 25 years old or over in the country was 74,775,836.

Only 3.7 per cent had less than one year of formal schooling, but, on the other hand, only 4.6 per cent had finished college. Thus those with less than a year in school totaled 2,799,923 and those with four or more years of college numbered 3,407,331.

Every one else in the age group had schooling ranging from a year or more in grade classes to one to three years in college. Those completing fewer than five years in the grades numbered 10,105,000, or 13.5 per cent. Nearly a fourth, or 24.1 per cent, had finished high school, and 10 per cent had at least a year in college.

Chicagoland Figures.

The following table shows for Chicagoland states the number of persons 25 or over as of April 1, 1940, the number who failed to complete a year of school, the median school years completed, and the per cent less than five years completed, respectively:

The median year of school completed was described as "that year of schooling which divides the population into two equal groups, one half having had more formal education, and the other having had less, than the median."

State—	Total over 25.	Less than year schooling.	Median.	% less than 5 years' schooling.
Illinois	4,828,402	131,567	8.5	9.6
Indiana	2,004,404	26,498	8.5	7.7
Wisconsin	1,808,745	30,073	8.3	9.4

'KISS OF DEATH' GIRL'S FRIEND GETS FIVE YEARS

James Quirk, 40 years old, was sent to prison for five years yesterday, but he got off much easier than most of Margaret Mary Collins' previous boy friends. The Collins woman became known as "The Kiss of Death Girl" during prohibition days when seven of her sweethearts were slain in gang wars. Quirk was arrested in his room at the Maryland hotel several weeks ago and charged with the possession of narcotics. Mary Bailey, assistant United States district attorney, said the Collins woman dropped in for a visit with Quirk while police were searching his room. The five year term was imposed by Federal Judge William J. Campbell.

Justice Byrnes to Preside Over Circuit Court Today

Justice James F. Byrnes of the United States Supreme court will preside at a session of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, 1212 Lake Shore drive, at 10:30 a. m. today. It will be the first time in 32 years that a Supreme court justice has presided at a session of the Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago. No hearings are scheduled for today, so Justice Byrnes' duties will consist of approving stipulations and admitting 12 attorneys to practice before the court.

KILLS CYCLIST ON HIGHWAY.

Washington, Ind., June 4 [Special].—Edward Bates, 41 year old, Farina, Ill., was killed last night when his bicycle was struck by an automobile driven by Wilbur Decker, Brazil, Ind., on highway 50, west of Washington. Witnesses said Decker was unable to see the bicyclist because of lights on approaching truck.

UMW PINS 'RED' TAG ON MURRAY IN OUSTER MOVE

Chief of CIO Ridicules Communist Charge.

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Apparently laying the groundwork for the expulsion of Philip Murray from the United Mine Workers, leaders of that union today accused the CIO president of being allied with Communists and supporting their doctrines.

A resolution adopted by the UMW policy committee declared communism was the real issue and that Murray attempted to becloud it by uttering false and defamatory statements against the union and its president, John L. Lewis.

Murray, whom Lewis removed last week as vice president of the UMW, called the accusations "ridiculous" and remarked that neither he nor his family "ever visited the soviet embassy or engaged in social powwows with soviet diplomats." Murray was referring to Lewis' presence at a Russian embassy social function a couple of years ago.

Technical Ties Remain.

The miners' unexpected action blasted everything linking them with the CIO except the tattered technical threads which only can be broken in convention next fall. At the same time the seeds of a possible new and bitter jurisdictional warfare were seen in the revolt of 50 local unions of district 50, the chemical and dairy farmer branch of the UMW. Delegations claiming to represent more than 18,000 members in a half dozen cities appealed to the CIO executive board to give them direct affiliation and to set up a chemical, coke, gas and by-products division as a rival to the UMW's far-flung district 50.

The UMW resolution said that the miners for many years condemned communism and barred Communists from membership. It did not make the straight-out accusation that Murray was a Communist but the CIO chief said it was obvious Lewis was shooting at his membership.

Charge Defamation of UMW.

The resolution said Murray's statements that Lewis promoted opposition to President Roosevelt's foreign policy and was "hell bent on the creation of national confusion and national discontent" were intended "to defame and disgrace the good name and standing" of the UMW.

It declared Murray "has seen fit to cast his lot with the communistic element of the CIO and has rushed to their defense under the guise, cloak and pretense of national unity."

BATTLE IN IATSE TO OUST BROWNE SLATE SET TODAY

Columbus, O., June 4 (AP).—Delegates to the 36th annual convention of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employés [AFL] prepared tonight for an election fight tomorrow to oust the executive board in office during the administration of George W. Browne and William Bioff, convicted of extortion.

Richard F. Walsh of New York, named president to succeed Browne, was nominated for reëlection. Also nominated for president were Vincent Jacobi of New York and William Bennett of Washington, D. C.

Jacobi headed a slate said in union circles to represent strong opposition for the incumbent group led by Walsh.

The Jacobi faction previously submitted a resolution which said, in part, "The members of the general executive board were dutybound to know and protest against the actions of Bioff and Browne. The members of the general executive committee failed to prevent or to protest against the nefarious actions of Bioff and Browne which brought the entire I. A. T. S. E. into disrepute."

17 OF REMAINING CCC CAMPS IN 6TH CORPS AREA

Seventeen Civilian Conservation corps camps in the 6th corps area—Wisconsin, Michigan, and Illinois—will be affected by the proposal to close 350 camps thruout the nation, officials here declared yesterday.

Only one junior company of boys from 17 to 23 years old is left in Illinois. It is a CCC camp for Negroes near Danville engaged in soil erosion work. The only Chicago area company is at Des Plaines and it is staffed with World War 1 veterans. This company also performs soil erosion work.

In 1936 there were 1,500 CCC camps As the camps close many enrollees enlist in the army, officials said. Many who have had more than one year's experience in the camps are placed in industrial jobs by the CCC placement bureau. CCC members are paid $30 a month.

MOVE TO ABOLISH NYA, AS WELL AS CCC, UNDER WAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 4.—A fight to abolish the National Youth administration, as well as the Civilian Conservation corps, will be made on the house floor tomorrow, it was announced today.

The appropriations committee yesterday recommended the elimination of the CCC as nonessential to the war effort. Rep. Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.], served notice on the house that he would offer an amendment to do away with the NYA and transfer its defense training and educational activities to the Office of Education in the Federal Security Agency.

"In view of the fact that congress is providing $94,000,000 for the Office of Education, plus $30,000,000 for short courses of college grade, plus $15,000,000 for rural and nonrural youths for courses in food production and farm machinery, it is obvious that the NYA is a duplication of this whole effort," Dirksen said.

The pending bill appropriates $53,04,9000 for the NYA which Dirksen will seek to eliminate.

JUSTICE URGES LAWYERS TO WAR ON PERSECUTION

Byrnes Asks Protection for Loyal Groups.

Justice Byrnes.

Justice James F. Byrnes of the United States Supreme court warned last night before the Illinois State Bar association against persecution of national groups who might be suspect because of the war. He spoke at a dinner in the Palmer House.

"You will realize better than others," Justice Byrnes told the lawyers, "that in the performance of that [legal] duty a solemn obligation rests upon you to see that the loyal in your midst are not subjected to persecution.

"As casualty lists increase, passions will be aroused. Suspicions will grow. In nearly every community there are citizens of German blood and citizens of Italian blood whose loyalty cannot be questioned. When the flames of passion and prejudice threaten to envelop them, it will be your duty to protect them. Only in this way can we prove ourselves worthy of the unity we desire and require to succeed.

"Avoid Hitlerlike Contempt."

"We must by all means avoid developing a Hitlerlike contempt for other creeds and races. We want no Hitler justice. We want no trial by axmen instead of by juries. We know the meaning of equal justice under law. We know the blessings of liberty. To preserve these, we will give our all."

The speaker also decried efforts of German propagandists who "think they can cause disaffection of the Irish in the Irish Free State and in the United States."

Altho he asserted that the British "have made a terrible failure of the Irish question," Justice Byrnes said the Irish in America have proved their loyalty and fighting heritage.

Cites Kelly, Bulkley.

"In the first week of this war," he pointed out, "a young aviator, knowing that he flew into the jaws of death, drove his plane almost to the deck of a Japanese battleship, destroying it and losing his life. To honor his memory, the first congressional medal was awarded to Colin Kelly.

"A mosquito boat stole into Subic bay, sank a Japanese battleship and returned safely to base with its Irish hero, John Duncan Bulkley.

"As long as deeds of brave men bring cheer to the heart, the story of the defense of Wake Island by the marines will be told and the name of the Irish commander, John Patrick Devereaux, will be remembered. And O'Hare, O'Donnell, and countless others are showering glory upon their race and this country. As the blood of the race of Kelly, Burke and Shea is shed for us, it will give the lie to their traducers at home and abroad."

General Praises Illinois Men.

Addressing a luncheon of John Marshall Law school alumni at the Palmer House at noon, Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, former commander of the 33d division and now in the central defense command, praised the Illinois boys who trained at Camp Forrest, Tenn. He is a member of the law school's class of 1905.

Attorney Clarence W. Diver of Waukegan was named president of the state bar association for the next year.

UNITED NATIONS SHOW MOVES TO BURNHAM PARK

The United Nations War exposition, originally scheduled for the International amphitheater, will be held under tent on the lake front in Burnham park, starting Aug. 1, Charles F. Glore, chairman of the exposition, announced yesterday. Glore said the change was necessitated by the army's use of the amphitheater for a communications supply center. He said many of the exhibits from the united nations have reached Chicago, including tanks, airplanes, captured guns, war documents, and medals.

CHAPTER 39

DOUGLAS MacARTHUR and his wife lived a lovely, quiet life in the Philippines in 1938. Their infant son was a source of great joy to them. Douglas MacArthur is said to have remarked often, "Now there is another soldier in the MacArthur family to carry on the tradition."

The MacArthurs occupied a large, air conditioned apartment on the top floor of the Manila Hotel where they entertained many notables who arrived in the Philippines. The genial southern hospitality with which Mrs. MacArthur was so richly endowed was a source of great pride to the General as he and she now acted as host and hostess to their many friends.

As Field Marshal of the Philippines, Douglas MacArthur continued to develop a large

MORE FINANCIAL GRIEF DESCENDS ON COUNTY BOARD

Can't Pay for Pumps at Oak Forest Infirmary.

The county board, which last week learned it didn't have $14,200 needed to hold an option to buy the Durand-McCormick hospital, yesterday discovered its fuzzy financial tactics have come home to roost in a new barnyard.

The board members, who early this year approved a 1942 budget 4½ million dollars in excess of the county controler's revenue estimates, yesterday were confronted with a letter from Eric Hall, county architect.

Hall informed the commissioners that the inmates of Oak Forest infirmary won't have any water this summer unless the county can raise part payment on a $7,338 contract let last fall for new water pumps at the institution.

Contractor Asks Payment.

A letter from Samuel Kersten, the plumbing contractor, submitted by Hall, explained:

"For several months I have been looking forward to receiving a payment on account for labor and materials for the water piping. The pumps have been received at the freight house, and can be installed providing a payment is received."

County Treasurer John Toman, who last week refused to release funds for the hospital option, said yesterday there isn't any money for water pumps either.

"There is barely enough money to meet pay rolls, and I don't know how long we can keep doing that," he said.

Toman explained that Kersten is only one of several thousand creditors, to whom the county owes a total of $4,000,000 for materials bought since 1940.

Joseph Donahue, superintendent of public service, said the water mains at Oak Forest were enlarged last year, and that Kersten is to install "booster" pumps to keep up the pressure during the summer, when the pressure normally declines because of increased use of water by all consumers.

Option Deadline Nears.

Meanwhile, the county's danger of losing $10,000 option money already paid last year on the Durand-McCormick buildings increased. The 10 day period granted by the University of Chicago for raising an additional $14,200 expires Wednesday. If the payment is not made the university can cancel the option.

The board voted to start tax foreclosure suits against seven downtown properties owing $2,637,518 in back taxes and penalties. These are: Steuben building, $1,032,581; Morrison hotel, $562,196; Reywal building, 100 North La Salle street, $239,862; Pancoe building, 101 South Wells street, $174,124; United Garage company, 218 West Monroe street, $24,273; 123 West Madison building, $431,317, and W. Porter parking lot, State street and Wacker drive, $173,165.

Buy Two Forest Tracts.

Purchase of two tracts of land for the forest preserves for $50,733 was authorized by the board. The properties are at Dundee and Skokie roads, to cost $27,500, and at 31st and La Grange road, to cost $23,273.

Action on the board's plans to set up a central purchasing bureau to save the county an estimated $500,000 a year was deferred by the rules committee until the details can be worked out.

Chicago Contractor Heads Master Plumbers' Group

T. W. Merryman, plumbing contractor of 2916 North Damen avenue, was elected president, and Ray A. Ferguson of 1314 West 63d street secretary, of the National Association of Master Plumbers yesterday at the close of the 60th annual convention of the organization in Richmond, Va.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[THE TRIBUNE will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by THE TRIBUNE. Today's question was submitted by Mrs. H. Swanson, 5132 Bernard street.]

THE QUESTION.

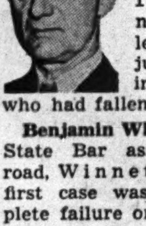
Do you remember anything about your first case? [Asked of lawyers.]

WHERE ASKED.

Illinois State Bar association, Palmer House.

THE ANSWERS.

Russell H. Classen, Freeburg [St. Clair county], Ill.—The court had appointed me to defend two criminals accused of burglary. It was a jury trial and I was encouraged to hear the verdict. I had won the case. The "burglars" showed their appreciation with a note that proved worthless. I framed it.



C. A. Helsell, Varden lane, Flossmoor—It was during the good old territorial days in Oklahoma. An individual had a flood damage claim against the city. I was taken down a notch or two when I learned that the only juror who had decided in our favor was the one who had fallen asleep.

Benjamin Wham, president, Illinois State Bar association, 811 Sunset road, Winnetka—My first case was a complete failure on a technicality. I put the woman on the stand to testify in her own behalf about the property that was to have been hers when the owner died. But because he was dead the evidence was ruled out and we lost our case.

N. E. Hutson, Monticello, Ill.—I was quite excited over my first case even tho it was a simple bit of labor litigation. For a last brushup on the technicalities I went to the law reference library. There I overheard the opposing lawyer and his clients discussing the case. I told them who I was—and lost.

Ray Garrett, 816 Ridge terrace, Evanston—The fireman's widow was attempting to collect a pension because her husband had died as a result of injuries while on duty. A spiritual group would go into a trance and try to hypnotize individuals in the jury to decide in her favor. That didn't help my defense any.

Judge Cornelius J. Harrington, 2035 West 99th street—I lost my first case because I was too young and sympathetic! The young, pretty cashier was suing the company for $8 of her wages because they had deducted that amount to make up for a shortage on the books. I was defending the company. I lost the case and was glad she received her $8.

URGES POPULAR GOVERNOR POLLS FOR TERRITORIES

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Popular election of governors in Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, as a step toward local self-government, was urged today by the Foreign Policy association.

A study prepared for the private research organization by Charles F. Reid, staff member, declared also that consideration should be given to statehood for these territories.

All now have a measure of self-government but their governors are appointed by the President.

Reid's study was a general survey of American overseas areas. He reached the conclusion that the United States was morally bound by its declared war aims to apply the Atlantic charter to its own dependencies and territories.

SLASH HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION IN HALF IN ILLINOIS

Expected to Dwindle to Bare Repairs Soon.

Springfield, Ill., June 4 (AP).—State highway construction is being cut in half this year and will dwindle to little more than essential maintenance during the next three years if the war continues, Gov. Dwight Green was informed today in a highway division four year plan prepared by Director Walter A. Rosenfield of the department of public works and buildings.

Rosenfield said $10,455,000 would be available for new construction this year, about half the normal outlay, and that he estimated construction revenues would drop to $3,961,000 in 1943. The highway fund faces deficits of $2,764,000 in 1944 and $7,255,500 in 1945, if the war lasts that long, the report added.

In addition to the estimated $10,455,000 for new construction, Rosenfield said the state would earmark about $10,000,000 for highway maintenance this year. This would consist mostly of patching and resurfacing of old and heavily traveled routes.

Reserve Fund Started.

In anticipation of 1944-'45 deficits due to war restrictions, Rosenfield said reserves would be set aside this year and next to continue necessary maintenance and to meet interest and retirements on the 60 and 100 million dollar highway bond issues.

Rosenfield made these forecasts:

If the war does not end passenger car registrations which totaled 1,825,142 in 1941, will be reduced to 475,000 by 1945. Commercial vehicles in operation will drop from 234,703 to 155,000.

Passenger cars which paid $34,002,000 in gasoline taxes in 1941 will pay only $4,264,200 in 1945, a decrease of 88 per cent.

In the next four years all available funds for highway construction exclusive of maintenance will amount to only $18,789,400.

Reconstruction Plan Shelved.

When the war started Illinois was preparing to launch a 10 year program of completely reconstructing old and heavily used highways at an estimated cost of $200,000,000. This program, Rosenfield said, would have to be shelved for the duration, but meanwhile the state will keep the roads in use through temporary patching and repairs.

"This method of rehabilitation might be viewed as an undesirable stopgap under normal peacetime conditions," he said, "but it seems to offer the most feasible means for prolonging the useful life of vitally important highways. It is proposed that $10,000,000, consisting entirely of state funds, be spent for this purpose during 1942."

3 MORE TESTIFY AT SCHOOL BRIBE PROBE IN BERWYN

The grand jury investigation into charges of three Berwyn school teachers that they paid bribes to get their jobs continued yesterday with three more witnesses appearing. Ivan Nicholas, who was dismissed recently as superintendent of school board district 98 of Berwyn, was reported to have told the jurors he lost his job because he made the bribe charges.

His reported accusation was denied by the board members who said Nicholas had been dismissed because his ideas were "too big for the Berwyn pocketbook."

One board member, Anthony J. Maher, testified before the jury. The other grand jury witness was Mrs. Eleanor Vitale of Brookfield, a teacher in the Berwyn south district. She said she was asked to pay $150 for a job but did not. Later she got the job.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and personally, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

A. K. J. writes: "In filling in my draft questionnaire I failed to state that when I was 17 I was given a prison term for burglary. I want to correct this error. How do I go about it? Despite my record, will I be eligible for service? I am 3A now."

ANSWER: Notify your draft board of your oversight and they will correct your selective service records. If in the future you are considered for reclassification, you will be eligible for a 1A classification if it is found your current civil record has been good.

C. M. asks: "What branch of service should a man apply for if he has a law degree and experience in the restaurant business? I would prefer noncombat duty and service within the United States. I am 28."

ANSWER: Whether you enlist or are drafted, you will be given the opportunity to state your preference for the judge advocate general's department or the quartermaster corps. Your experience might qualify you for either branch. However, if you are physically fit, don't bank on being assigned for noncombative duty. You can be sure the army is not going to arrange a nice, safe job for you here in the United States. Regardless of the branch to which you are assigned, you are subject to be sent anywhere.

G. B. writes: "I am a construction painter in class 1-A. Am I qualified to enter the construction corps in the army? If so, where do I apply?"

ANSWER: The navy has a construction battalion, not the army. The recruiting office is on the 7th floor of the United States courthouse.

S. P. writes: "An old couple, both past 60, asked me to inquire when can they expect to be free from the presence of their 39 year old healthy son who registered last February? When will he be inducted into the army? He bums around with other loafers like him, tipples, and will not work, altho jobs were offered to him. He makes the old folks miserable and says to them that he is too smart for the draft board to get him into the service."

ANSWER: Your letter has described a prospective 1-A registrant. Once the draft board has sent him a questionnaire, it will be a matter of only a few months before he is on his way. Mr. Tagge's story in last Sunday's TRIBUNE was illustrative of how selective service officials have tripped up other "smart" attempts at draft evasion.

To A. S.: Loss of the thumb of the right hand would bring a 1-B classification for the registrant.

PLENOCRATS' LOSSES ON FARMS BARED AT MAIL FRAUD TRIAL

The Universal Order of Plenocrats lost more than $29,000 in its "scientific" operation of more than a score of midwestern farms during a 13 month period ending March 31, 1939, records produced in federal District court revealed yesterday. At the same time the organization accepted contributions of $130,966 and promised each investor a 30 per cent return on his money, it was charged.

Four officers and a former officer of the organization are on trial before Judge William H. Holly on charges of violating the securities and exchange act and using the mails to defraud.

Justus Chancellor Sr., 79 year old Chicago attorney and general counsel of the Plenocrats, testified that he believed in the principles of Plenocracy "because it will mean plenty for everybody." He said he was once a millionaire but decided it was wrong to have so much money and "got rid" of it.

MYSTERY CLOAKS THEFT OF RINGS, ONE WORTH $2,000

Detectives Roy Snow and John Thorp of the East Chicago avenue station, last night were investigating a mysterious burglary in which three rings valued at $2,300 were taken from the apartment at 111 East Oak street of Herbert G. Hanan, president of the Hanan Shoe company.

The apartment was entered some time during the afternoon, while Mrs. Hanan was in the loop shopping. The detectives after an exhaustive examination could discover no means by which those who took the rings entered and concluded a pass key must have been used. A maid, who has been with the Hanans for more than three years, was cleared of suspicion.

The burglars left lying in plain sight a woman's cigaret case, set in gems, valued at $485, which was insured, but took a 3 caret diamond ring, in which the stone was surrounded by brilliants, valued at $2,000, an aquamarine ring, valued at $200, and a topaz ring valued at $100.

BRICKLAYER INJURED IN FALL.

Louis Carabelli, 59 years old, 1622 South Austin boulevard, Cicero, a bricklayer, was critically injured yesterday when he fell from a scaffold attached to the elevated lines structure at Leland avenue and Broadway.

INDIAN REMEDY VENDOR DENIES MEDICAL CHARGE

William H. Wood, maker of a medicine which he asserted originally was concocted by Indians in Mexico, denied yesterday in the court of Acting County Judge Russell W. Keeney that he had practiced medicine without a license as charged by the state department of registration and education.

A witness, Loraine Johnson, testified that Wood in his laboratory at 1754 West 74th place, diagnosed her as suffering from liver and gall bladder trouble and prescribed his remedy.

Wood admitted the sale, but denied making a diagnosis. He insisted that physicians opposed sale of the mixture because persons taking it "would need no doctors." The hearing will continue today.

IOWAN INDICTED IN MAIL ATTACKS ON ROOSEVELT

Charge Cards to Senators Libel President.

Dubuque, Ia., June 4 [Special].—Peter H. McCarthy, 72 year old bachelor member of an old and highly respected Dubuque family which had made millions in the lumber business, has been indicted by a federal grand jury for sending remarks about President Roosevelt thru the mail, Federal Court Clerk Lee McNeeley announced here today.

The indictment, returned at Sioux City, Ia., charged McCarthy with violating the postal laws by sending "libelous, defamatory, and scurrilous" remarks about the chief executive to Senators Tom Connally [D., Tex.], Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.], and Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.].

The messages, typewritten on postal cards and mailed April 4 at the Dubuque postoffice, asked the impeachment of the President on the ground that some of his acts are "traitorous," the indictment said.

Long Critic of F. D. R.

McCarthy long has been a critic of the Roosevelt administration and often had contributed to metropolitan newspapers thruout the country articles in which he took issue with New Deal policies.

The McCarthy family is widely known. Intimate acquaintances estimated the defendant's wealth at nearly a million dollars. His father, the late M. H. McCarthy, was the founder of the now nonexistent Standard Lumber company, once considered the largest firm of its kind in the middle west. His uncle, the late Timothy McCarthy, also a lumber man, was rated a multimillionaire when he died some years ago in Paris, France.

McNeeley said a warrant for McCarthy's arrest had not been issued, but he added that one was expected soon.

Quote Purported Text.

The indictment charges that the following text was sent to Sen. Connolly:

"Dear Senator: Keep up your grand fight against strikes in industry. It is an outrage to think that the defense workers at such fabulous salaries as they are getting would dare to strike when the soldiers are fighting in far away lands to save these workers' necks. Keep up your grand fight and don't stop until congress has passed your anti-strike bill and no 40 hour week. It is simply an outrage that we have a man in the White House guilty of the acts that Roosevelt is guilty of. He ought to be impeached for these acts that are really traitorous. This nation cannot win unless we get Roosevelt out of the White House and some one else in his place who will fight the war and not the New Deal cause. The nation depends on you and the rest of the southern senators. Keep up the fight and you are bound to win the fight.

"Peter H. McCarthy, 725 Fenelon place, Dubuque."

PLANE CRASH INJURES 2.

Lincoln, Ill., June 4 (AP).—Two persons were injured yesterday when their airplane crashed in a field near Beason, Ill., after hitting a power transmission line while attempting a forced landing. The pilot, Den Randolph, 23 years old, Beason, was bruised and Miss Jenny Holland, 21, Kenney, suffered a fractured right arm.

SUNSWEET PRUNE JUICE
THE GROWERS' OWN BRAND

LEMON IS ADDED AS STRAWBERRY JAM THICKENER

Purchase of Bright Red Berries Suggested.

Last year's supply of homemade strawberry jam and preserves may have been thick and jellylike, but this season's output will be more spreadable, since less sugar will be used to thicken the fruit juice. A slice of lemon or a little lemon juice added to the fruit and sugar during cooking, however, will help to thicken the mixture.

Altho the amount of sugar is more than doubled when commercial pectin is used in the recipe, the volume of the jam or preserves is increased considerably and the consistency is quite thick.

Purchase the bright red berries before they are too ripe, or they'll be lacking in pectin, and prepare the jam or preserve in small quantities for best results.

Strawberry Jam.

Wash and hull berries. For each three cups of berries, measure 2 cups of sugar. Place berries in preserving kettle and mash thoroly as they heat. Bring to a boil and add sugar and 2 teaspoons lemon juice for each cup of fruit, or a slice of lemon. Cook rapidly until the jam is thickened, stirring to prevent scorching. The shorter the cooking time, the brighter the jam will be in color and the better it will be in flavor. Boiling should not be continued for longer than 20 minutes. Pour into hot, clean jars and seal at once.

Whole Strawberry Jam.

[Eleven 6 ounce glasses.]
4 cups prepared fruit
3 pounds sugar [7 cups]
Juice of 1 lemon
½ bottle fruit pectin

About 2 quarts of small, ripe berries will be needed to make 4 cups of prepared fruit. Spread about a fourth of the cleaned and hulled berries in a single layer in a broad pan and press gently with a tumbler to the thickness of ¼ inch. This crushes the centers of the berries without breaking the skin. Put a layer of the crushed berries into a preserving kettle and cover with a layer of sugar. Alternate berries and sugar in layers until all are used, ending with sugar on top. [The remainder of the berries needn't be crushed.] Let the mixture stand overnight or for about 5 hours. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over high heat. Stir constantly before and during boiling. Boil hard for 3 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in pectin. Stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly. Ladle out a few cups of juice for jelly. Pour the remainder into clean glasses and seal at once.

Strawberry and Rhubarb Jam.

1 quart hulled strawberries
4 cups finely cut rhubarb
5 cups sugar

Crush berries and rhubarb as they are heated together. Do not add any water. When the mixture comes to a boil, add sugar. Cook rapidly and stir the mixture until it thickens. Pour into clean, hot jars and seal at once.

Whole Strawberry Preserves.

Combine washed, hulled berries with ⅔ as much sugar. Add 2 teaspoons lemon juice for each cup of fruit, or a slice of lemon. Place over low heat and bring to a boil, stirring carefully to avoid crushing the berries. When the berries boil, let them cook rapidly for six minutes. Pour into clean, hot jars and seal.

CANDY BARS GO A LONG WAY IN THESE COOKIES

A couple of candy bars go a long way when they're used in these fruity cookies. The cookies are rich ones, so let them be small in size.

Almond Bar Scotch Cookies.

[5½ dozen small cookies.]
2 1¼ ounce almond chocolate bars
½ cup melted butter
¾ cup granulated sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup chopped dried white figs

Chop almond bars fine and melt over warm water. Add butter and sugar and blend well. Add well beaten eggs and flavoring and stir to blend. Add flour which has been sifted with salt, baking powder, and cinnamon. Stir in chopped figs. Drop by small spoonfuls onto ungreased cooky sheet, about 2 inches apart, and flatten slightly. Bake in hot oven [400 degrees] for 8 to 10 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Using Honey Is Suggested for Sweetening Lemonade

For a cool, sparkling, honey-sweetened lemonade add 1 tablespoon of honey to the juice from 1 lemon and stir until well blended. Add 1 cup of cold water and serve over crushed ice in a tall glass. Garnish with a sprig of mint, if desired.

Remove from heat. Beat 1 or 2 egg whites until stiff, adding ½ cup sugar gradually. Stir hot mixture gradually into egg whites. When slightly cool, stir in 1 teaspoon vanilla or other flavoring. Chill. (Mixture will thicken as it cools.) Serve with a topping of whipped cream and fresh berries.

Fruits May Be Canned Without Use of Sugar

All fruits may be canned without sugar, using water instead of the regular sugar solution. For best color and flavor preservation, however, at least a small amount of sugar is desirable, whatever you can spare. Just see that jars, rubbers, and caps are sterilized and that jars are sealed properly; the sugarless fruit will keep.

WALNUT TOPPED HOTBREAD TREAT FOR BREAKFAST

Sunday morning breakfast will be an unusually pleasant occasion when this walnut-topped hotbread appears at the table. It looks good enough to pass as a dessert.

Walnut Coffee Cake.

[8 inch square pan.]
½ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk
2 cups flour, sifted
¼ teaspoon salt
2½ teaspoons baking powder

Topping:
½ cup brown sugar
⅓ cup flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup broken walnut meats
¼ cup butter

Cream shortening until soft; add sugar gradually and beat until light. Add beaten egg and blend well. Sift flour with baking powder and salt, and add alternately with the milk, mixing thoroly. Pour into greased 8 inch square pan. Combine the brown sugar, flour, and cinnamon for the topping. Cut in the butter to form a crumbly mixture. Add the nuts and sprinkle mixture evenly over the batter. Bake in hot oven [400 degrees] for 25 to 30 minutes.

Here's a Way to Improve Flavor of Canned Peaches

Remember those luscious peaches that mother used to can? Here's a way of making the commercially canned ones taste something like them: Place the contents of a No. 2½ can of peaches in a baking dish. Sprinkle over this one-fourth cup of soft brown sugar and a bit of salt. Place in a moderate oven [350 degrees] for 20 minutes. Serve hot in sauce dishes.

TOMATO SAUCE LIVENS FLAVOR OF VEAL CHOPS

Savory veal chops acquire new flavor when they're cooked in this well seasoned tomato sauce.

Spanish Veal Chops.

[Serves four.]
4 thick rib veal chops
4 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons bacon fat
¼ cup chopped onions
¼ cup chopped green peppers
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery seed
¼ teaspoon paprika
1½ cups tomatoes
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Dredge chops with flour, brown in hot fat, then add onions and peppers and cook for 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients. Cover the pan and simmer for 30 minutes, turning meat occasionally. Serve at once.

KEEP YOUR FAMILY DOUBLY HAPPY...
HAPPY AT HOME . . . HAPPY AT WORK

. . . SERVE THE BREAD THAT'S DOUBLY FRESH
FRESH WHEN YOU BUY IT . . . FRESH WHEN YOU EAT IT

Because It's Slo-Baked for Lasting Freshness

Baked 13% Longer Than Many Ordinary Kinds—Wins Bread Comparison Tests 9 to 1

IF you want bread fresh when you buy it . . . fresh when you eat it . . . and still fresh next day for table or lunch box—then ask your grocer for doubly fresh Wonder Bread.

Today at the store feel it—it's fresh! Tomorrow at home feel it—it's still fresh! Not dry or rough. Not stale or tasteless. But still perfect for table or sandwiches. Because fresh in flavor.

That's why women by the thousands are now buying this doubly fresh Wonder Bread. Because this is the bread made to stay fresh longer.

It's Slo-Baked

Secret of doubly fresh Wonder Bread is slo-baking. Baked 13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness. Note the difference.

For this is a bread that you can tell is tender and moist. And stays that way amazingly long. Look at the texture so lacy white. And smell the aroma of sun-ripened wheat magically transformed by slo-baking. Then taste it to prove how good it is. Chances are you'll prefer it 9 to 1.

In blind comparison tests made in different sections of the country by over 600,000 women to date, doubly fresh Wonder Bread has been chosen the "one best bread" 9 to 1—best for fresh flavor, aroma and texture.

Now there is no reason why you can't afford to have the best. So go to your grocer without further delay and get a loaf of this doubly fresh Wonder Bread right away. And see for yourself how fresh it is . . . how wonderfully fresh it keeps. Do as thousands of women now do—buy doubly fresh Wonder Bread today. You'll be glad you did!

"The Girl Who Stood Alone"

By Roy Vickers

Copyright: 1942: By Roy Vickers

SYNOPSIS.

Just preceding the present war, the London company June Clayton works for as secretary has become an armament factory. Thru her failure to destroy some spoiled sheets of a confidential report, the report is stolen by Henry and Jacob Ferrer, who have been selling similar information to Germany. Jacob escapes with the report but Henry is arrested and claims June aided them. She is questioned by Glenday of the British secret service who, believing her innocent, promises to shield her if she will work for him. She quarrels with her fiancé, Ralph Eddis, because she cannot explain her new work and soon finds she likes Glenday better than Ralph. Glenday orders her to cultivate Frank Rawlings, a German spy in charge of sabotage. Rawlings falls in love with her. But Matarasso, who works with Rawlings, is suspicious of June. She pretends to be an Irish-American girl who took a little money from the Ferrers in exchange for information they could sell to Germany. This explanation satisfies Rawlings, who takes June into his confidence and gets her to help him in his work. But June reports all she learns to Glenday and, one by one, Rawlings' men are being caught, while June narrowly escapes being exposed. One of the tightest spots she gets into is when a woman calls on June in the middle of the night and insists that June accompany her to Jacob Ferrer's hideout. June finds Glenday there, handcuffed. Jacob demands June secure his brother Henry's release from prison before he will consent to let Glenday go free. June realizes Glenday's rescue is hopeless without her knowing the address of Jacob's hideout. But Rawlings unwittingly gives her the address when he tells her about Matarasso having her trailed in the van. She returns the next day to the hideout and demands Glenday's release and the return of the stolen report. Frightened by thought of the police, Jacob obeys her orders. June then tells Glenday she is quitting the service. But she feels obligated to continue when Rawlings gives her a baggage check and asks her to pick up the bag for him, which Glenday finds contains explosives. Nonexplosives are substituted in the bag before June gives it to Rawlings. After a dangerous job together Rawlings asks June to marry him, and Glenday insists she become engaged to him. But June is terrified when Rawlings wants to marry almost immediately. She barely escapes exposure again when she goes to Matarasso's apartment on an errand for Rawlings and finds Jacob Ferrer there. He accuses her of being a British spy and thinks Matarasso is working with her. At the point of a gun he forces Matarasso to accompany him in his effort to escape police. Just as they leave thru the back door Rawlings comes in the front and takes June to see his mother, who is also a spy for Germany.

INSTALMENT XXXV.

CAR RECOGNIZED.

As Rawlings headed for Matarasso's house June walked on to the garage, presented her ticket, and paid her due. A man was standing by her car. As she approached, he flashed his card.

"It's not an arrest, Miss Clayton. I'm to request you to come to the Yard and I'd be grateful if you'd give me a lift."

At the Yard the detective put her in a waiting room and presently Detective Inspector Segrove came in.

"Will you come this way, Miss Clayton, please?"

He led her along a corridor and presently stopped and drew back a panel, like a kitchen hatchway. Behind the panel was a glass window and thru the window she looked into a room in which were two men, one of them a police officer.

"Do you recognize that man, Miss Clayton?"

"Yes. It's Jacob Ferrer."

"You'll swear that he was the man who terrorized you into driving him on Barnes common on the occasion when he wounded two police officers?"

When she had given the correct answer he took her into a general office and asked her to sign a deposition already drawn up.

"If you'll come up to my room now, you'll see Mr. Glenday."

In Segrove's room she had a shock. Sitting opposite Glenday, smoking a cigar with every appearance of ease, was Matarasso himself.

"Ah, good evening, m'dear! said Matarrasso.

She nodded stiffly and looked to Glenday for instructions. He rose and offered her his chair.

"Mr. Matarasso thinks we are bluffing him on one or two particulars," said Glenday. "Do you know anything about his dealings with Ferrer?"

"He was with Ferrer when I went to his house this morning," said June briskly, for she had not the slightest objection to giving evidence against Matarasso. "I was bringing him cocaine, which I understand he gives to drug addicts on his staff. Here it is."

She produced the package, offered it to Glenday, but Segrove stepped forward.

"That doesn't concern us. Give it to Mr. Segrove, please. Anything else?"

"At an earlier meeting Mr. Matarasso asked me to arrange a meeting with Ferrer, and when I was unwilling he threatened to expose me to the police as the girl who drove Ferrer on Barnes common, and, further, offered to let me off paying the money which I was supposed to have lost at poker. When I mentioned the Timcat papers he showed knowledge of them and I gathered that that was why he wanted to see Ferrer."

"That's the missing link!" cried Glenday. "Segrove, charge him with conspiring with Jacob Ferrer to procure secret information and with being suspected of conspiring with Merlett and Shrager for the Dornham business. We'll raid his house tomorrow and, if necessary, we can file all those small charges that our people have dug out."

Matarasso showed no particular alarm.

"Now look here, Glenday," he began confidently. "Drop those charges against me and I'll keep my mouth shut about Miss Clayton—and Rawlings can take what's coming to him."

"Nothing doing!" said Glenday. With a quick glance at June he added: "You've told us all you know about Rawlings and it amounts to nothing—which means you're no good to us, Matarasso."

"Wait a minute! If Rawlings gets to know that Miss Clayton is your agent, he'll put a bullet in her and you won't catch him. She'll just be found dead in her car."

"Nothing doing, Matarasso," repeated Glenday.

"All right then," said Matarasso. "Only it's tough on that little girl. You can't prevent me sending word thru my solicitor."

Glenday looked at Segrove and both grinned.

"You tell him," said Glenday.

"Matarasso, evidently you've never heard of D. O. R. A.—defense of the realm act"—began Detective Segrove. "For under that act you have no right to legal representation until you are committed for trial. We can keep bringing you before the bench in camera and we can bump out the preliminaries so that it will be six months before you're brought for trial. Better come along now. It's getting late."

Segrove beckoned and Matarasso followed him out of the room.

* *

At that same tense moment, while June and Glenday were in secret session at Scotland Yard, Lady Baerie, her voice on edge with anxiety, was asking the just arrived Rawlings "for news of Mat."

"I've come here for news," he returned, frowning. "What's going on?"

"There was a party here tonight," said Lady Baerie. "With two new young people, considered useful. Mat neither turned up nor sent word."

She told him the circumstances in which Matarasso had left the house, already known to him.

"He may have had a road accident. Have you tried the hospitals?" asked Frank.

"Yes. Up to half an hour ago there was no casualty the least bit like him."

"Hm! It does begin to look rather as if they had pulled him in."

"Just before Matarasso left this house, Miss Clayton was here," said Lady Baerie.

"I know. There was a scare on. Miss Clayton told me that she saw one of Glenday's girls in this house."

"Perhaps she looked in a mirror."

Rawlings bit back an angry retort.

"Now look here, Florrie. Mat has been pumping that rot into you. Every time a girl won't stand for the hand patting and the innocent kiss for uncle, he says she's a double."

"I am aware of that. But I believe that in this case it happens to be true," said Lady Baerie, and added: "I know she is your latest 'fancy' and that I shall incur your personal ill-will, which will hurt me. I was myself suspicious of her when I observed she was not at all excited when she was winning and losing money here. She was interested in—something else. She has a simple obvious manner, but she is deep and subtle—the kind of woman who can make a fool of the cleverest man."

Rawlings laughed outright.

"Dear Florrie! How wrong you are! She could have put me in jail at least three times. She is the only person alive who could bring conclusive evidence against me. Yet I'm still at large. But I am beginning to be worried about Matarasso."

"Why?" she demanded. "You despise him. If you were a woman you would hate him—as I do."

"All the same, I want to know what's happened," said Rawlings. "If we were to ring up the Yard they wouldn't tell us. I'll go around myself and see if I can find out."

"Frank! Aren't you taking an unnecessary risk?"

"No. They know that I come here." He chuckled. "And they probably know what Mat does for me, even if they don't know what I do for Mat."

He drove a mile along the embankment to Scotland Yard.

"Talking that stuff about June!" he snorted. "As if any girl, even the lovely June Clayton, could make a fool out of Frank Rawlings!"

Yet, turning left into Scotland Yard, parked by the entrance, he saw a Morstyn, and with a number very familiar to him—June's number!

"Devilish odd!" he exclaimed.

He stopped the engine and got out of his car. For the first time in his life he was at a loss in face of the unexpected. His thoughts whirled round and round a single idea.

"What on earth can she be doing here?" he asked.

His brain utterly refused to frame an answer.

"Wait here a bit and see what happens."

FOR VARIETY, TRY A GOLDEN BROWN SOUFFLE OF CORN

When ordinary vegetable dishes become monotonous, try a golden brown souffle of corn. Bake the souffle at low temperature and it won't fall down the minute it's removed from the oven.

Corn Souffle.

[Serves Six to Eight.]

- 3 tablespoons butter
- 3 tablespoons flour
- ¾ cup evaporated milk diluted with
- ¾ cup water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon grated onion
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1 No. 2 can cream style corn

Melt butter and add flour, blending well. Add diluted milk gradually. Cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thick. Add seasonings. Separate eggs and pour white sauce over the well beaten yolks. Cool; add corn and stiffly beaten egg whites. Place in buttered casserole and bake until firm, about 1½ hours, in a 300 degree oven. Serve immediately.

FRIED SHRIMPS SUGGESTED FOR SUPPER GUESTS

If your supper guests have gourmet tastes, serve them plump, fresh shrimps fried in a deep, hot fat until golden brown. A variety of seasonings are used in preparing this seafood to give it a most unusual flavor.

French Fried Shrimp.

[Serves four.]

- 1 pound fresh shrimp
- 2 quarts boiling water
- 2 bay leaves
- 6 peppercorns
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 egg yolk, beaten
- ¼ cup ketchup
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ½ teaspoon minced onion
- 1 egg white, beaten until stiff
- ½ cup fine cracker crumbs
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper

Wash shrimps in cold water and drop into rapidly boiling water to which bay leaves, peppercorns, and vinegar have been added. Cook 15 to 20 minutes, or until shells turn pink; then drain and remove shells and the black line running along the back. Combine beaten egg yolk with ketchup, Worcestershire sauce, onion, and salt. Fold in beaten egg white. Roll shrimp in seasoned crumbs; dip in egg mixture and then again in crumbs. Fry in deep, hot fat [380 degrees] until lightly browned. Serve at once on hot toast.

Deviled Scrambled Eggs Ideal for Buffet Supper

Serve deviled scrambled eggs for a late evening company snack, or have them for a quick buffet supper. To serve three or four persons, melt 2 tablespoons butter in the top compartment of the double boiler. Place over hot water and add 4 eggs, slightly beaten with a fork; ½ cup sour cream, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon dry mustard, and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Cook slowly until eggs are fluffy and creamy, stirring occasionally. Serve at once on hot, buttered toast.

Tricycle Is Requested by Sally for an Unfortunate Little Boy

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

If your youngster has outgrown his tricycle, we would like to have it for a little boy 3 years old who has endured a great deal of misfortune in his short life.

An agency which cares for children from broken or unsuitable homes sent the following appeal:

"Dear Miss Brown: We are writing in behalf of one of our young wards, a 3 year old boy, who is now in his first real home and responding eagerly to affection and care.

"Possibly because of earlier unhappy experiences he has been a little slow in his development, but his progress is very encouraging, and a tricycle has been recommended to help him make further improvement.

"Altho expenses for his maintenance are defrayed by the agency it is, as you know, difficult for us to stretch the budget to include such extras as tricycles. We are wondering whether you know of any one who has a tricycle stored away in an attic and if it could be given to this little boy. We know how delighted he would be and we should also be very grateful for the gift."

Miss R., the worker, will be glad to arrange transportation, altho an offer from the south side of the city could be handled most conveniently.

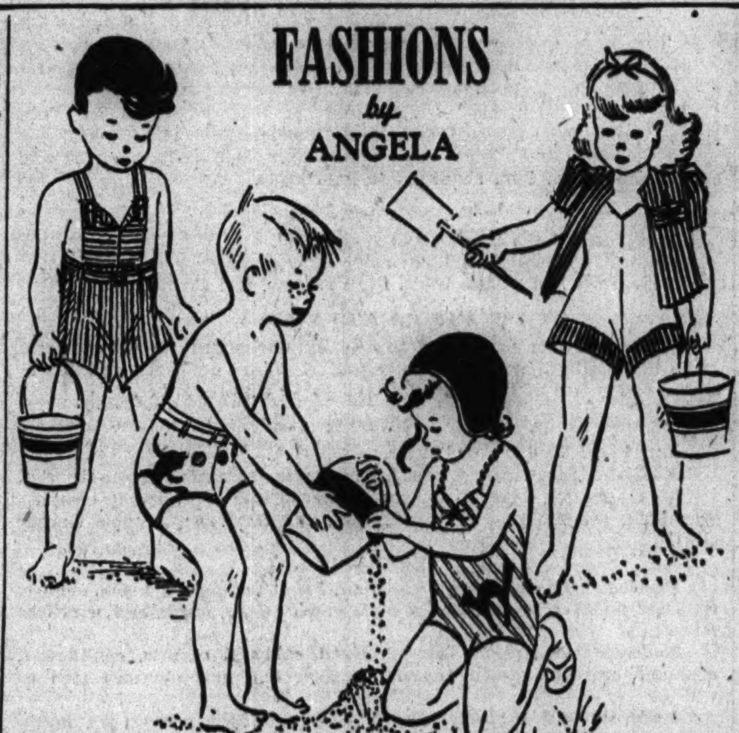
FASHIONS by ANGELA



Water babies who love to wade in the pool, play in the surf, and build moated castles in the sand need to be suitably clad for the serious work at hand. Bits of seersucker, or cotton, or elasticized fabrics are conjured by nimble fingers into these miniature fashions for baby swimmers and sun bathers.

Busy mothers particularly will find the virtues of a seersucker sunsuit the answer to their summer laundry problems. This model, designed for little boys to wear, is a red, white, and blue striped seersucker. The bib section is cut with revers. There are other models in the same line . . . a play suit for girls, overalls, etc. Under $1.

Stark white cotton and rayon mixture with an elasticized thread woven into the fabric will contrast smartly with the sun-tanned skin of the young fellow. A bubble blowing fish cavorts across the front of the trunks.

White also for sister Sue . . . only this time it is white wool. Braided straps, crisscrossing in the back, help to keep them in place. This one is decorated with a stylized red cat — tail erect and back arched. Here's one cat that will like the water. Under $2.

Another swim suit for the girls in the family sports a separate jacket of blue and white striped cotton to match the bands of cotton bordering the flared hemline. The suit itself is cut from white elasticized cotton.

Good Morning!

[Reading Time 15 Seconds.]

This is a long, would be uproarious farce comedy with just three laughs, and were they lonesome. . . . The action is an orgy of infantile horseplay built around crackpot situations concerned with a radio singer contest. . . . Dialog—ouch!

My condolences to Ruth Terry—a real comedienne, given a chance—Tom Brown, Thurston Hall, Harold Huber, and Judy Canova. . . . Billy Gilbert should be handing out a new brand of guffaw food because laugh response to his sneezes and sputters is so anaemic as to be practically not there.

See you tomorrow.

Signs Bill Increasing West Point Enrollment

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—President Roosevelt today signed into law a measure authorizing appointment of 536 additional cadets annually to West Point, bringing the academy's total enrollment to 2,496 for the class registering July 1. The law will give each congressman one additional appointment, and will allot one each to the delegates to congress, the resident commissioner of Puerto Rico, the governor of the Panama canal and the District of Columbia. Congressmen previously had three appointees each.

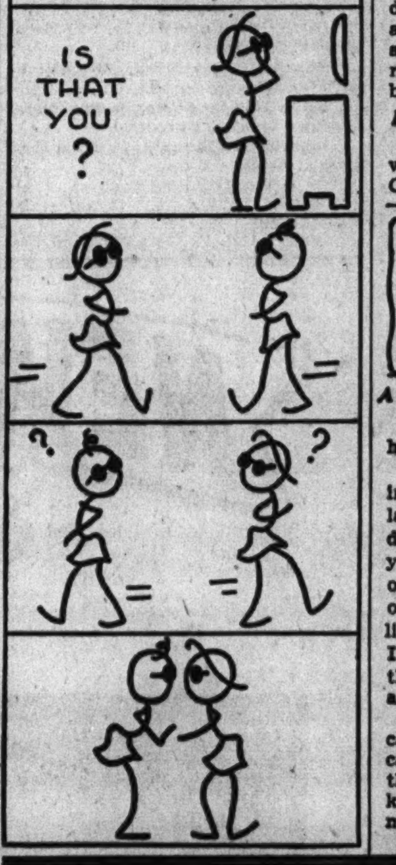
Dear Diary BY BECKY

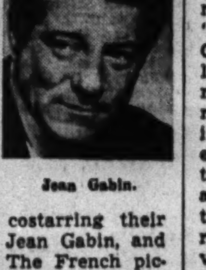


Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., June 4.—Bettye Avery and husband, Joe Brown, have already separated. They were married four short months ago. He's head of a hotel syndicate here. Bettye's under contract to Sam Goldwyn and he has great hopes of making her a star.

Michele Morgan.



Jean Gabin.

Much whispering going on at Twentieth about costarring their new heart throb, Jean Gabin, and Michele Morgan. The French picture, "Port of Shadows," they made together was a great hit. Wouldn't be bad, now that they've both learned to speak English, to team 'em together. The one person who wouldn't be pleased, I'll wager, would be Marlene Dietrich.

The actors on the Eddie Robinson air show say the only difference between "Little Caesar" Robinson and Superman is that Eddie doesn't take time out to change his clothes.

Happy Landing.

Mrs. Colin Kelly, widow of our number one war hero, flies to New York June 13 for the New York at War celebration. She'll be marshal of the home front unit, leading them in the big army and navy parade. On the 16th she'll speak in Boston; opens the army air show at Philadelphia on the 20th; then to Huntington, W. Va., to visit the products corporation for whom she works in California. Leaves her son, Corky, in care of Uncle Ted Wick. . . . Well, well! Just before Gilbert Roland went into the army Monogram signed him for "Spell of the Tropics," so now they've arranged a furlough for him and he'll do the part.

Happenings in Our Town.

Pola Negri has written the story of her life, which is wandering around Hollywood in search of a publisher. . . . Sugar shortage has no terror for Addison Richards, who's bought himself beehives. He calls them "flying gold." . . . In spite of rumors to the contrary, Bill Tracy and Lois James are still engaged and happy about the whole thing. . . . Height of optimism: Young buck private, seated at Mocambo bar, reading the "help wanted" ads in the paper. . . . Mrs. Charles Boyer and Mrs. Clive Brook are taking the five weeks' nurses' aid training with Red Cross. . . . Overheard in a movie theater: A boy of 5 with his mother and aunt. Aunt remarked, "I'm just mad about that lamp." Boy piped up, "I don't like it either but I'm not mad about it." . . . Have you heard about the marine who studied all night because he was to have a blood test in the morning?

Hopping Hither and Yon.

On the "White Cargo" set, watched Walter Pidgeon and Dick Carlson having their manly faces sprayed with glycerine to look like perspiration while doing a scene in the heat of the jungle. But when Hedy La Marr appeared as a chocolate colored siren in white sarong the temperature went up so fast the glycerine was pure affectation! When I asked writer Leon Gordon how he got "White Cargo" by the Hayes office he said, "Simply by cutting out swear words. Today, with the world battling for its existence, we want battling individualists for our screen fare, too, and not a lot of pap." . . . Then on to "Random Harvest," where Ronnie Colman and Greer Garson did a love scene — as charming a bit of romantic screen lore as you'd witness in many a day. Ronnie always intrigues me anyway because, in each love scene, he makes it appear that's the first one he's ever done, and he's still a little sheepish about the whole thing. . . . Yes, Greer's really in love with Richard Ney, and vice versa, but I think the navy will get him before wedding bells can ring out.

Skip It, Boys—For Ladies Only!

Bobbie Kalloch, Metro's designer, passes on some helpful hints. Tie three vivid colored handkerchiefs together, then wind them around your belt. Gives out a faint gypsy look. . . . With a navy suit, have your buttons covered with the same gingham you're wearing in your blouse, and pin a large leaf cut out of bright green felt under your favorite brooch or clip. . . . A 10 cent cotton handkerchief brightly sprinkled with colored spangles which you can sew on yourself, used as a cravat or bandana, will have the other girls asking questions.

Pays to Relax.

Just shows what you can do if you stop trying. When Ann Ronnell, of "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf" fame, was in Washington she had an idea of doing a play around a typical American family. Talked it over with Archie MacLeish, who said, "Write it." She did. Next week it goes into rereasal on Broadway as "Count Me In." Husband Lester Cowan, who produced "Ladies in Retirement," is doing all right too. He was just putting his signature to George Abbott's play, "Best Foot Forward," when Metro horned in. Now the mighty Metro will have to pay him a pretty penny.

No So Dumb.

Joan Crawford helped Carey Wilson with "For Men Only." Scenes were laid in a beauty parlor. . . . Carey told me that at an air raid meeting a couple of the wardens were griping about the ban on rubber until they unleashed the new rubber gas masks, then said, "Gosh! For one of these I'd turn my car in and use a bicycle." . . . Wonder what Leon Henderson would say about actress Miriam Hopkins' business methods? Katharine Hepburn wanted to rent her hillside home, offered her $750. Offer raised to $1,000. Then Katharine said, "Oh, heck, I'll give you $1,250 for it." "Okay," said Miriam — then went out and rented herself a hilltop mansion for $250! Say, couldn't you use a girl like that in Washington, Leon?

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

A Tip to the Boss.

A switchboard operator writes to her boss:

Dear Boss: I know you are working under pressure. One afternoon last week you were standing in the doorway and I noticed how gray you had grown . . . and all at once you didn't look like Mr. Big of Bigger & Better Stores, but like a tired and harassed man. And, I remember my mother's saying that "not all the casualties of war are on the battlefield."

You see, I know the innumerable calls that come in . . . and the calls I put thru to Washington and the interminable waits. And I know the thousand and one demands upon you.

But something I have noticed lately . . . and just lately. You are sarcastic about the most trivial matters. You have your dukes up, as tho, in fighting a war, we were fighting each other!

So I thought I'd tell you. People can't do their best work in an office in which there is stinging sarcasm. It puts every one on the defensive.

At the end of the first day I ever worked for you I remember you said with a big smile, "You're okay, youngster!" How about that big smile again? How's about it, huh?

JANE.

Fitting.

From Mary Rose Noel, who has a natural sense of the fitness of things, comes the news: Roy J. Van Meter works at 1325 Peoples Gas building.

The Solution Is ——

Another solution to the problem of the banker who received the wire SEND followed by another wire MORE, is furnished by R. A. Godfriaux. The banker sent $10,652 and this is how he knew the correct amount.

By decoding, he knew the answer obviously was money, so SEND plus MORE equals MONEY. He learned by trial and error the value of the letters that appear more than once: N equals 6; E equals 5; M equals 1 and O equals 0. Thus far he has:

S 5 6 D
+ 1 0 R 5
1 0 6 5 Y

S must equal 9 [as no other number plus one equals 10]; R then must be 8 and can be only if D equals 7; Y then becomes 2 by addition:

9 5 6 7 This added to
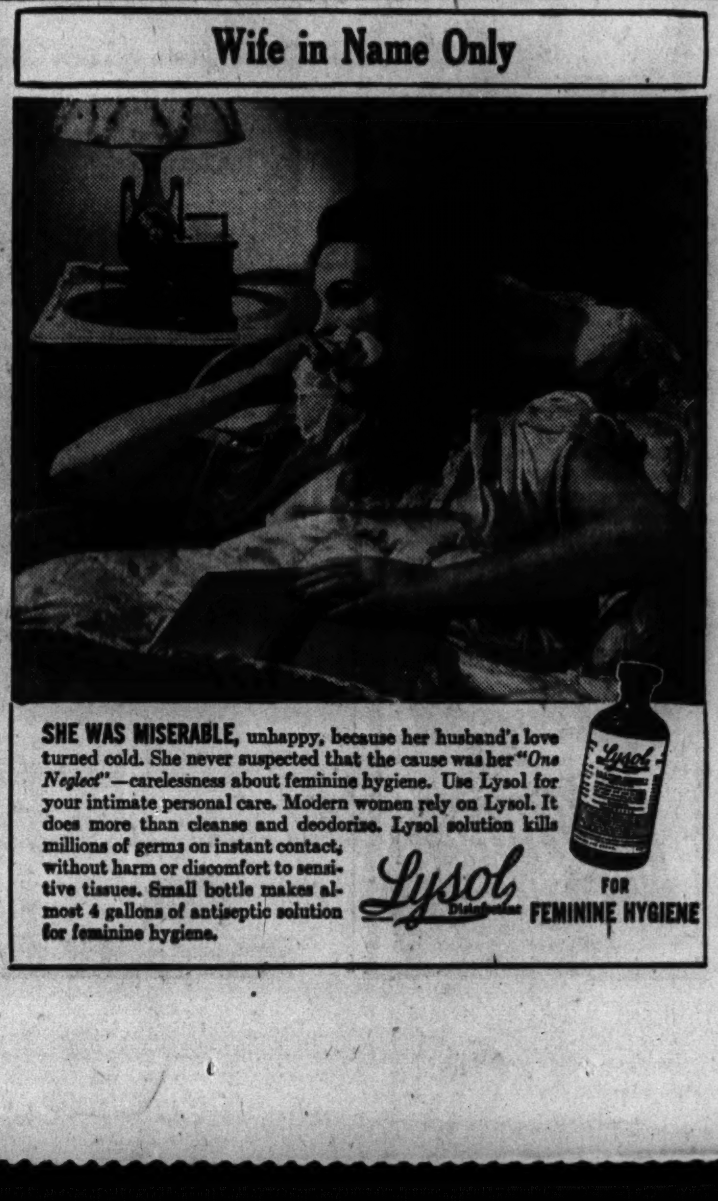
1 0 8 5 this, gives
M O R E
1 0 6 5 2 this.
M O N E Y

Which puts Mr Godfriaux at the head of the White Collar Girl class.

It Happens to Everybody.

They tell it about Mary Agnes Doyle of the Goodman theater when she first embarked on her career. The chairman of the meeting looked indulgently at the guests [chatting volubly] and turned to Miss Doyle who was scheduled to speak.

"Shall I introduce you now or let them enjoy themselves a while longer?" he asked to Miss Doyle's delight.



Wife in Name Only

SHE WAS MISERABLE, unhappy, because her husband's love turned cold. She never suspected that the cause was her "One Neglect"—carelessness about feminine hygiene. Use Lysol for your intimate personal care. Modern women rely on Lysol. It does more than cleanse and deodorize. Lysol solution kills millions of germs on instant contact, without harm or discomfort to sensitive tissues. Small bottle makes almost 4 gallons of antiseptic solution for feminine hygiene.

Noted Golfers to Appear in Benefit Match

BY JUDITH CASS.

EVEN the most ardent north shore golfers will discard their spoons and mashies on Saturday, June 28, for the chance to see Tommy Armour, Dick Metz, Patty Berg, and Georgia Tainter in competition is one that fans of the fairways should find hard to resist. The exhibition will be held at 2 o'clock at the Skokie Country club as a benefit project of the junior auxiliary of Hadley Correspondence School for the Blind.

Today further plans for the benefit will be made at a tea at 4 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Raymond E. Durham of Winnetka. Organizing the project are Mrs. Stewart Boal, Mrs. Frank Fowle Jr., Mrs. Clarence Boyd Jones, Mrs. Durham Jr., and Mrs. Hoyt P. Steele. Among those who will be assisting them are Mrs. Donald A. K. Brown, Miss Ruth Rockwood, Miss Margaret Bell, Miss Mary Trumbull, Miss Lucy Rumsey, Miss Hester Reilly, Miss Mary Lyon, Miss Anne Strong, Mrs. George W. Ryerson, Mrs. Gilbert H. Osgood, Mrs. John Quincy Adams Jr., Mrs. Miles Seelye, and Mrs. Benjamin Crawford.

Mrs. Boal and Mother in East for Marriage.

Mrs. Boal and her mother, Mrs. Ernest S. Ballard, are in New York today for the marriage of Mrs. Ballard's nephew, Lieut. Henry M. Kidder, and Miss Rein Tracy. The wedding will take place at 2:30 o'clock in the Church of the Ascension, and Lieut. Kidder will have a few days' leave before reporting for active duty with the navy. Many of the Ballards' friends met the young lieutenant when he was an usher several years ago at the Boals' wedding.

The Ballards had expected to have another wedding in their family this summer, that of their son, Joseph, and Miss Barbara Brown. Now the wedding has been postponed until young Mr. Ballard's army orders are more certain. He is stationed at an eastern post, while his brother, Ellis, is an instructor with the navy, stationed here.

Altho Mrs. Ballard won't be here, a meeting of the junior division of the British War Relief society, "Young America Wants to Help," which she had called for today, will be held as planned, with Mrs. William Sutherland carrying on the chairman's duties. The meeting is set for 11 o'clock in the headquarters at 30 North Michigan avenue.

Mrs. Albert G. Simms of Albuquerque, N. M., has arrived at the Drake, where she has been joined by her daughters, Mrs. Courtlandt D. Barnes Jr. of Alexandria, Va., and Mrs. Maxwell P. Miller Jr. of Rockford, Ill., and Mr. Miller. Mrs. Simms will be in Chicago and Rockford until next Friday.

Lake Forest Garden Club Ready for Benefit Tours.

The Lake Forest Garden club is especially grateful for the heavy rainfall during the past two weeks, for by now the five Lake Forest gardens to be opened for tomorrow's and Sunday's benefit tour are more lush and green than ever. The homes and gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Isham, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward De Witt Shumway, and Mr. and Mrs. William A. P. Pullman will be open to the public from noon to 6 o'clock on those two days.

Mrs. Shumway has gone east to attend the graduation of her daughter, Miss Grace, from Vassar college, but she has asked Mrs. John Stuart and Mrs. Barrett Scudder to serve as hostesses in her place. Their assistants on duty in the gardens to answer the questions of visitors will be Mrs. George W. Blossom Jr., Mrs. Charles S. De Long, and Mrs. John A. Chapman. Mrs. Keith's assistants will be Mrs. Stephen Y. Hord, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, and Mrs. C. McPherson Holt.

Others Who Will Assist with Tours Are Listed.

On duty at the Isham home will be Mrs. Knight C. Cowles and Mrs. William Burry Jr. Miss Madeleine Newell, Mrs. John H. Hamline Jr., Mrs. E. Ogden Ketting, and Mrs. B. Botsford Young will assist Mrs. Pullman. Mrs. Cummings' aids will be Mrs. Alfred E. Hamill, Mrs. James H. Douglas Jr., Mrs. Evans Spalding, and Miss Marion Clow.

Assisting Mrs. Charles Clarke with the ticket sale are Mrs. Donald Welles, Mrs. Edward K. Welles, Mrs. George F. McLaughlin, Mrs. Frank Priebe, Mrs. J. Beach Clow, Mrs. A. Werk Cook, Mrs. Smith Pirie, Mrs. Scott Bromwell, Mrs. Robert Mead, Mrs. John M. Simpson, Mrs. Norman S. Merritt, Mrs. Robert S. Macdonald, Mrs. Stephen Horton, Mrs. Joseph C. Belden Jr., Mrs. Macauley Carter, Mrs. Owen West, Mrs. Stuart Templeton, Mrs. Charles Dennehy, Mrs. Herbert McLaughlin, Mrs. Frederick McLaughlin II., Mrs. Wesley Dixon, Mrs. William S. Covington, Mrs. Louis S. Hardin, Mrs. John P. Wilson Jr., Mrs. Young, and Mrs. William K. Meyers.

She'll Be Among Flower Show Visitors in Hinsdale Today

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Katherine Grace, daughter of the junior John H. Graces of Hinsdale, will be one of many visitors today to the lovely home and gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eckert of Hinsdale. From 1 to 9 o'clock the Garden Club of Hinsdale and the Garden Study Club of Hinsdale will present their spring flower show on the grounds of the Eckert home. Gypsy picnics, market baskets, garden wheelbarrows, dish gardens, horticultural hobbies, and table arrangements will be among the entries.

Women in War Work . . . . By India Moffett

All those women who are anxious to get into war work that pays would feel encouraged as to the possibility of their realizing this ambition, if they could visit the Chicago ordnance district headquarters and talk to the officers in charge of the various divisions.

Gen. Donald Armstrong.

"We believe in women and it will not be many months until we have replaced with a woman every man under 45, except those so highly specialized that no women are trained to take their places," said one of the high ranking officers there the other day.

Women already are employed in large numbers by the Chicago ordnance district, of which Brig. Gen. Donald Armstrong is the chief, but, as the war goes on, it is anticipated that the percentage of women in this branch of the service will increase materially. Now about 40 per cent of the almost 5,000 employés are women. All ordnance workers who are not actually in the army are civil service employés, and since no women can be inducted into the army, every feminine ordnance worker must pass the civil service examination.

Women now are holding stenographic and filing positions in the ordnance offices at 38 South Dearborn street and it is planned to have them gradually take over most of the work in the mail and record, storage and traffic, reports and statistics, fiscal, personnel, and legal divisions. The production division is the only one that is not suitable to be included in women's work. Ordnance inspection, except for tanks and heavy gun carriages, is a "natural" for women, and Maj. E. P. Reed, head of the inspection division, says he finds women more reliable than men on small fuse parts.

Three hundred women are now employed as government ordnance inspectors in this district, and 500 more are going to be needed within the next few months, Maj. Reed is certain. Eight of those who just finished the course in ordnance inspection at the Illinois Institute of Technology now are taking further training in plants, and soon they will hold key positions and be in complete charge of government inspection in these plants. All the employés under them will be women, too.

For the benefit of those not familiar with ordnance work, and many women do not include this in their knowledge, the ordnance section of the war department purchases munitions and supervises their production. Consequently the government employs inspectors in every plant from which it purchases guns or ammunition, even tho the plant itself has similar employés.

A woman desiring to take training to get into this line of work in the Chicago ordnance district must have a high school education and one year of resident study in an engineering course in a college or university of recognized standing, or she must have successfully completed two years of college study, including one year of mathematics or one year of chemistry or physics, or she must be a graduate of a standard high school and have included one-half year of trigonometry and one year of physics in her curriculum. She must be at least 18 years of age and not more than 55 and she should apply to the civil service commission in the new post-office building for further information.

The purchasing assistance division is another section of ordnance in which women can work, especially those who have had experience as buyers in department stores, etc. These need not apply first to the civil service commission, but can apply directly to the personnel department of the ordnance district and thence go to civil service.

When one multiplies the number of women who will be employed before long in the Chicago ordnance district by 13 [the number of districts in the country] it seems safe to predict that within six months there will be about 25,000 women employed by the ordnance division of the war department.

We cannot resist mentioning that the gauge laboratory is the place to work in hot weather, for it is airconditioned, something the rest of the ordnance offices in Chicago are not.

Some of the women working under Gen. Armstrong, including his secretary, Mrs. Marie Knight, will be wearing uniforms before long, for a system has been worked out whereby women who have been in the ordnance department six months or longer and whose work is outstanding may wear uniforms. It is expected that the uniforms will be here within a week.

Last week's totals of war savings stamps and bonds sold in the 89 booths in Chicago amounted to $227,637. That brings the totals of booth sales since February to $1,420,828.

Women volunteers, 1,650 of them, staff these booths. Mrs. Allyn Warren, coördinating chairman of the woman's division of the Chicago and Cook county war savings staff, is chairman of the women volunteers.

Reports of other women workers swell the week's totals still further. Mrs. Leo Cummings, chairman of the Catholic committee, announces $347,430 as the total for her group; Mrs. Forrest W. Bills, for North Towns, $3,068,026; Mrs. Louis Mann, for the Jewish committee, $153,761, and Mrs. Georgia Hunt, for the hotels, $49,202. Total sales of all departments of the woman's division of this section are $4,568,587 for the week. All sales reported by the women to date total $20,882,623. Mrs. John Alden Carpenter is chairman of the woman's division.

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and will answer questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

Numerous Private Schools Will Hold Graduation Today

Owen D. Young will be the guest speaker at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the graduating exercises of the Girls' Latin school, to be held at the Casino.

The Francis W. Parker, the Harris, the North Shore Country Day, the Roycemore, and the Faulkner are other private schools holding their graduation exercises today. Following the Parker ceremony in the school, the principal, Herbert W. Smith, and Mrs. Smith will give a midnight supper for the graduating class.

James Martin of Highland Park will be the commencement speaker at the Harris exercises to be held at 11 o'clock. Laird Bell will address the graduating class at the North Shore Country Day at 3:30 o'clock. There will be a class breakfast at the Orrington hotel for the Roycemore seniors and the Faulkner school girls will be graduated tonight at the Kenwood church.

Matched Play Costumes Rate First in Favor

BY REA SEEGER.

This ensemble and assembling stunt grows like a Jack in the beanstalk project! It's a long, long time since such a simple get-together as a jacket or coat and companion dress satisfied the shoppers. Nowadays this sort of teamwork has to be something extra to rate any excitement at all. We've become used to as many as four and five units in one ensemble, each painlessly separable one from the other, sometimes sold in a set, others tagged and priced for single selection.

These first play days of the summer bring out a new crop of the easy to buy and easier to wear ensembles. You now assemble your play wardrobe from shorts to swim suit all made of the same gay cotton material and all designed with the same basic streamline.

No matter what you separate, no matter what you wear with what, you can be assured that you are smoothly costumed for any occasion or for any audience. In the cool, narrow striped cotton seersucker outfits, for instance, you'll find slacks and a jacket, the jacket ready to top a short flared skirt to make a town suit-dress for hot weather and office wear or a particularly smart travel outfit. Then, to add to all the fun, come the shorts and halter bra, or the bicycle skirt with a shirt blouse with long sleeves, any of them ready for mixup duty with the other pieces, and at last the swim suits, in either two or one piece models, all made of the same seersucker.

This same ensemble idea is obtainable in faded blue denim. Only in the denim matched collections you'll find middy blouses, sailor pants, garden overalls, a sailor suit with skirt, and the shorts and bra top for swimming.

Printed cotton is the third new summer find, and the same patterned and colored cotton is used for all the pieces, shorts, slacks, swim suit, play suit of button-on skirt, and blouse and shorts cut in one piece, play dress with gathered skirt, and the new, very feminine swim outfits made with gathered-on skirt and short sleeved peasant style bodice.

Phi Omega Pi Members Hold Conclave Tomorrow

Appearing at a Phi Omega Pi convention dinner tomorrow night in the Georgian hotel in Evanston, Miss Gertrude M. Anderson will speak on "Sororities and the National Emergency." The convention will draw undergraduate and alumnae members of the sorority from Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, and northern Indiana. Miss Frances Chatburn of Springfield, national president of Phi Omega Pi, will speak at a luncheon session earlier in the day.

Presidents of Clubs Called for Special Meeting Today

The board of directors of the Chicago and Cook County Federation of Women's Organizations has called a special meeting of the presidents of clubs affiliated with the federation for 10:30 o'clock this morning in the Republic building, 209 South State street. Vacancies on the board are to be filled and the problems of membership and program will be discussed.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY KATE MASSEE

Off the Cuff.

One incident of the wool clips collection, sponsored in the conservation program of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, almost spelled tragedy. To accommodate a photographer, a salesman for one of the contributors cut the cuff off one leg of a new pair of trousers. In the general rush the trousers, instead of the cuffs, were collected. The following day the salesman called the Red Cross, very much perturbed—in fact, practically in fear of losing his job. The volunteers attacked the four ton pile of wool. The missing trousers were found and returned to the greatly relieved salesman.

Oddities in Signs.

On Garfield boulevard, reports Richard Baker, the paint is still wet on a sign on a barber shop window. It reads: "Courtesy, Sanity, Service."

Another contributor reports that at the entrance to the Great Lakes Naval Training station there's a sign announcing: "No General Visiting." Our contrib asks: "Could it be an admiral?"

Oh, Oh!

After reading Martha Wendt's recent impressions of Taos, N. M., Mrs. William M. Mansfield recalled a painful incident that befell her some years ago in those parts. She and her hostess, Mrs. Frank Cheatham, drove out to visit the pueblo, where they met the former wife of Tony Luhan, full blooded Indian who later married Mabel Dodge, the author. When Mrs. C. commented on the way home that Luhan's former wife received $15 a month alimony, Mrs. M. asked the name of the lawyer inexpert enough to have got such a small amount for a client. "It was my husband," replied Mrs. C. quietly.

Lost Manuscript.

The young woman who, in rushing to board a train at the 55th street station of the Illinois Central on Wednesday, left an unfinished poem AND a thick block of copy paper on the bench, may retrieve same by calling us. Her property was thoughtfully brought into this department by a delightful gentleman whose initials are L. J. K.

Casualties.

The first aid class in the Insurance Exchange building believes in practicing what it preaches, according to Erma R. Specht. The other night the instructor discussed shock, strangulation, and the like, then gave the class a brief recess. During the recess two of the students fainted, and another, gasping at the sight, lodged a candy drop in her throat and provided the third in a series of subjects for first aid.

Philosophy.

We stop to ponder the advice at the top of today's calendar:

"One should discipline oneself in the spirit of autumn, and deal with others in the spirit of spring.—Chang Cha'o."

Nice Time Had by All.

In celebration of the return to radio of the Clara, Lu 'n' Em program [with a new Em] the girls gave a party one afternoon this week at the Blackstone, greeting the guests, who came from as far as Waukegan, in character. The highlight of the occasion was the presentation to the trio of a cookie 3 feet in diameter, gift of the flour company that sponsors their program. The cookie was duly admired, then forwarded to a Chicago orphanage as a special treat to the youngsters living there.

Mother Must Try Leniency Now and Then

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

An artist, in creating a picture, must know what to leave out as well as what to put in. In motherhood it's quite as much of an art to know what to overlook as what to see and correct.

I've always said that, of the two, I'd rather see a parent too lenient than too strict, particularly with a young child. But if ever there was a time to be lenient, even if you believe in strict discipline, it's when your child is tired, or hungry, or not well.

You'll lose nothing by letting your principle not to overlook anything slide at these times, because the tired child isn't himself, and the hungry child often is really not responsible for his little irritabilities. "Hunger pangs" are no joke. They're real pangs, and young growing things are very dependent on their nourishment.

This "hunger naughtiness," incidentally, doesn't affect all children, nor all ages. There are some who don't acquire it until they're pretty big. Perhaps their individual digestion or rate of growth has something to do with it. It's most noticeable at the two extremes, for certainly the baby "yips" with fervor when it's past feeding time, and the adolescent, or near adolescent, often yips, too, altho in a somewhat different manner, when his "innards" do call for food.

"Jim used to be simply awful when he was 10 and hungry," said Jim's grandmother. And Jim, now in his twenties, grinned reminiscently.

"Gosh, mom," said a 16 year old finishing his dessert of apple pie and milk, "I feel better. I know what was the matter with me, I was hungry. I wish you'd just ignore my howls and growls next time if it's near mealtime."

Hold off with your disciplining if it's near the end of the day or near your child's tired time, for many children do have a tired time of day. If your child is very weary, or far past her regular mealtime, just overlook all that you can that you might make an issue of at some other time. Feed your child or give her a bath, or have her lie down; or, if it's not too early, tuck her into bed just as fast as you can.

Go easy on your very tired child, your ravenously hungry child, or your child who isn't well. Make allowances. Make light of things. Be calm, and easy, and tactful. Even under normal circumstances we're likely to make an issue of too many things. Under these circumstances we should be especially lenient.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1942: By Ely Culbertson.]

There is one type of opponent against whom it is highly profitable to bid a doubtful slam. This type, accepting the slam bidder's judgment, takes it for granted that the slam contract will be fulfilled and, thrown into a panic at such a dire prospect, rushes forward with a sacrifice bid. In today's hand, North's overcall of the opponents' slam bid was sacrificial indeed.

East, dealer,
East-West vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ 10 9 8 3
♥ 9 4 3
♦ 7
♣ J 8 6 5 3

WEST
♠ Q 7
♥ K 8
♦ Q 10 9 6 3 2
♣ K 7 4

EAST
♠ A 5 2
♥ A Q J 10 6 5
♦ A J 5
♣ 10

SOUTH
♠ K J 6 4
♥ 7 2
♦ K 8 4
♣ A Q 9 2

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	1 spade	2 diamonds	Pass
6 hearts	Pass	Pass	6 spades
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

I scarcely need say that South did not do well in his six spade contract. Indeed, he was defeated no fewer than seven tricks for a penalty of 1,300 points.

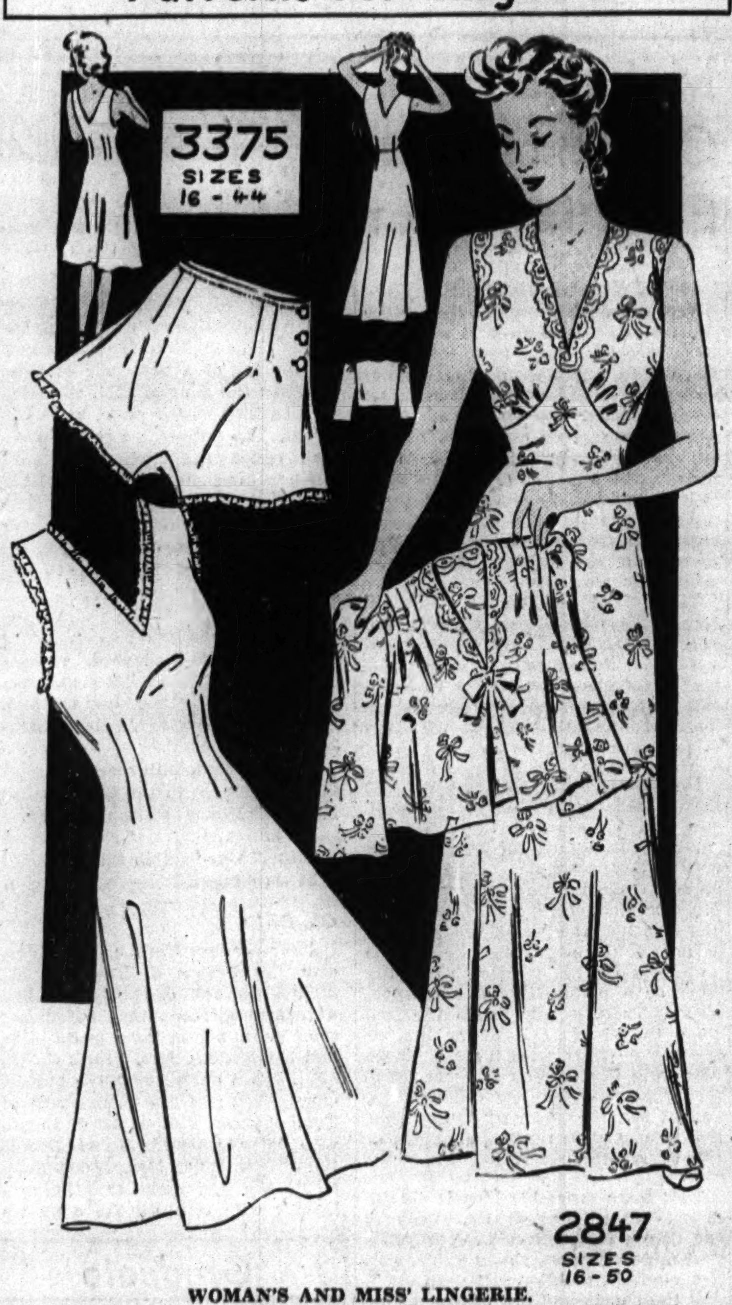
Even this huge penalty would have been a bargain except for one little thing, and that was that East never could have fulfilled the six heart contract.

The inconsistency of North's bidding must be apparent. He had not considered his hand good enough for a single spade raise over the two diamonds, yet, when the opponents went to a slam, gave what amounted to five raises. Admittedly, in doing so he felt that he was forestalling an adverse slam that would give the opponents 1,430 points. But what made him so sure that said slam would be cold? The mere fact that East had bid it and that South had not doubled was scarcely conclusive. South might feel he had a reasonable chance to defeat the slam and yet would not feel called upon to double.

Obviously, had South known that his diamond king was over, instead of under, the diamond ace, he would have doubled, but, lacking that information, a double would have been highly speculative. And, besides, how could South tell that a partner who had given no raise up to date would suddenly take it into his head to bid six-odd?

The moral is that it sometimes pays to pass and let the opponents play their slam contracts.

Patterns for Lingerie



WOMAN'S AND MISS' LINGERIE.

Dainty lingerie gives a lift to the spirit of any work-weary woman. And it's relaxing, in your time off from a job, home-management, or war work, to sew for yourself. These simple patterns make handsome lingerie.

Style No. 3375 is designed for size 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 2¾ yards of 35 inch or 39 inch material, with 2¾ yards of edging for slip; for panties, 1⅛ yards of 39 inch fabric with 1½ yards of edging.

Style No. 2847 is designed for size 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material with 2¼ yards of lace for nightgown; 1⅝ yards of 39 inch, with ¾ yard of lace, for jacket.

Each pattern costs 10 cents, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost (coin preferred—wrap it carefully), for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly. The spring pattern book costs 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Need for Women in Medical Field Told at Job Clinic

A job in the medical field is usually permanent, well paid, and pleasant, women and girls who attended the sixth Women's Executive committee job clinic last night in the Merchants and Manufacturers' club were told by the various speakers, all leaders in the hospital field.

More than 65,000 nurses and between 50,000 and 100,000 pharmacists, dentists, physio-therapists, and dieticians soon will be needed to staff hospitals and other health centers left short handed by staff members leaving to serve in the armed forces, it was announced.

Seventeen representatives from different fields of medical work advised that Illinois hospitals are eager to recruit temporary workers during the schools' summer vacations. The job clinic was under the supervision of Mrs. Edna H. Nelson and Miss Mabel Binner. Miss Anne V. Zinser is director of the Women's Executive committee.

Foreign Blood Ties Threaten Poor Dan Cupid

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

We have been receiving communications from young women and from some young men which involve the subject of foreign complications due to the nationalities of parents.

For example, Carol likes a boy whose parents are Italian born. The youth was born in this country, and is desirous of getting into service as soon as he can overcome a handicap which currently disqualifies him. Carol tells that her parents are dead set against her seeing the youth, and threaten her with disinheritance.

We hear similar tales about parental feeling running high against German blood, altho, in one case presented, at least, it was a grandparent who emigrated from Germany, and his sons, and their sons, all were born in America and enjoy American citizenship.

In no case yet presented has the attempt to block young romance been because of the actual foreign citizenship of the young man or woman. It's invariably a generation or two removed from the old soil, and the youth born here. With feeling running high against our enemies, poor Dan Cupid stands in the way of being torpedoed by dissenting parents and guardians.

But is it American, or the democratic spirit to blame the American born generation for circumstances of their fathers' or grandfathers' nationality? We believe not.

C. H. tells, for instance, that her beau, now denied her house on her father's order, was born on a farm in New York state, attended an American agricultural college, where his national eligiblity was never challenged until her dad took it upon himself to go back into his family history and discover blood he'll have none of in his family, so help him, he cries.

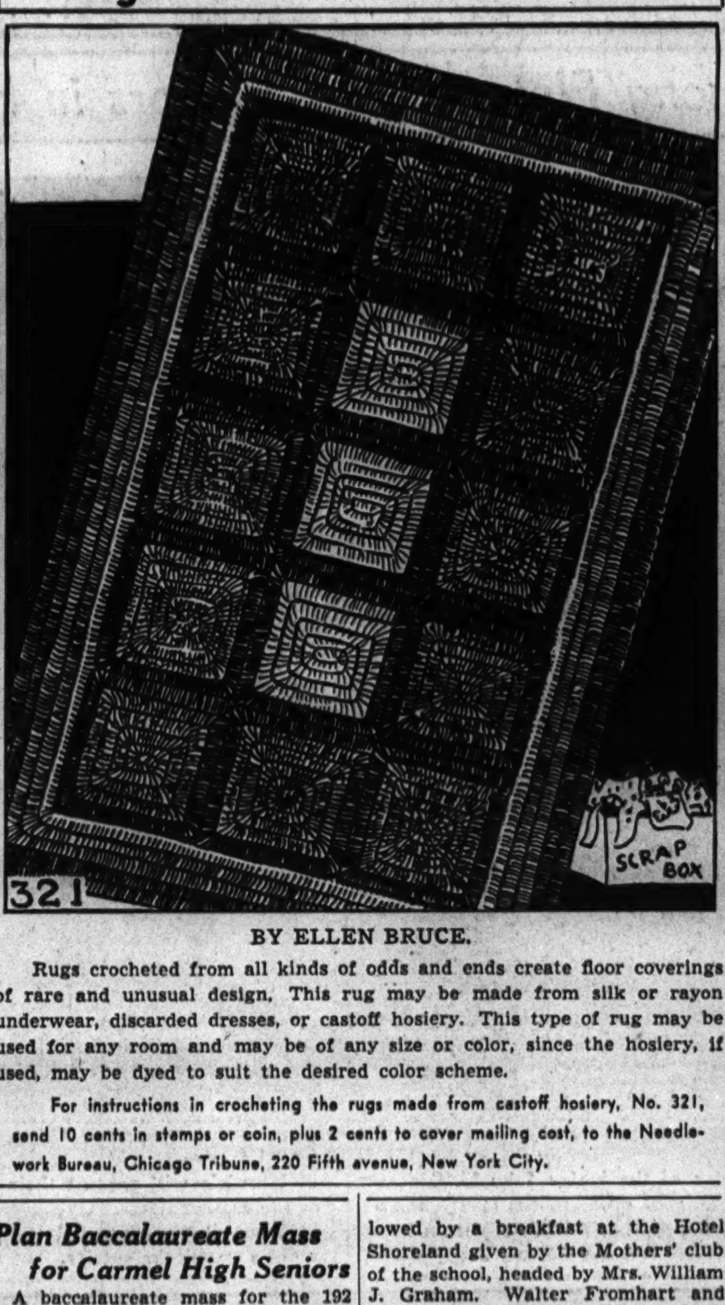
Home Makers to Meet.

The Chicago and Cook County Home Makers' association will hold a special meeting at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday in the Pan-American room of the Hotel La Salle.

Rugs Made from Castoffs



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Rugs crocheted from all kinds of odds and ends create floor coverings of rare and unusual design. This rug may be made from silk or rayon underwear, discarded dresses, or castoff hosiery. This type of rug may be used for any room and may be of any size or color, since the hosiery, if used, may be dyed to suit the desired color scheme.

For instructions in crocheting the rugs made from castoff hosiery, No. 321, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Plan Baccalaureate Mass for Carmel High Seniors

A baccalaureate mass for the 192 graduates of Mount Carmel High school, 6422 Dante avenue, will be celebrated at 8 a. m. Sunday in St. Clara's church, 64th street and Woodlawn avenue. The mass will be followed by a breakfast at the Hotel Shoreland given by the Mothers' club of the school, headed by Mrs. William J. Graham. Walter Fromhart and John Jordan, coaches at the school, and Harry O'Rourke, president of the alumni association, will speak. The Rev. Ambrose Casey is principal of Mount Carmel.

An Old Photo Can Hand You Beauty Laugh

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Were you to uncover an old photograph of a currently popular Hollywood star you'd probably go off into gales of laughter over the bleached and now incredible hairdo, the great gobs of shadow on eyelids, and the mouth looking like a drive for prunes. But before you die laughing over the screen celebrity, it might be an idea to dig up an old stored away picture of yourself, and there you have something for hearty laughter, if you can take it that way.

It's a clever suggestion emanating from Winifred Mulcahey, who covers Hollywood news, and Winifred guarantees that the chuckles will be on you on the last round. All of which is introduced by way of reminding us women that we can be terribly dated as to coiffure, makeup, silhouette, nail appearance, everything, so that time out now and then for a brief study of how we may possibly be "dating" ourselves is profitable.

Even tho you don't want to enjoy a laugh at your own expense, that old photograph can be a neat measuring rod of your progress pictorially in the last decade.

We have a feeling that, if mind photographs were obtainable and preservable, and they were dug out every five years or so and comparison made, there'd be more slackening and letdown shown than on the physical features. And that makes a vital question with which to approach, or reproach, oneself: What mental development do I show over that of 2, 5, 10 years ago? Regardless of what may be said by, about, and for the physical attainments, it's how the mind clicks today that rates you as a young and attractive person and interesting personality.

Tea for New Members.

A tea in compliment to new members will be given by Chicago section of the National Council of Jewish Women this afternoon in the Medical and Dental Arts building, 185 North Wabash avenue.

Thru the Looking Glass

One thing we can be thankful for is the reappearance of beautiful, inexpensive hot weather colognes, really lovely refreshants that have been extremely popular for the last few years. We were afraid they couldn't make an appearance this season because of the much talked of shortages, but it develops that their maker was sufficiently foresighted to have a huge stock. So we can enjoy them while we may.

Because we believe that cologne should be used lavishly we like ours in large bottles, not too costly. We never did go along with the notion that colognes should be priced and packaged like perfumes and used as sparingly as their price might make necessary. To serve its real purpose as a refreshant cologne should be slathered, we think.

These come in 10 ounce bottles and are so low priced your conscience won't hurt when you splash the content around. There are five fragrances. Our favorite most of the time is the rose geranium bouquet; it's a scent we're crazy about because it's spicy as well as sweet. There is another we like—just "natural," with the scent of good old classic cologne and suggestive of no definite perfume. It's wonderfully refreshing.

The others are a jasmin bouquet, an old fashioned sort of sweet spice, and a floral bouquet that suggests lilac. All are lovely and what you will like will depend of course on your own tastes.

The big thing is that these are so priced that you can swish them in your tub, dash them lavishly against your skin after a bath, and even toss then into the water when you rinse your hands.

Mary Carns are coming from Madison, Wis., to be the house guests of the Hempstead Washburnes and to attend the show.

Smith College Scholarship Given to Joan Lundberg.

The Evanston-North Shore Smith College club has awarded its freshman scholarship for the coming year to Joan Lundberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Lundberg of Winnetka. Joan is being graduated from New Trier High school, where she was a member of the senior tennis team and senior singles champion, as well as a member of the first hockey team, the Girls' Career club, the French club, and the honor society.

Mrs. Walter B. Wolf is going to Quonsett, R. I., on Tuesday to see her son, Walter J. Watson, be graduated with the latest aviation volunteer specialists' class to go into the service. From Rhode Island she plans to go on to Washington, D. C., to see her son and daughter-in-law, the Hathaway Watsons.

Miss Marie-Merrill Hubbard will be in the east this week-end to serve as bridesmaid for her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Sears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Sears of Boston and Hamilton, Mass. Miss Sears and Benjamin O. Gardiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hallowell Gardiner of Gardiner, Me., will be married on Sunday in Christ church, Hamilton, with the bridegroom's godfather, the Rev. Francis Lee Whittemore, officiating.

Mary Elizabeth Myers Wed to Robert Schram.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa L. Myers of Downey, Ill., and Robert Miller Schram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schram of New York and Hillview, Green county, Illinois, were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Presbyterian church in Lake Forest, the pastor, the Rev. Oliver Brackett, officiating. Following the ceremony there was a reception at the Hotel Moraine-on-the-Lake in Highland Park.

The bride and bridegroom both attended the University of Illinois. He left school last winter to enlist in the navy and now is stationed at Great Lakes, where his bride has been doing office work since May 1. They will live temporarily in Waukegan. The senior Mr. Schram is president of the New York Stock exchange.

The John Alden Carpenters are leaving on June 19 for their summer place at Beverly, Mass.

After this week the Lawrence A. Meekers' permanent address will be their farm in St. Albans, Vt., instead of Chicago. The Meekers are leaving for the east tomorrow.

With an eye for the present commuting problems, the Service club has decided to hold its annual summer luncheon in town instead of in the country as usual. The party will be given at 12:30 o'clock on Monday at the Casino, with Mrs. Robert A. Cavenaugh presiding.

The Chicago chapter of the Connecticut College Alumnae association will hold a benefit cocktail party for the alumnae scholarship fund this afternoon at the University club. Mrs. L. Gifford Gardner is chairman.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Dower of Hinsdale have announced the engagement of their daughter, Betty Jane, to Ensign J. B. Heskett, son of Mrs. Lillian Heskett of Cedar Rapids, Ia. Ensign Heskett was graduated from Iowa State college and from the Naval Reserve Midshipmen's school at Northwestern university. He is stationed on the west coast.

The Housewife

For the friend who is collecting ceramic figures there are some delightful new ones, American made, and most appealing. They are of children and may be bought singly, or as a family. There's a baby, a little girl sprawled on her stomach, and another, slightly older, sitting on the ground. All are partly in a deep blue glaze and partly in the terra cotta tone of the clay. Each figure has its name on the back. These are charming to use in flower arrangements, too.

Party Planned for Benefit of School Children's Aid

The School Children's Aid society will receive the funds raised tonight at a card party sponsored by the Chicago Truant Officers' federation in the Stevens hotel. This is the sixth annual banquet given for the aid by the truant officers in coöperation with William L. Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education. Last year the School Children's Aid clothed 20,475 youngsters.

Clayton F. Smith Will Be Church's Guest Speaker

Clayton F. Smith, president of the Cook county board of commissioners, will be guest speaker Sunday morning before the congregation of the Fourth Congregational church, 2625 North Talman avenue. His topic will be "Some Things That Life Has Taught Me." Dr. Edgar L. Bell is pastor of the church.

On the House

Of interest is the news that ready made houses built of welded steel panels are being taken to homesites directly from the factory; little houses 11 feet wide by some 27 feet long. . . . The entire weight of the house is approximately nine tons and it is asserted that these houses are made from a sheet steel too light for most war purposes. . . . Inside these houses, which are insulated, there's a 10x18 feet living room, with one end of it devoted to sink, electric refrigerator, range and storage cabinets. . . . Also there's a bedroom with a bed that rolls away and a bathroom. . . . For concealment of the kitchen end, there's a Venetian blind that pulls down to the floor. . . . The house is laid on prepared foundation piers.

Scandinavian Group to Fete 2 at Luncheon

The American-Scandinavian Foundation is expecting a large turnout at a luncheon today for Carl Sandburg and Lieut. Col. Ole Reistad, commander of the Norwegian air force in Canada. The party will be given at 12:45 o'clock in the Red Lacquer room of the Palmer House. The two visitors also will attend a Swedish-American rally being given at 8:15 o'clock tonight in Orchestra hall to raise funds to purchase 27 training planes for Camp Little Norway in Canada. Mrs. Eric Melin is arranging the rally.

◆

Seated at the speakers' table will be Consuls Gosta Oldenburg, Reimund Baumann, Sigurd Maseng, and Elmer A. Forsberg and their wives, Miss Florence Dibell Bartlett, Franklin Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andersen, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. O. Preus, Charles S. Petersen, and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Q. Johnson. Assisting Mrs. Clarence E. Englund as hostesses will be Mrs. John L. Clarkson, Mrs. Alva Knight, Mrs. Halford Kittleman, Mrs. William Falck, Mrs. Theodore Stensland, Mrs. Paul Moore, and Mrs. Woodruff Parker.

Among those with reservations to hear Col. Reistad and Mr. Sandburg speak are Mrs. Jacob Baur, Bowman Lingle, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Sudler, Mrs. Mitchell Follansbee, Clifford Barnes, Mrs. Sidney Stein, and Mrs. Laban J. Brady.

◆

Col. Reistad escaped from Norway after the German occupation. Since then he and many of his officers have been reunited in Canada, where they now are training more than 1,000 young pilots.

Your Stars ★ Today ★

By WYNN

Friday, June 5.

Slow and easy gets more today than fast and furious. Hold over those urges to criticize superiors and the other sex—till they evaporate. Keep an eye on the long pull; try to see clearly your relationship to big events now forming.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead from today your anniversary brings necessary reaping of past errors—face them. Better financial possibilities, from Aug. on—push interests. Pick new things very carefully. Danger: Aug. 15-23; Dec. 22-Jan. 4; April 29-May 6.

Tomorrow.

Stick to the known; progress possible, but be not hurried.

Dr. Ayala, Ex-President of Paraguay, Dies at 68

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 4 (AP).—Dr. Eusebio Ayala, 68 years old, president of Paraguay during the bitter Chaco war with Bolivia and former Paraguayan minister to the United States, Mexico, and Cuba, died here today in exile. He had been living in Argentina since a revolt led by veterans of the Chaco war ousted him from the presidency in 1936. Dr. Ayala formerly taught philosophy, political law, and sociology at the National university in Paraguay and had served as minister of finance, education, and foreign affairs.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Glen [Rip] Russell, still carrying on his one man campaign for preservation of his job at first base for the Cubs, came bowling along with a ninth inning homer, his third in three days, yesterday, but the blow failed to stop the Giants. Russell's feat brought on a tie, which Willard Marshall dissolved in the 11th by banging the ball into the right field seats against Rescuer Tot Pressnell. The score was 4 to 3, one of the enemy runs being propelled by Manager Mel Ott, who thus ascended to a clear claim to the National league's run driven in record—1,583.

Rogers Hornsby had been credited with the old record of 1,582, but last night it was learned that he had batted in 29 of these runs as an American leaguer. Thus Ott really broke the National league record when he drove in his 1,553d run last season.

While the Cubs were suffering considerably with the southpawing of Cliff Melton, who registered his seventh success of the year, the Giants, two of them in particular, were heaping grief on Jake Mooty, the little man who finally gave up in the ninth. Four times during the struggle Mooty had to contend with a combination of Harry Danning and Bill Jurges. In three of these four times they were paired on the bases, the Giants getting two of their runs in this fashion.

Melton Is Plenty Tough.

Melton, until toward the finish, was brutal in his handling of the Cubs. They bruised him for two runs in the second inning before an out was registered, but he bounced back with a string of 17 successive outs, which brought him up to Phil Cavarretta with two gone in the seventh. Phil broke the string by beating out an infield looper that Jurges couldn't quite reach, only to be nipped on an attempted steal a moment later.

Clyde McCullough blew open the eighth with a two bagger and one of the three who quickly furnished successive outs was Jim Foxx, making his league debut as pinchman for Stan Hack. The introduction resulted in a fly to Ott. Then Russell's homer, a drive into the left field seats, broke into the proceedings after two were out in the ninth. There followed a Cub tenth that for a minute looked as if it might prove decisive, but there was no hit or even a fly ball. Cavarretta walked, was bunted to second and took third when Pinch Batter Bob Scheffing drew a two base wild throw from Bill Werber. Bob Sturgeon, who replaced Hack, grounded to Jurges, but the veteran sent a bullet throw to Gus Mancuso and Cavarretta was nailed. Then Merullo lined to Werber.

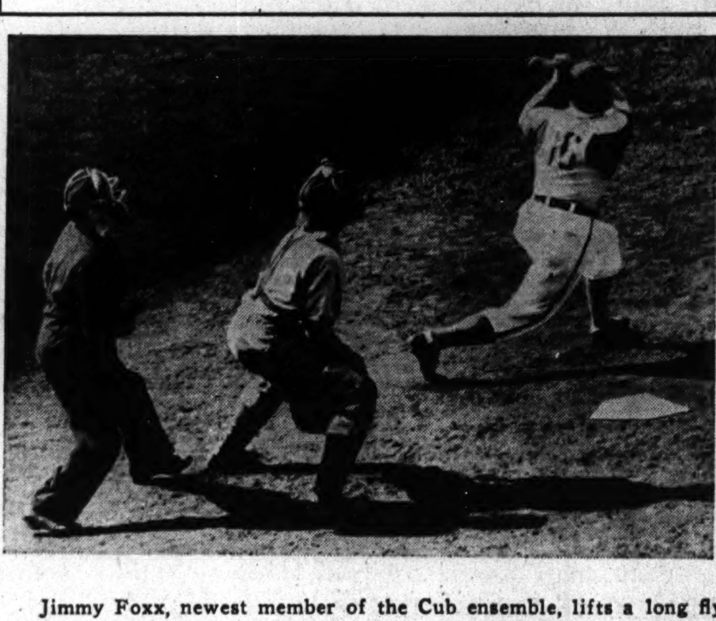
Danning Starts Trouble.

Because a hit followed a pass, the Giants were able to boast of a one run lead for a few minutes in the second inning. Danning drew the gratuity with one out and, altho no Mercury afoot, got to third on Jurges' single to center, scoring from there while Lou Stringer was throwing out Mickey Witek. Four Cubs reached base before an out was registered in their half of the second, but the whole thing died quickly. Bill Nicholson walked and Russell, Lou Novikoff, and Cavarretta hit safely, the latter a double. Two runs got home.

One hit was sufficient to hoist the Giants back to a 2 to 2 tie in the third. Werber led off with a double to left, moved to third on Marshall's smash, of which Russell made a grand larceny stop, and scored on Ott's fly to Nicholson.

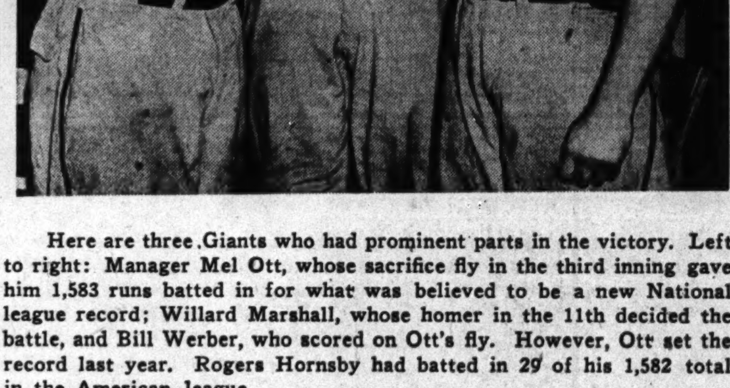
Then Mooty got the first two Giants out of the way in the eighth before encountering the Danning-Jurges duo for the fourth time. Danning walked and again took third on a single by Jurges to center. Witek followed with a single thru short and Danning trotted in with the run that broke the tie.

New Cub Fails as Giants Succeed



Jimmy Foxx, newest member of the Cub ensemble, lifts a long fly to right field as he pinch hits for Stan Hack in the eighth inning of yesterday's duel with the Giants in Wrigley field. New York won, 4 to 3, in 11 innings. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

Here are three Giants who had prominent parts in the victory. Left to right: Manager Mel Ott, whose sacrifice fly in the third inning gave him 1,583 runs batted in for what was believed to be a new National league record; Willard Marshall, whose homer in the 11th decided the battle, and Bill Werber, who scored on Ott's fly. However, Ott set the record last year. Rogers Hornsby had batted in 29 of his 1,582 total in the American league.



Among the spectators were these Dodgers, who had an open date and decided to scout the Cubs for the five game series which will open with a double header today. Left to right—(front) Pitcher Curt Davis and Infielder Lew Riggs; (back) First Baseman Dolph Camilli and Pitcher Whitlow Wyatt.

EXPECT SERVICE MEN TO SWELL CROWD AT MEET

USO Providing Tickets for Central Track.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Service men, by securing tickets from the USO, will be admitted without charge to the 17th annual Central Collegiate track meet tomorrow night in Marquette stadium. Since the war, Milwaukee has become a mecca for sailors. Thousands of those stationed at Great Lakes travel north to Milwaukee rather than add to the congestion in Chicago's loop. Many are expected at the stadium.

The Central Collegiate meet will start tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock with a parade of officials, American Legion drum and bugle corps, and the queen of the games, Ethelann Brandt, and her court of honor. Fifteen minutes later, the mile run, opening championship event, will be held. In this race Indiana's Campbell Kane will defend his 1941 honors.

Expect Near Record Crowd.

With the attendance of navy men, Conrad Jennings, director of athletics at Marquette university, believes a near record crowd will jam the stadium. Milwaukee always has been a splendid sports center for track and field and if fair weather is tomorrow's portion, the 17th meet may be one of the best.

The Central meet is unique in that it is compressed into one day altho 29 colleges and universities will compete this year. Trials in 10 of the 16 events will be held tomorrow afternoon starting at 2 o'clock. These preliminaries include four of the six field events, the broad jump, shot put, discus throw, and javelin throw, and all of the track events except the relays, the mile, and two mile runs. The afternoon track program consists of the low and high hurdles, the 100 yard and 220 yard sprints, the quarter mile, and half mile runs.

Limitation on Athletes.

Because of the physical demands of the one day program an athlete almost is confined to two events by the afternoon trials. Tomorrow this limitation and the withdrawal of key men from the Notre Dame squad has left the question of the team championship a matter of guess work. Notre Dame won the indoor Central Collegiate championship and also successfully defended its Indiana state title against Indiana university's challenge.

Notre Dame would have been the favorite to take the championship Indiana won last year, but now the Hoosiers definitely have a chance. Campbell Kane should win two first places, Earl Mitchell is picked to capture the two mile, and apparently there is no mile relay team that can whip the Hoosiers. Twenty points for four titles, supported by perhaps another 20 points for places—five finishers score in each event—may help Indiana win.

Other Hoosier Members.

Paul Kendall, who generally runs second to Kane in the mile, is most valuable to Indiana. Other members of the Indiana team are Larry Falwell and Keith Long, sprinters; Harry Price, quarter miler; Richard Steel, hurdler; Lexie Mills, broad jumper; Cort Rogers and Charles Labotka, two milers, and Lou Saban, weights.

Notre Dame's Jim Delaney is expected to win the shot put, in which event he finished second to Indiana's Archie Harris last June. But, with the recent entry of Jim Deal of Rice institute, Delaney's task seems a bit more difficult.

Rice Is a Threat.

If Deal can win the shot put, Rice institute conceivably may take three individual championships. Bill Cummins is picked in the high hurdles mainly because he defeated Charley Hlad of Michigan Normal in the 120 yard event at the Drake relays. Harold Hall seems to be the best of the group of quarter milers.

Nearly all contestants will arrive today in Milwaukee. Several of the athletes from greater distances already have arrived and have been working out on the Marquette track. Coaches' meetings will be held tonight and tomorrow morning. The annual coaches' and officials' party is scheduled immediately after the games tomorrow night.

HALE AMERICA GOLF TRIALS TO BE RESUMED TODAY

72 to Seek 14 Places on Medinah No. 3 Course.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The march of the Hale America National Open golf tournament, the game's No. 1 contribution to the war effort, will continue today and tomorrow over the No. 3 course of the Medinah Country club, where 36 holes will be played today and 18 tomorrow in the local sectional trials. A field of 46 professionals and 26 amateurs will be swinging for the 14 places allotted to this area in the main event, to be decided at Chicago's Ridgemoor Country club on June 18, 19, 20, and 21. These 72 earned their rôles in the week-end examinations via the local rounds conducted at Olympia Fields on May 25.

Similar sectional tests will ensue thru the next five days in 12 other centers thruout the country. The New England section, qualification for which has been reduced to 36 holes, will see 21 players working for two places at Auburndale, Mass. Fifty-four hole trials, duplicating the Chicago event, will go on today and tomorrow in Kansas City and Bloomfield, N. J., with the Missouri delegation of 42 aiming for five places, and 14 berths being reserved for the field of 68 competing in the New York rounds in Bloomfield. Eight other centers will go over 54 holes tomorrow and Sunday, while the Los Angeles trials are set for Monday and Tuesday.

Will Join Exempt Players.

All of these sectional qualifiers will be toiling for one of the 80 places allotted for players who were not excepted for the local and sectional rounds. The winners of berths in this semi-final phase will join with a special group of exempt players in making up the starting field at Ridgemoor, where 18-holes will be played on each of four days.

Frank Perpich, the Waukegan amateur who won a Chick Evans caddy scholarship at Northwestern university and later starred on the Wildcat varsity foursome, will be the top man in the field at Medinah today and tomorrow. Frank put together a 71—73—144 that included four birdies and an eagle to lead the rounds at Olympia Fields. He will tee off at 10:10 o'clock this and tomorrow morning and at 2:25 o'clock this afternoon. Frank will be traveling in fancy company, his partners being Tom Armour of the home club and Dick Metz of Oak Park.

Other Leaders Are Listed.

Other leaders in the local trials who will be out at Medinah to earn a rôle in the Ridgemoor ensemble are Jim Ferrier of Elmhurst, Wilford Wehrle of Racine, Jim Foulis of Ruth Lake, Walter Keller of Keller's Fairways, Art Doering of Medinah, Emil Mashie of Onwentsia, Harry Adams and Charley Penna, both of Medinah; Bill Gordon of Tam o' Shanter, Johnny Lehman of Olympia Fields, Sam Barnardi of Old Elm, Bill Mehlhorn of the Devon Links, Bill Rhodes of Northmoor, Hank Bowbeer of Riverside, and Pick Wagner of Kildeer.

The last starters in today's two rounds are scheduled to tee off at 10:55 and 3:10 o'clock, respectively. Tomorrow's third and final 18 also will be completely under way by 10:55 o'clock. The public is invited to attend both days free of charge, since the Chicago District Golf association, one of the co-sponsors of the tournament with the United States and Professional Golfers' association, has decided not to charge admissions.

The Medinah field yesterday was reduced by three withdrawals—George M. Smith, Onwentsia professional; John McGuire, Indianapolis amateur, and J. D. White, Memphis, Tenn., pro. Their places will be filled from the amateur alternates who did not qualify in the Chicago trial on May 25.

Hold Finals Today in High School Track Meet

Finals in the junior and senior divisions of the Public School track meet will be held today at 3 p. m. on Stagg field.

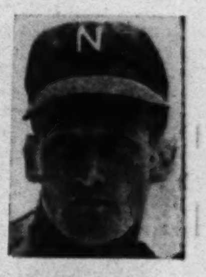
BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 4.—Eddie Smith, the little man who used to be good for a nice ripe tear jerking piece of literature every time he was run starved in a neat job of pitching, this afternoon was squashed by the Yankees for eight runs in the second inning, thus being tabbed for his ninth defeat without the solace of a single 1942 triumph. The Yanks were helpless against Buck Ross after the second inning and the final score was New York, 8; Chicago, 2.



Hank Borowy.

It was the eighth time in eight games played this season that the Yanks have whipped the Sox and, while Smith was severely lacerated by the treatment he got today, he has the distinction of being the last Sox pitcher to gain a decision over the New Yorkers. That was on Aug. 25, 1941, which was a long time ago, but what's a fellow going to do for happy Yank-Sox statistics, things being the way they are? Smitty beat Marius Russo, 9 to 1, that day and if we had our old scorebook handy, derned if we wouldn't write about that game instead of today's.

Three On, Nobody Scores.

Some observers thought it was remarkable yesterday when the Sox failed to score in the first inning after having the bases loaded with only one out. Just to show how they can do such tricks without the aid of mirrors or springs, the Sox played an encore in the first inning today.

Wally Moses opened against Hank Borowy with a single to left and stopped at second on Luke Appling's single to deep short. The pair moved up on Joe Kuhel's tap to Borowy. Then, as yesterday, Taft Wright was given an intentional pass to load the bases. Yesterday Don Kolloway and Bob Kennedy flied to Joe DiMaggio, but today Kolloway shortened the process. He tapped to Borowy, who launched a double play thru the plate.

Ed Starts Wrong in Second.

Smith, possibly still a little punchy as the result of the four homers and 10 other hits the Tigers slammed at his expense in Detroit Saturday, got the second inning under way by walking DiMaggio and Charley Keller. Joe Gordon doubled to left, DiMaggio scoring, whereupon Buddy Rosar was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Phil Rizzuto singled to left, scoring Keller and Gordon. Borowy attempted to sacrifice but forced Rosar, Smith to Kennedy.

Frankie Crosetti flied to Moses and then Buddy Hassett bounced one to Kuhel. Smith was confused about whether to go after the ball or cover first and when he did go to first he dropped the toss from Kuhel. He then picked up the ball and threw it to the boxes in an attempt to head off Rizzuto at the plate. Rizzuto scored, Borowy reached third, and Hassett second on the throwing error. Tommy Henrich doubled to left, scoring Borowy and Hassett, and scored himself on a double by DiMaggio. Keller singled, scoring DiMaggio, and this did convince Manager Jim Dykes that Smith was not effective. Keller is hitting only .236 and later struck out twice on Ross' pitching.

Buck Has His Stuff.

After Keller's single Ross went in and ended the inning by making Gordon foul to Appling. Thereafter Ross yielded only two hits, a single by Gordon with two out in the fifth and a single by Henrich with one out in the seventh. These two gents were the only Yankees who got on base during the six and a third innings Ross worked.

BOLO TIE, 10 TO 1 SHOT, TIES UP THREE FAVORITES

20 to 1 Horse Is Second in Lincoln Fields Feature.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

A 10 to 1 shot showed unexpected speed while favorites were encountering bad breaks of luck, and these circumstances combined to throw a spirited betting contest completely out of line yesterday at Lincoln Fields. The 10 to 1 shot was Bolo Tie, a juvenile gelding owned by Hyman Friedberg of Louisville, and the favorites which failed were Philadelphia, Brown Mate, and Gabe. They met in a field of 10 juveniles which went to the post in a five furlong dash which featured yesterday's program.

Bolo Tie got home three and a half lengths ahead of his nearest pursuer, a 20 to 1 shot named Town Victory. Brown Mate wound up third, a nose further back, while Philadelphia and Gabe were finishing sixth and ninth, respectively.

Wins at Churchill Downs.

Bolo Tie had won during the Churchill Downs meeting and had been third to Gabe in his only previous start at Lincoln Fields. The betting of the fans and the so-called wise money went to Brown Mate and Philadelphia, both of which closed at 5 to 2. Gabe got somewhat lighter support, his odds being 7 to 2. Meanwhile Bolo Tie was being overlooked to such an extent that he paid off at $23.20, $9.80, and $6.

Jockey Frankie Grill sent Bolo Tie out of the gate with a rush that enabled him to draw clear of the pack before they reached the first turn. Meanwhile Philadelphia and Gabe both were being taken back after being pinched off in close quarters.

By the time they went into the curve, both Philadelphia and Gabe had settled down among the trailers and that ended their chances in this short sprint. Meanwhile, Brown Mate was encountering somewhat less serious bad luck, but it was bad enough to force him to race wide all the way.

Bolo Tie Wings Along.

While the public choices were getting into these difficulties, Bolo Tie was winging along in the clear, three lengths ahead of his nearest rival. Town Victory was trailing him, and Brown Mate was running third while Hy-Kerry and Fairlet were making efforts which never developed into serious threats. In the stretch, there never was much question of Bolo Tie's ultimate victory, but Town Victory and Brown Mate put on a brisk duel for second place. The long shot had enough left to withstand the favorite thruout the drive. Town Victory's place and show prices were $18.60 and $8.80.

Report Snyder Offered Contract at Notre Dame

South Bend, Ind., June 4 [Special]. —Bob Snyder, former Chicago Bears quarter back, has been offered a one year contract as assistant football coach at Notre Dame, it was reported today. Snyder assisted Head Coach Frank Leahy in spring practice, when the T formation offense was given to the Irish eleven. Notre Dame officials would not confirm the report, but it is understood Snyder will sign in the fall.

Time, :24, :49 1-5, 1:03 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Nanny, $7.80 straight, $4.40 place, $3.80 show; Hy Trite, $11.00 place, $8.80 show; Treecla, $31.00 show. Winner trained by H. Wells. Went to post at 2:15. At post 2 minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving, place same.

NANNY, a factor from the start and always clear as she raced on the outside thruout, withstood strong pressure gamely the final three-sixteenths and outfinished MY TRITE in the closing strides. Latter, under light urging early but taken in hand on the turn, closed with determination under mild pressure and got to the front but failed to hold NANNY. TREECLA, badly outrun to the stretch, came with high speed thereafter and was strongest of all at the end.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Claiming. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :24, :48 3-5, 1:16 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Millmore, $6.60 straight, $3.40 place, $2.80 show; Arrowtraction, $7.20 place, $4.80 show; Winlette, $13.80 show. Winner trained by B. F. Stutts. Went to post at 2:45½. At post 2 minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving, place same.

MILLMORE, well up from the start and taken in hand while swerving approaching the turn, moved up when steadied but did not rally in the drive yet held on well and outfinished Arrowtraction in the last few strides. Latter raced to lead gradually and, on the outside, bore over after taking command and, weakening after five-eighths, could not withstand the winner. WINLETTE bettered her position gradually in the final quarter but just lasted to beat MINOTIRA.

Time, :23 3-5, :47 4-5, 1:15 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Cherriko, $8.80 straight, $4.80 place, $3.80 show; Roman Descent, $4.80 place, $3.80 show; Chiefs Boy, $4.60 show. Winner trained by P. Groos. Went to post at 3:17. At post 3 minutes. Start good from gate. Won easily, place driving.

CHERRIKO, rushed into a commanding lead before going a quarter and then placed under a snug hold, rallied when shaken up after straightening out in the stretch and held sway to the end but had little left. ROMAN DESCENT met interference soon after the start, was beaten horse on the turn, came out in the stretch and closed resolutely under strong handling. CHIEFS BOY came over on the outside shortly after the break, was quickly straightened out, drifted out as his jockey met interference from ROMAN DESCENT soon after reaching the turn, was taken to the inside entering the stretch and held on well in the drive.

Time, :23 3-5, :48 3-5, 1:02 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Bolo Tie, $23.20 straight, $9.80 place, $6.00 show; Town Victory, $18.60 place, $8.80 show; Brown Mate, $4.00 show. Winner trained by J. Hanover. Went to post at 3:48. At post 1½ minutes. Start good from gate. Won easily, place driving.

BOLO TIE took command with a rush, crossed to the inside before reaching the turn, sustained good speed without need of strong urging and won easily. TOWN VICTORY went with good speed from the start and, holding on gamely, stalled off BROWN MATE. Latter, forced to race wide, was under pressure thruout and held on well.

FIFTH RACE—Mile and a sixteenth. Claiming. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :25, :50 2-5, 1:17, 1:43 2-5, 1:51. Two dollar mutuels paid: Jacotot, $5.80 straight, $3.20 place, $2.60 show; Oust, $4.00 place, $3.40 show; Veiled Ace, $5.80 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 4:18. At post 1 minute. Start good from gate. Won easily, place driving.

JACOTOT, taken to the inside early and allowed to remain well back to the final half mile, started up slowly approaching the stretch, came out in the final quarter, and, quickly wearing down the leaders, drew out thereafter. OUST, far back in the early racing, bettered her position gradually after reaching the final five-eighths and finished gamely. VEILED ACE, outrun to the final three-sixteenths, came with good speed thereafter. BUECHEL weakened steadily in the drive. IRISH BAY also gave way under pressure. WOODSMAN tired after racing prominently to the stretch. FLOWERY PATH showed only a brief flash of mild early speed.

SIXTH RACE—Mile and an eighth. Four year olds and up. Claiming. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25; to groom of winning horse, $10.

Time, :25 4-5, :51, 1:17 2-5, 1:44, 1:58 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Wayriel, $3.40 straight, $2.20 place, $2.20 show; Pari Call, $2.80 place, $2.80 show; Three Sands, $3.60 show. Winner trained by G. E. Lewis. Went to post at 4:48. At post ½ minute. Start good from gate. Won driving, place same.

WAYRIEL, probably much the best and in hand for almost three-quarters, was allowed to move with a rush around the final turn, drifted out in the stretch and swerved toward inside of the course when punished in the last sixteenth but withstood PARI CALL'S bid. Latter, under a strong hold early, started up slowly on the final turn and held on well thruout the stretch. THREE SANDS, away very slowly and badly outrun for seven-eighths, closed strongest of the field.

SEVENTH RACE—Mile and a sixteenth. Four year olds and up. Claiming. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25; to groom of winning horse, $10.

Time, :25, :49 3-5, 1:16 1-5, 1:42 2-5, 1:50 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Miss Baker, $8.00 straight, $4.40 place, $3.40 show; Cantata, $3.80 place, $2.80 show; Hadalad, $3.40 show. Winner trained by D. Porter. Went to post at 5:19. At post 1 minute. Start good from gate. Won driving, place same.

MISS BAKER, away fast and always clear, took command gradually and while still in hand drew out before beginning to tire and won under much pressure. CANTATA, under strong restraint early, moved with a rush when approaching the final eighth and continued well to the end. HADALAD, inclined to bear out and also saved back of the early pace, closed in resolute fashion and was wearing down leaders.

EIGHTH RACE—Mile and a sixteenth. Four year olds and up. Claiming. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25; groom of winner, $10.

Time, :24 3-5, :49 3-5, 1:15 4-5, 1:43, 1:50 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Mr. Smith, $5.60 straight, $3.60 place, $2.40 show; Connie Ann, $4.60 place, $3.40 show; Chin Music, $3.80 show. Winner trained by J. L. Hedde. Went to post at 5:50. At post ½ minute. Start good from gate. Won ridden out, place driving.

MR. SMITH, placed under a light hold after the first quarter, responded when called upon, disposed of CONNIE ANN gradually, then drew out. The latter took command quickly, was well rated and, saving ground after the first eighth, had a little left for the drive but was not good enough. CHIN MUSIC, restrained for about three-quarters, came with determination thereafter and was getting to the leaders.

HEAVY TRACK TO BRING SCRATCHES OF NON-MUDDERS

Suffolk Downs Adopts New Idea.

Boston, Mass., June 4 (AP).—Some thorobreds just can't run in mud and so Suffolk Downs stewards, with applause from the legion of $2 bettors, have given racing a new wrinkle by ordering the automatic scratching of nonmudders whenever the going becomes heavy at the Boston race course.

Already the stewards have a list of approximately 90 nonmudders among the more than 1,000 horses quartered at Suffolk Downs. Whenever overnight conditions cause a change in the track, these horses are scratched automatically in the morning. Should track conditions change during the day, the same automatic scratching rule applies.

As other horses prove their inability to handle a muddy track during the meeting, their owners and trainers are privileged to propose them for membership in the nonmudders' automatic scratching society.

Jockeys Carroll Bierman and Ted Atkinson split the eight race card between them today at Suffolk Downs, each riding four winners for one of the most unusual sweeps in the last decade of American racing.

Atkinson started off by riding both ends of the daily double and later had the winning mounts in the fifth and sixth races for his quadruple. Bierman sandwiched his first two winners between Atkinson's four and then took the last two races of the day.

WPB RELAXES BAN ON HIGHER PRICED SHOTGUNS

Sportsmen who want to buy a new shotgun now will be able to shop for one, but they can't be too particular about the model or gauge, according to recent government regulations governing the sale of sporting firearms to civilians. The War Production board's most recent order reads that any 12 gauge, 16 gauge automatic or 16 gauge pump action shotgun which cost a retailer $45 or less shall be considered a "defense shotgun" and cannot be sold to a civilian.

All other shotguns including the more expensive repeating models, the popular double barreled 20 gauge guns, etc., are not affected by the freezing order and may be sold. Many models of .22 rifles and revolvers continue to be on the list of firearms frozen by War Production board.

FULLERTON

Greenberg Is Rated No. 1 in State Tennis

Seymour Greenberg of Northwestern university last night was given the No. 1 seeded position in the draw for the Illinois state tennis tournament which will open tomorrow on the Fullerton Tennis club's courts. Greenberg ranks 19th nationally.

Gardner Larned, defending champion, was seeded No. 2.

Jimmy Evert, Notre Dame freshman and national junior indoor champion, drew the third seeded spot, followed by Olen Parks, Indiana collegiate champion, also from Notre Dame.

Bob Smidl of William and Mary college was listed as No. 5; and Thane R. Halsted of Wheaton, former holder of the state title, No. 6.

Jake Rated No. 7.

Bobby Jake, Milwaukee youth who starred with Northwestern's Big Ten championship team of 1941, was seeded seventh, followed by Benny Migdow, state prep champion, in eighth position.

The tournament committee announced the doubles draw will be made tomorrow. Play in that division will start on Tuesday.

The best of Chicago's prep players were entered. In addition to Migdow, the list includes Larry Daly, of Evanston; Erwin Schulz, Kelvyn Park, and Jerry Evert of Senn.

Veterans in the field include Hoyt Parmelee, who dates back to doubles partnership with George Lott; Sol Gould, and Henry Balaban of the Fullerton club, and Bill Rosenthal of the Allerton.

Sawyier Can't Play.

The Big Ten is well represented altho Calvin Sawyier of the University of Chicago, present conference champion, was forced to withdraw because of pressure of graduation duties. Other conference stars are: Wayne Stille of Michigan, and Jimmy Gates of Illinois.

Late entries from out of town included Clayton Hulsh, University of Miami, Fla., Phillip Fellman or Hoboken, N. J.; Bob Hall, former Kansas City junior champion and Clyde Rogers of Denver.

The navy sent Yeomen Goden Glasgow and Bob Stein of the 9th naval district, and Andrew Dowd of San Francisco, son of a naval commander, who is en route to Annapolis to further his military education.

For the first time three Everts will be playing in the same tournament. Jimmy, conceded an excellent chance to win may encounter his older brother, Chuck, or 16 year old Jerry, during the meet.

Humphries to Face Boston in Opener Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 4.—The White Sox rushed right to the depot from Yankee stadium to get to Boston to rest for their four-game series with the Red Sox, which starts tomorrow. Johnny Humphries will make another try for his second victory of the year and will be opposed by Yank Terry, whom the Sox have not seen thus far in 1942.

A detachment of columnists swooped down on Yankee stadium this afternoon bent on writing a sob story about Eddie Smith's tough luck if he lost a close one or about the rewards of perseverance, if Eddie had won. But when the little lefty got jolted for eight runs in the second inning the columnists ruefully folded up their patent writers and stole away.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

City League Quarter-Finals.

Lane, 4; Farragut, 0.
Calumet, 9; Crane, 5.
Bowen, 7; Kelvyn Park, 0.

GAMES TODAY.

City League Quarterfinals.

Harrison [central] vs. Schurz [north] at McKinley Park.

Lane Tech, Bowen, and Calumet advanced to the semi-finals of the Public School Baseball league race yesterday by scoring easy victories over their quarter-final opponents. Lane, north section champion, blanked Farragut of the central section, 4 to 0; Bowen of the south section shut out Kelvyn Park of the west section, 7 to 0, and Calumet of the south section whipped Crane of the west, 9 to 5.

Rapacki Fans 16.

George Kwasniewski, a right handed pitcher who won five games in the north section, stopped Farragut with six hits, while his teammates were collecting 10. Ed Rzendzian and Vince Fisher led Lane at bat, the former with two singles and a double and the latter with two doubles.

Ray Rapacki, a Bowen right hander, yielded Kelvyn Park only four hits while fanning 16. He walked two. In the seventh inning he slammed a triple with two on. Rapacki won six and lost two during the sectional race.

Bob Owles pitched Calumet to a victory over Crane, yielding six hits and fanning six.

Schurz Faces Harrison.

The fourth quarter-final game will involve second place Schurz of the north section and Harrison, leader of the central section this afternoon in McKinley park. Harrison lost only one game in its section, a 7 to 4 decision to Farragut, which finished its schedule as runner up in that section. Schurz just managed to enter the playoffs. At the close of its schedule Schurz was tied with Taft and won the playoff, 2 to 1.

Tomorrow morning the four coaches of the teams entering the semi-finals will meet in the office of A. H. Pritzlaff to decide on the playing fields and umpires for the semi-final round. The semi-final round is scheduled next Tuesday and the finalists will meet in Comiskey park on June 13 for the title. Scores:

Kelvyn Park .... 000 000 000—0 4 2

SEA BRIGHT'S TENNIS MEET MAY BE CANCELED

Newark, N. J., June 4 (AP).—The Sea Bright invitation tennis tournament, America's oldest court event, probably will be canceled because of war conditions, Holcombe Ward, president of the Sea Bright Lawn Tennis and Cricket club, said tonight.

At the same time, cancelation of the annual Spring Lake meet, one of the major clay court invitations, was announced by Frederic L. Duggan, a member of the tournament committee. Both were scheduled for next month.

Plans for the Sea Bright tournament were discussed by governors of the club, and "it appears very unlikely that the event will be held this year," Ward said. He added a decision would be reached at a meeting later this month.

Cardinals Win Odd Game of Braves Series

St. Louis, Mo., June 4 (AP).—The Cardinals settled themselves more firmly in second place in the National league today by taking the odd game of a series of three with Boston Braves, 6 to 2.

One play in the second inning, when they scored five runs, turned the tide in favor of the Cardinals. After Walker Cooper had tripled and George Kurowski had doubled to match Boston's first run, Harry Walker hit a line drive at Willard Donovan, the Braves' young southpaw, who made what he thought was a clean catch and threw to second for an attempted double play. Umpire Larry Goetz waved Kurowski out, but Umpire Jocko Conlan ruled Donovan had trapped the ball and all were safe.

Foxx Engages in Drill; Rib Not Fractured

Jimmy Foxx, the Cubs' 34 year old rookie acquired by purchase from the American league Red Sox a few days ago, submitted his supposedly broken rib to an X-ray probe yesterday and the finding was that the reported fracture was grossly exaggerated. However, some cartilage was loosened when he used his chest to stop a batting practice line drive hit by Tony Lupien of the Red Sox and it is this that is causing the present soreness.

Merely out of curiosity, the one-time slugger took a hand in the pregame practice and boosted one drive to the far side of Waveland avenue, the sight of which delighted Manager Jim Wilson no end. Foxx also did a bit of work at first base, but after his workout admitted he had aggravated the pain. So he was unwilling to promise he'll be ready to take over first base as well as the cleanup post in the batting order in anything short of three or four days.

The Brooklyn Dodgers arrived here yesterday so as to assure themselves ample rest for a Wrigley field visit that embraces a double header today, a single affair tomorrow, and another twin tussle Sunday. The Cubs will shoot Verne [Lefty] Olsen and Les Fleming against the champions this afternoon. The latter will employ Whit Wyatt and Ed Head.

GOVERNMENT HAS FINAL SAY-SO ON BOUTS FOR LOUIS

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Secretary Stimson said today that no one outside of the war department is in a position to make any commitments on requests that Joe Louis be permitted to fight for his own profit as world heavyweight champion.

Stimson told a press conference questioner he was not prepared to say whether Louis would be permitted to fight for other purposes than the army's.

HEAVY RAINS MAR MISSISSIPPI RIVER FISHING 2 WEEKS

But Around Wolf River Country Angling's Good.

BY BOB BECKER.

Recent heavy rains in Wisconsin have spoiled the Mississippi river for fishing for at least two weeks, so fishermen need not figure on catching any black bass in Old Man River right away. Lyman Howe, editor of the Prairie du Chien Courier, says the high, dirty water has covered all the sloughs from bank to bank.

The white bass still are hitting on the Wolf river near Weyauwega and Fremont. George Dobbins informs us that night before last 10 fishermen distributed among eight boats checked in with their limits after fishing around sundown. Each had 25 fish [legal limit] or 250 white bass for the eight boats. The bass are hitting best early in the morning and during the evening. Bluegills and crappies also are striking well near Fremont.

Walleyes Are Hitting.

Walleyed pike fishermen from Chicago have hit the jackpots in a number of Wisconsin lakes, according to reports from various parts of the state. One of the finest catches of walleyes that we have heard of this spring was made on High Falls lake, an artificial body of water northwest of Crivitz, Wis. Some years ago we used to fish High Falls regularly with our fly rod bass outfit. Those were the days when both small and large mouths whacked our lures to give us a lot of fun.

The walleyes seem to have taken charge of this artificial lake, judging by the fishing success of P. O. Olstad of Chicago and his partners. Recently this party landed walleyes from High Falls ranging in size from 4 to 7¾ pounds. Olstad states that 36 of the fish averaged between 5 and 6 pounds.

One amusing episode of this clash with big walleyes is reported by Mr. Olstad as follows:

"One morning one of our crew while trolling struck a fish and then lost it. He also lost his June bug spinner. The next morning I had a strike and pulled up a six pound walleye. Much to my surprise I found a June bug spinner in its mouth. This was identified as belonging to my friend, who bragged about the fish that got away."

Muskies Strike "Illegally."

Chicagoans who tried their luck with the walleyes in the Lac du Flambeau-Minocqua district prior to the opening of the Wisconsin muskie season found the latter on their hooks even tho they tried to keep away from them.

Bill Stimpson reports three muskies "illegally" crashing the lures of walleye fishermen in one day. Since the opening of the muskie season Chicago fishermen on Squirrel lake [home of Mose III., the tame muskie] have caught several muskies between 30 and 35 inches in length.

JACK WALLAESA OF A'S RECEIVES DRAFT SUMMONS

Philadelphia, Pa., June 4 (AP).—Jack Wallaesa, 22, the Athletics' star shortstop, has been summoned by his draft board to appear for a physical examination June 13.

"I hope he may be able to finish the season," Connie Mack said, "but I don't know."

The youth, who has an ear defect, was given a 4-F rating after an earlier examination.

Wallaesa, whom Mack has called the shortstop of the American league, was struck on the head by a pitched ball in yesterday's game with Detroit, but an examination today showed he suffered no serious injuries.

LANDIS FORBIDS 'PHONY' RELIEF SERVICE GAMES

Commissioner K. M. Landis yesterday instructed all major and minor league clubs not to allow the use of their players, parks, or facilities by promoters of games "allegedly played for relief, but actually as commercial enterprises."

He advised the clubs that the army and navy have taken the position of allowing no furloughs to players now in the armed forces to participate in games for commercial purposes.

"The activities of promoters of games allegedly played 'for relief' but actually as commercial enterprises mislead the public into the erroneous belief that such games are for the army and navy relief funds and thereby interfere with games actually played for those funds," Landis said.

INDUSTRIALS GAIN SHARPLY TO LEAD STOCK ADVANCES

Motors, Rubbers at New Highs for Year.

Value Up 1½ Billions

New York, June 4 (AP).—The May rise in the stock market added $1,464,518,321 to the value of shares listed on the New York stock exchange, the exchange's monthly compilation disclosed today. Total value of all listed stocks on May 29 was $32,913,725,225, an average of $22.40 each, compared with $31,449,206,904 or an average of $21.41 on April 30. The May upturn followed several months of steady decline.

New York, June 4 (AP).—Persistent aerial blasts at Germany more than offset the Japanese bombing of Dutch Harbor as a market factor today and leading industrial stocks extended Wednesday's last minute runup by fractions to around 3 points.

Motors led the early upswing on good volume. Specialties, mail orders, and farm implements then joined the procession.

There were a number of new year's highs posted during the day. Among these were General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, United States Rubber, Pepsi-Cola, American Can, Montgomery Ward, and Pan American Airways. United Aircraft slipped to a new 1942 low but attracted bids in the concluding quarter hour and finished with a net gain of 1⅛.

Stock Average Higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held an upturn of .4 of a point at 35.4, duplicating yesterday's recovery. Transfers of 524,300 shares compared with 334,020 the day before and were the largest since May 21.

Du Pont moved up 2¼ in the face of a federal grand jury's indictment of this company.

Prominent on the day's bulge were Allied Chemical, up 3¼; Dow Chemical, up 3; Union Carbide, up 2¼, and Philip Morris, up 2. Smaller advances were made by United States Steel, American Telephone, Santa Fe, American Tobacco "B," Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, International Harvester, Johns-Manville, J. C. Penney, and Consolidated Edison.

EDISON AT NEW TOP.

Commonwealth Edison, volume leader, advanced ⅛ to 21⅛, its highest price since Feb. 18, on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Among other active issues sharing in a general market advance were Montgomery Ward, up ⅞ at 31⅛, and General Motors, which advanced ⅝ to 37⅞. Chicago corporation and Peabody Coal were unchanged.

Of 86 issues involved in transactions of 15,000 shares, 53 advanced, 15 declined, and 18 closed unchanged. The only issue to change in the half hour after the close in New York was American Radiator, which advanced ⅛.

Egg Futures Close Higher on Mercantile Exchange

Egg futures advanced .15 cent yesterday, with Octobers closing at 34.3 cents a dozen on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Hedge selling pressed the butter market which closed .05 cent lower with Novembers at 37.9 cents a pound. Wholesale butter and egg prices were unchanged to fractionally higher.

Senate Confirms Purcell for New 5 Year SEC Term

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Ganson Purcell of New York was confirmed by the senate today for another five year term as a member of the Securities and Exchange commission. Purcell's present term expires tomorrow.

PLYMOUTH OIL CUTS QUARTERLY DIVIDEND ON COMMON 10 CENTS

The Plymouth Oil company yesterday announced a quarterly dividend of 20 cents on common stock, compared with payments of 30 cents each in all quarters of 1941 and in the first quarter of this year. The company also paid a 1½ per cent stock dividend in December. Walter S. Hallanan, president, said earnings for the first four months of 1942 were 55 cents per share against 34 cents per share during the corresponding 1941 period, but that the dividend cut was made in view of the growing difficulty in finding adequate transportation facilities for crude oil.

Directors of General Printing Ink corporation deferred action on a common stock dividend until September, attributing the move to uncertainty regarding tax rates. The company paid 15 cents April 1. Payments in 1941 totaled 65 cents.

General American Transportation corporation declared a dividend of $1 on common stock, its 60th consecutive interim payment. The firm paid $1.50 each in July and September, 1941.

GRAINS ADVANCE, WITH WHEAT UP AROUND 2 CENTS

Shipping Demand for Corn Continues Fair.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Grains rallied yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, with wheat futures advancing 1⅝ to 2¼ cents, July closing at $1.18¼ a bushel. Wheat advanced more than 3 cents a bushel from the 1942 lows established Tuesday as buying orders brought out only small offerings. Some light mill support appeared early in the session.

Corn closed 1⅝ to 1⅞ cents higher. Oats advanced ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel, rye 1⅛ to 1½ cents, and soy beans ¼ to ½ cent a bushel.

Better Feeling Created.

Reassurance by government officials that any war materials purchased abroad and brought into the United States duty free would not be permitted to affect domestic markets created a better feeling in the wheat pit. Because of the wide discount between present cash market prices and the wheat loan rate, traders do not look for much hedging pressure on the market when the new crop movement increases.

Shipping demand for corn continued fair, with sales of slightly more than 130,000 bushels reported. Hedge buying as a result of these and other sales in the last two days were believed by pit traders to have accounted for some of the better feeling in the corn market.

Compete for Supplies.

Grain men inquiring for corn from the country were informed that many Illinois and Iowa feeding section corn stocks had been exhausted and farmers in those areas now are competing with the terminal markets for supplies. Country elevators are unwilling to do business at present prices, dealers say, altho bookings of around 33,000 bushels were reported.

Hedge buying also accounted for some of the firmness in oats, where shipping amounted to 30,000 bushels. Dealers reported booking 5,000 bushels of new crop oats for Chicago shipment.

Rye futures dipped more than a cent a bushel early and when shorts attempted to cover they encountered a market almost bare of offerings. The market advanced rapidly, rising 2 cents or more from the day's lows.

CASH GRAIN

Estimated receipts of grain at Chicago included 6 cars of wheat, 144 cars of corn, 13 cars of oats, 11 cars of barley, and 8 cars of soy beans. Cash grain prices paid on the major markets follow:

ORDER DISPOSAL OF ONE MIDDLE WEST AFFILIATE

SEC Directs Switch to Single Stock.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 4 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission today directed the termination of either the Central and Southwest Utilities company or the American Public Service company as holding companies within the Middle West corporation system and ordered either of the two companies to switch to a single class of common stock.

[Northern States Power of Delaware files dissolution plan. Story on page 32.]

Holding that the continued existence of both subsidiaries unduly complicates the system's corporate structure, the SEC turned down the plan proposed by the companies for a statutory consolidation of Central and American and the formation of a new company which would issue single classes of new preferred and common stocks in exchange for outstanding shares.

The commission denied a motion by the utilities that proceedings under the holding company act be suspended for the duration of the war.

Fear Effect on Income.

The companies argued that the prospect of higher income, excess profits and other taxes would have a depressing effect on their net income and that the rising cost of labor, material, and supplies would make it impracticable to arrive at a valuation of their investments.

The companies were given a year to comply with the SEC order.

"The companies' expectation of a probable decline of future earnings, and consequently of value, make it even more evident that we cannot approve the proposal to issue preferred stock and that any reorganization of Central and American must be on a basis of a single capitalization consisting only of common stock," the SEC said.

"Moreover, the appropriate time to consider the effect of present conditions upon allocations among security holders is when the question of compliance with our order arises."

Before SEC for Years.

Proceedings in the Middle West case have been before the commission for several years. Central's subsidiaries are Central Power and Light company in Texas, Southwestern Gas and Electric company, and the Public Service Company of Oklahoma, which operates the Southwestern Light and Power company. American has one operating subsidiary, the West Texas Utilities company.

The SEC said the "financial condition of Central has improved within the last few years," but added recapitalization was needed to meet standards under the corporate simplification clause of the holding company act.

The SEC found the system's capital structure "unduly complicated in view of the four classes of stock outstanding, the large dividend arrearages, and large dividend requirements in comparison to the present and prospective earnings."

"The corporate structures of Central and American unfairly and inequitably distribute voting power among security holders of the holding company system," the commission said. It criticized the companies' plan because it "would give the Middle West corporation voting power and voting control out of proportion to its stake in the system."

APPEALS BOARD IS CREATED FOR TRUCK BUYERS

An appeal board to pass on rejected applications for permission to purchase new motor trucks has been established in room 826, United States courthouse, to serve Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan, the Office of Defense Transportation announced yesterday in Washington.

Regular members are Fred L. Faulkner, motor transport manager of Armour & Co., chairman; P. C. Johnson, regional manager of Central Greyhound lines, and Ellsworth F. J. Reilly, Chicago office manager for the Office of Civilian Defense.

Senate O. K.'s Bill to Put Small Firms on War Jobs

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—The senate today completed congressional action on a bill giving War Production Chief Donald Nelson authority to approve war production programs without regard to the anti-trust and federal trade commission laws. The anti-trust exemption power was part of a composite measure setting up a 150 million dollar Smaller War Plants corporation within the WPB to mobilize thru loans the productive facilities of small business for war purposes.

Pick Hotels Buys 3 Units in Ohio and Michigan

The Pick Hotels corporation, Chicago, has purchased three hotels in Ohio and Michigan, representing an original investment of about 6 million dollars, for $2,500,000, Albert Pick Jr., president, announced yesterday. They are the Miami hotel, Dayton, O., the Pick-Ohio, Youngstown, and the Durant hotel, Flint, Mich.

Vega Slashes Time 6 Months in Making B-17

Burbank, Cal., June 4 (AP).—Boeing flying fortresses, those four motored, wide ranging bombers which have proved their deadly efficiency on many a fighting front, are rolling off the Vega Aircraft corporation's assembly line six months ahead of schedule.

President Courtlandt S. Gross disclosed today that the young Vega organization, where initial tooling was started less than a year ago, is the first plant to start deliveries under a pooled facilities plan, designed to speed production of the giant bombers for the United States army air forces.

Gross announced a full production schedule for the B-17—official designation of the fortress—without slowing the output of Vega Ventura twin-engine bombers for the British.

Far Ahead of Schedule.

"In fact, the men are well ahead of schedule on the Ventura bombers," he declared.

Under the production pooling plan, Vega and Douglas, as well as Boeing, are manufacturing the B-17. One hundred Vega engineers spent several weeks at the Boeing plant last fall, obtaining engineering data on the craft.

"Now," said Gross, "the fortresses are being manufactured completely by Vega and its parts subcontracted, with the exception of such purchased parts as engines, instruments, propellers and tires."

Lauded by General.

Gross made public a telegram from Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commander of the United States army air forces:

"Congratulations on your splendid record of being six months ahead of schedule. This accomplishment is the result of your untiring efforts in following thru on an outstanding case of long range planning. Upon you depends how soon victory will be ours."

Production of both the B-17 and the Vega Ventura is on a 24 hour day, 6 day week schedule. The Vega factory, newest of Southern California's major aircraft plants, occupied its present quarters little more than a year ago.

RESERVE AREA'S SALES REDUCED BY 23 PER CENT

Department store sales in the 7th federal reserve district dropped sharply last week, partially because Memorial day came on Saturday, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Dollar volume of buying was 23 per cent smaller than in the preceding week and 17 per cent smaller than a year ago, when Memorial day was on Friday.

Chicago stores' volume was 27 per cent smaller than a year ago. For the four weeks ended May 29, compared with the corresponding 1941 period, district sales were 3 per cent smaller and Chicago sales 6 per cent smaller.

The federal reserve board estimated that for the nation as a whole, compared with the corresponding periods last year, sales for the week declined 11 per cent and for the four weeks were unchanged.

CHICAGO TO HAVE 36 TRADE SHOWS IN NEXT 8 WEEKS

Thirty-six trade shows and merchandise exhibits designed to meet retailers' requirements will be held in Chicago in the next eight weeks, Lawrence H. Whiting, vice president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, reported yesterday. He said the organized market events held regularly in Chicago "are proving effective aids to business and the war effort in these days of tire, gasoline, and rail conservation."

Such markets, he said, save time for buyers and store owners faced with wartime problems.

Officials of the Merchandise Mart reported the apparel market there this week is active, with buyers ordering on the basis that adjustments will be made after uncertainties over inventory controls and seasonal price rulings have been clarified.

PERFECT PROCESSES FOR DEHYDRATION OF MEAT SENT ABROAD

Processes that will permit the dehydration of meat and thus reduce the space required for shipment to armed forces and lend-lease recipients abroad wer eannounced yesterday by the American Meat institute. Both army and lend-lease buyers are expected to be in the market soon for dehydrated beef and pork.

Dehydrated meats are approximately 55 per cent pure protein and when reconstituted by the addition of water, may be used in almost any recipe calling for ground meat, the institute said.

The dehydration processes were developed in the research laboratories of packing companies, the institute and the department of agriculture. They involve grinding, precooking, and drying in air dryers or vacuum.

Salinger Calls on Bankers to Aid War Drive

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., June 4 (AP).—Harry Salinger, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago and president of the United States Bankers' Association for Foreign Trade, told members of the association today that daily business activities must not take precedence over those directed toward helping "our respective governments in every way possible to prosecute this war successfully."

"Bankers must not hold back, otherwise they will become a drag and deterrent in a most vital issue," he said at the association's first meeting in Canada.

Hardship in Trade Loss.

Those engaged in international trade and its financing have suffered much thru the loss of business, he said, and are further harassed by the difficulties of carrying out such business as is possible.

Salinger said postwar needs would be successfully met if bankers were ready to transfer their war zeal and ability in the direction of developing methods and procedure to make possible the movements of goods and monies.

"Because much time will be required for the conversion from a war to a civilian economy," he said, "we should avoid insofar as possible, the liquidation of organizational ability and capital resources, for they will be in great demand in the postwar period."

Tells Fiscal Policy.

Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, told the group that Canada had decided upon a policy of "pay as you go" in conducting the war with consequent high taxes and internal borrowings, and foreign exchange control regulations. He said it had been necessary to make sure "that no lack of Canadian dollars kept the United Kingdom from buying all the things needed from Canada."

This was done, he said, by partial payments in gold early in the war, then by the Canadian government and the Canadian National railways prepaying bonded debt held in the United Kingdom, and then by an interest free loan of 700 million dollars to the United Kingdom.

HOLDS U. S. FARM RULE UNLIKELY TO END WITH WAR

Government control of agricultural markets is not likely to end with the war, Dr. L. J. Norton of the University of Illinois department of agricultural economics said last night. He spoke at the graduation exercises and dinner of the Grain Exchange institute given by the Chicago Board of Trade and the Association of Grain Commission Merchants in the Board of Trade building.

"Since World War I. the trend has been toward intervention by governments in economic affairs," Dr. Norton said. "Grain handlers will need hedging markets after this war, but pressure from producers will cause some price supporting measures to be continued. The fixing of ceilings in wartime markets makes this inevitable."

The graduating class of 40 members is the fourth to attend the institute. Honor graduates were awarded war bonds.

The Board of Directors of the A. C. LAWRENCE LEATHER COMPANY, Peabody, Mass., on Thursday afternoon, June 4, declared a dividend of 50c per share, payable July 1, 1942, to shareholders of record at the close of business June 15, 1942.

BINNS QUITS $30,000 STEVENS HOTEL POST FOR ARMY AIR FORCE

Joseph P. Binns was granted a leave of absence to enter the army yesterday by directors of the Stevens hotel, where he has been vice president and general manager since 1939. He is 36 years old and leaves a $30,000 position to accept a lieutenant's commission in the air force technical command.

Joseph P. Binns.

When Binns took over the managership of the Stevens three years ago, the hotel, the world's largest, was having a hard time making ends meet. He improved the service, increased efficiency and put the hotel on a paying basis.

Binns had little comment on his army job. "I was told the air force command could use my training and so I'm going," he said.

Binns obtained his basic business training at the University of Pennsylvania. He was graduated from the School of Hotel Administration at Cornell university with the degree of bachelor of science in economics, in 1928, and since has been constantly in charge of hotel properties.

Jay A. Jones, who came to the Stevens from the Edgewater Beach hotel, in 1938, moves up from resident manager to Binns' position, which he will hold in an acting capacity until Binns returns.

WAR MAY CAUSE OFFICES TO LEND THEIR MACHINES

George H. Miller Jr. of the inspection division of the regional OPA staff, warned Chicago office managers yesterday that they probably would have to share their office machines before the war is over. He proposed that they set up a central bureau for the allotment of typewriters, calculating machines, mimeographs, adding machines, staples, etc., so that there will be no idle equipment.

He warned office managers to start training girls now to take over work done by men. He spoke at a luncheon of the Office Management association in the Morrison hotel.

Forced Saving Plan Rejected by Morgenthau

Washington, D. C., June 4 (AP).—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau said today that none of the compulsory savings plans that have been suggested by or to congress would sell as many war bonds as the 12 billion dollar a year he believes he can sell by a voluntary campaign.

He told a press conference that "any suggestion made or considered by congress doesn't begin to equal the amount we can get thru the voluntary method."

Reason for His Stand.

He explained that his opinion was based on the belief that the enactment of any compulsory savings scheme would wipe out virtually all voluntary purchases, contrary to the belief of some people who think that both the compulsory and voluntary methods can be used at the same time.

Asked about his idea of the maximum burden that can be placed on persons of low or modest income, Morgenthau said:

"I think that the 8 billion 700 million dollar treasury tax program, with collection of income taxes at the source beginning Jan. 1, is all that we can expect these people to contribute at this time, in consideration of increased social security taxes, which we have also recommended, and war bond sales."

Tells Borrowing Program.

He declined to express by any percentage the amount of a person's income that should be taxed or borrowed by these methods.

The secretary announced that beginning June 10 the treasury would borrow 300 million dollars a week thru increased sales of short term treasury bills, with 150 millions a week going to mature outstanding bills of that type.

He said he did not know how many weeks the new program would last.

Bank Clearings Curtailed by 6.2 Per Cent During Wk.

New York, June 4 (AP).—Bank clearings in the week ended June 3 dropped 6.2 per cent under the preceding week and 6.8 per cent below last year, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. The week's total for 23 principal cities was $6,292,172,000, against $6,748,927,000 last year. Chicago volume was up 3.6 per cent at $371,500,000.

FEDERAL ACTION THREATENED TO AID SCRAP DRIVE

Dealers Warned to Stop Price Cuts.

Washington, D. C., June 4 [Special].—Veiled warnings that failure to coöperate in the drive for steel scrap might result in further government action were issued by the War Production board today on the heels of yesterday's disclosure by William L. Batt, requirements chief, that a dangerous steel shortage was threatened.

Scrap dealers were advised to stop cutting prices—the reported result of large amounts of material piling up in their yards—and automotive plants were advised to make a "realistic effort" to carry out a plan for scrapping obsolete machinery, materials, and buildings.

Charles H. McArthur, chief of the WPB industrial salvage section, said the agreement had been approved in a form which permits salvage authorities in each plant to decide what materials to scrap.

Asks "Realistic Effort."

"The government takes it for granted," McArthur said, "that each plant will make a realistic attempt to weigh the relative importance of its dies, tools, and other equipment in terms of potential value to the nation as scrap, against their value as existing tools. In our opinion this method will add thousands of tons of scrap steel to the production of war materials."

Officials of the WPB conservation bureau announced that the threatened bottleneck in scrap metal dealers' yards may force the government to request steel mills to buy scrap metal directly.

Lessing J. Rosenwald, chairman of the bureau, said that the increased volume of scrap offered dealers in some areas had prompted them to lower prices "to the prejudice of owners and collectors who should not be asked to take a loss in return for their coöperation with the salvage program."

May Buy Any Amounts.

That the announcement was designed as a threat was indicated in Rosenwald's subsequent statement that "the steel mills that buy direct will be prepared to purchase scrap in any amount at ceiling prices, less the cost of freight and handling."

Direct buying, he said, would make it possible for mills to build larger reserves, thus eliminating shut-downs that may be caused by bottlenecks or price cutting in particular areas.

The WPB also announced that it would soon begin a survey of the operations of 800 steel warehouses, and would initiate punitive action if priorities are found to have been violated. WPB said that 200 investigators would be used.

Batt told a press conference yesterday that particularly in the field of metals, "our civilian economy is fast going on a minimum subsistence standard."

Calumet & Hecla Copper Buys Wolverine Tube Co.

New York, June 4 (AP).—Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper company has purchased the assets and liabilities of the Wolverine Tube company of Detroit for a reported $2,690,361.

3,000 Grocers to Open Annual Parley Sunday

Three thousand grocers are expected in Chicago Sunday from all parts of the country for the annual four day convention of the National Association of Retail Grocers in the Palmer House.

H. H. Sack.

The general maximum price regulation and its effect on retail grocers are among problems to be discussed. Leon Henderson, price administrator, is scheduled to speak on this subject at Wednesday's session.

Officers and directors of the association will attend a luncheon today with army officers and directors of the Cook County Food Dealers' association. The meal will be the army's ration K, or field emergency food, developed in the Chicago subsistence research laboratory of the quartermaster depot.

Officials Will Attend.

Those attending will include H. H. Sack, Oakland, Cal., association president; Col. R. A. Isker, in charge of the subsistence laboratory; Erwin E. Seeck of Oak Park, president of the county food dealers group, and Ralph Keller, president of the Chicago Association of Manufacturers Representatives. The latter organization and the Chicago quartermaster depot arranged the event.

Mrs. Rose Marie Kiefer, secretary-manager of the association, said yesterday the convention will discuss mainly wartime operations in the grocery industry and the grocer's service to the "home front army."

Other Government Speakers.

Government speakers on the program in addition to Henderson are Sen. James E. Murray [D., Mont.], chairman of the senate committee studying small business problems; A. C. Hoffman, price executive of the OPA food and food products section; Hector Lazo, chief of the trade relations branch of the OPA; E. M. Brady, chief of the local delivery section of the Office of Defense Transportation; Dr. M. L. Wilson, assistant director in charge of nutrition for the Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services, and William R. Watkins, special assistant to the attorney general.

SMITH RENAMED CHICAGO STOCK EXCHANGE HEAD

Governors of the Chicago Stock exchange reëlected Kenneth L. Smith president at the board's annual meeting yesterday, and Arthur M. Betts, chairman, announced committee appointments.

Committee chairmen are: Executive, Emmet G. Barker; admissions, T. Clifford Rodman; finance, James A. Cathcart; floor procedure, Hugh H. Wilson; judiciary, Reuben Thorson, and new business and public relations, Roy E. Bard. Sheldon Clark, Charles Y. Freeman, Edward B. Hall, and Bentley G. McCloud were renamed nonmember advisors.

Other officers renamed are Sidney L. Parry and C. Russell Bergherm, vice presidents; Walter R. Hawes, secretary, and Carl E. Ogren, assistant secretary. William F. Black was named treasurer, replacing Martin E. Nelson, who became treasurer emeritus after 39 years with the exchange.

INDICT DU PONT AND OTHERS AS POWDER TRUST

Charge Price Fixing, Sales Monopoly.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 4 (AP).—Six companies manufacturing explosives and 10 officials of the companies were indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of conspiring to maintain prices "at high, arbitrary and artificial levels" in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Named were E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., the Hercules Powder company and the Atlas Powder company, all of Wilmington, Del.; Austin Powder company of Cleveland; Illinois Powder Manufacturing company, St. Louis, and the King Powder company, Cincinnati.

The defendants controled 75 per cent of the commercial explosives and blasting supplies produced in the United States, the indictment said.

Hercules Denies Charges.

A spokesman for the Hercules company said "We are not guilty of violating the anti-trust act." He recalled that a grand jury in Richmond, Va., threw out indictments against the company May 19, and said that "if the new charges are the same, they cannot be sustained." The other companies made no statements immediately.

Individuals indicted were S. G. Baker, director of sales of the explosive division of du Pont and his assistant, H. W. Hobson; C. C. Gerow, director of sales for Hercules and his assistant, H. M. Lynch; E. Frost, director of Atlas sales and his assistant, W. E. Hazletine; Norman T. Alexander, vice president of Austin; M. J. Moses, sales director of Illinois Powder; Eugene King, president, and F. T. Morse, sales manager of the King company.

Allege Collusive Sales.

The bill said the "conspiracy" dated to 1938; that sales at collusive prices were made to consumers and jobbers generally, and to federal, state, county, and municipal governments.

Allen A. Dobey, special assistant to Attorney General Francis Biddle, said counsel for the companies would be requested to arrange bail so a date for trial can be fixed by Federal Judge Guy K. Bard.

Maximum penalty on the charge is one year imprisonment and $5,000 fine for individuals. The corporations would be subject to fines only.

Hold National Live Stock Exchange Meeting Today

Federal meat ceilings and wartime live stock transportation problems will be discussed today at the convention of the National Live Stock exchange in the Palmer House. Charles R. Rice, president of the National and Chicago Live Stock exchanges, will speak this afternoon. Grover B. Hill, assistant secretary of agriculture, will address the annual banquet tonight.

UTILITY COMPANY FILES A PLAN FOR ITS DISSOLUTION

Northern States Power of Delaware Acts.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 4 (AP).—The Northern States Power company, a Delaware corporation, submitted to the Securities and Exchange commission today a plan for liquidation that would cut it off from 16 operating companies in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Its 60,000 stockholders would become shareholders in a subsidiary, the Northern States Power Company of Minnesota, thus holding an interest in a direct operating utility rather than a holding company. The Delaware company is capitalized at 86 million dollars and the Minnesota company at 117½ millions. Both are units of the vast Standard Power and Light corporation system.

Company officials said that operation of the plan would result in the elimination of approximately $337,000 annually in expenses now paid to the Delaware company.

Owns All Common Stock.

The Delaware company owns the 4 million outstanding common shares of the Minnesota company. The Delaware company would surrender 481,111 of the shares to the Minnesota company which, upon authorization from the SEC and its stockholders, would reclassify the remaining shares into 8,354,278 shares of $10 par value.

The reclassified Minnesota stock would be distributed to Delaware stockholders as follows: 10 shares for each share of Delaware 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock; 9.1 shares for each share of Delaware 6 per cent cumulative preferred; 1.95 shares for each share of Delaware class A common stock, and .1625 share for each share of Delaware class B common.

Division of Shares Given.

The Minnesota stock would be divided 90.50 per cent to preferred Delaware holders, 8.07 per cent to class A common holders, and 1.43 per cent to class B common holders. Script certificates would be issued for fractional common shares.

"The existence of the Delaware company with its holding company system constituted as at present is not permissable under the expressed provisions of the act," company officials said. Continued existence unduly and unnecessarily complicates the structure of the system and thus is "in contravention of the spirit of the act," they added.

Begins Another Action.

The SEC instituted proceedings today against the Southern Union Gas company to determine what action is necessary under the "death sentence" clauses of the holding company act. A hearing was called for June 22 to include a reorganization plan proposed by the company.

The SEC said records of its public utilities division "tend to show the company is not confined in its operations to a single integrated public utility system," as required by the holding company law.

LOADINGS 41,992 CARS LESS THAN IN PRECEDING WEEK

The Association of American Railroads reported yesterday that 795,756 cars of revenue freight were loaded during the week ended May 30.

This was a decrease of 41,992 cars, or 5 per cent, compared with the preceding week; a decrease of 6,027 cars, or 0.8 per cent, compared with a year ago, and an increase of 156,636 cars, or 24.5 per cent, compared with 1940.

All classifications showed declines, particularly miscellaneous freight, with total loadings losing less than the usual seasonal amount in the week which included the holiday.

Ask Special U. S. Bonds for Institutional Needs

Creation of a special type of government bond issue to ease the financial problems of educational and benevolent institutions was urged yesterday by H. H. Jackson, president of the American Institute of Actuaries, at the institute's annual meeting in the Edgewater Beach hotel. He proposed that the government adapt certain bond issues to the needs of institution trustees by providing that the yield would be higher than for ordinary issues if the buyer did not transfer or relinquish the bonds.

RESERVE BANKS LIFT HOLDINGS OF FEDERAL ISSUES BY 43 MILLION

The 12 federal reserve banks increased their holdings of government securities by $43,422,000 in the week ended Wednesday, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. An increase of more than 37 million dollars in holdings of treasury bills accounted for most of the gain.

Excess reserves of member banks of the system rose 240 million dollars during the week to 2 billion 780 million dollars. Details of the board's report follow:

DECLINE IN HOGS HALTED BY BOOST IN BUYER DEMAND

The sharp downward swing of the hog market was halted yesterday when buying demand increased and pressure from supplies lightened a little. Most orders were filled on a steady to strong basis compared with the average of Wednesday, altho some prices advanced 5 to 10 cents.

The recovery was not sufficient to affect the day's average, at $14.10 a hundred pounds, the same as on Wednesday. Top sales also were steady at $14.35.

Wholesale markets for fresh pork sold for domestic consumption were about unchanged, mostly at the highest prices permitted under government ceilings.

Farmers shipped 62,000 hogs to the 11 leading markets, 6,000 fewer than a week ago.

WARD SALES DIP, SHOWING PINCH OF WAR ECONOMY

May Volume Is 16.1 Pct. Below Last Year.

The increasing pinch of wartime economy in the retail field was illustrated yesterday in the May sales report of Montgomery Ward & Co., showing dollar volume of the big Chicago mail order and retail store organization 16.1 per cent below last year.

May sales totaled $50,761,616, compared with $60,519,761 last year, but increases shown in preceding months lifted dollar volume for the first four months of the company's fiscal year to $202,191,243, or 2.7 per cent ahead of the $196,913,097 in the four months ended May 31, 1941.

In April Ward's dollar volume had declined 0.80 per cent from last year, the first decline in the year-to-year comparison since October, 1938.

Unit Losses Larger.

Losses in unit volume, however, have been considerably larger because of increases in the price level during the year.

Officials of the company said the dominant factor in the decline was the increasing shortage of merchandise, especially in the heavy lines. In many lines in which the company formerly did a substantial volume of business, inventories are exhausted or nearly so, sales are restricted by priority requirements, or the items are being rationed. Among the items are plumbing equipment, washing machines, refrigerators, radios, bicycles, guns, tires, cooking stoves, and garden hose.

List Additional Factors.

Among other factors, officials said, are time payment restrictions which became effective May 6, a letdown in anticipatory buying with the advent of price ceilings, and gasoline rationing in the east which curtailed purchases in the motor car field. Part of the company's annual Ward week sale fell in May, 1941, which was not the case this year, they added.

Other retail organizations reporting their sales, including several variety chains, announced varying percentages of improvement.

Wholesale sales last month of Butler Brothers, Chicago distributor of general merchandise and dry goods, totaled $7,601,228, a gain of 15.14 per cent over May, 1941.

VANADIUM.

I have been told Vanadium Corporation of America sales have risen sharply because of the company's relation to the war program. Any information in this regard will be appreciated.—L. S.

Answer: Vanadium Corporation of America controls the world's largest and richest vanadium deposits known as the Minas Ragras property in Peru. Ore obtained there is shipped to Bridgeville, Pa., where the element vanadium, usually found in combination with other materials, is isolated and converted into ferro-vanadium. The company supplies three-fourths of domestic requirements of this product used mainly by the steel industry in producing special alloy steels. The company produces other ferro alloys which are also used by the chemical and paint industries.

A record of recent financial operations follows:

	Sales.	Net income.	Dividends.
1941	$14,655,349	$1,231,752	$1.50
1940	10,800,901	1,072,885	1.50
1939	8,762,136	1,224,450	1.00
1938	3,966,664	231,315	......
1937	6,417,651	836,658	1.00

The company was organized in Delaware in 1919 and has a capitalization of 405,706 shares no par capital stock outstanding and 2 million dollars in 2¾ per cent debentures. The stock ranged in price from 1937 thru 1941 from 9¼ to 43⅞.

"YIELD."

How is the yield on a particular stock figured?—G. D.

Answer: The yield on a stock is determined by dividing the amount paid per share in dividends by the cost per share.

TAX PROVISIONS.

I read recently that United Gas Improvement 1942 first quarter operating revenues were larger than last year but that net income was smaller. Why?—D. S.

Answer: Operating revenues of United Gas Improvement in the first quarter this year totaled $27,465,578, compared with $26,159,060 in the same 1941 period. Provisions for 1942 federal income and surtax was made at an aggregate rate of 40 per cent, compared with 31 per cent last year. Provisions for excess profits tax this year were made at rates ranging from 50 to 75 per cent, compared with 35 to 60 per cent under the law effective for 1941. The 1942 provisions for taxes are estimates. Actual federal tax rates will not be known until enacted into law.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS

O. G. Zemann, district sales manager for Philip Morris & Co., has been placed in charge of sales for the Iowa-Nebraska territory. He will continue to supervise sales in the midwestern district.

LEGAL NOTICES.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WISCONSIN.

In the Matter of the Reorganization of R. Connor Company, Debtor. } In Proceedings for Reorganization Under Section 77-B No. 101-C

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that R. Connor Company, the debtor herein, has filed with the clerk of this court its verified petition praying that the plan of reorganization heretofore approved by said court by an order filed herein on the 9th day of May, 1935, and that the trust indenture securing the first mortgage bonds of the debtor between the debtor as mortgagor and The Michigan Trust Company and John W. McCurdy, as trustees, dated July 1, both as amended by an order filed herein on the 3rd day of August, 1937, be amended in accordance with the prayer of said petition; and that an order be entered determining that such proposed amendments to said plan of reorganization and to said trust indenture are fair and feasible, comply in all respects with the provisions of law applicable thereto, and providing for the submission of said proposed amendments to the bondholders of the debtor, to the holders of the notes of the debtor, and to the stockholders of the debtor for approval and acceptance thereof by them; and for such other, further or different relief in the premises as may be just and equitable.

NOTICE is hereby further given that the matters set forth in said petition so on file with the clerk of said court, and the prayer of said petitioner for relief will come on for hearing before said court at the Federal Building in the city of Wausau and state of Wisconsin, at ten o'clock A. M. on the 24th day of June, 1942, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard.

Dated June 3rd, 1942.

To Patrons of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company:

The Illinois Bell Telephone Company hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission revisions in its Special Contract Service Tariff, which will limit the charge for an intraexchange private line teletypewriter or Morse channel to that for a private line telephone channel between the same locations.

A copy of the proposed filing may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of this Company in Illinois.

All parties interested in this proceeding may obtain information upon this matter by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield, Illinois.

This is a new map of the north Pacific ocean, showing, among other features, the location of the American naval base at Dutch Harbor, Unalaska, in the strategic Aleutian Islands, which was attacked by a Japanese air raiding force Wednesday morning. Distances from points in Japan to the Aleutians are shown on the map, as well as distances between other vital points and the locations of enemy naval and air bases. How the control of the north Pacific is divided between Japan and the United States and its allies also is indicated.

For preserving Tribune color maps, etc., leatherette bound, loose-leaf scrapbooks in full page size now are available; $2.50 each at Tribune Public Service offices, or $3.15 each by insured delivery.
